WARSAW TOTTERS AS RUSSIANS FLEE

JURY FOREMAN SIFTS EVIDENCE AS TO BALLAST

Dr. W. A. Evans Tells of Lack of Precaution Against Listing.

TANKS BADLY WORKED.

EASTLAND NEWS; DAY'S DEVELOPMENTS

Secretary Redfield will be summoned before the federal grand jury to tell of his inquiry and its conduct.

Judge Landis' order keeps Inspector Nicholas from boarding the Eastland to obtain information for Redfield.

Secretary Redfield announces he will continue his inquiry today. Says he sees nothing in Landis' order limiting witnesses to grand jury appearance only to stop his investigation.

Chicago Federation of Labor sends to President Wilson demand that Redfield be supplanted and a commission independent of the steamboat inspection service be formed to investigate the disaster and the responsibility of inspectors.

Report of finding of fifty bodies in hold of the Eastland causes new excitement. Divers bring up only three bodies, but discover several more entangled in wire netting.

Dr. W. A. Evans reviews for "The Tribune" evidence presented before the coroner's jury, of which he was foreman.

BY WILLIAM A. EVANS, M. D.
[Foreman of the "Eastland" Coroner's Jury.]

It was the opinion of the coroner's jury that a part of the blame for the overturning of the Eastland lay with its construction and part with its maintenance and management.

They thought probably in spite of its construction it would not have turned over had it been properly maintained and managed and in spite of bad management and bad maintenance it would not have turned over had it been properly constructed. They were of the opinion that constructed as was the Eastland the factor of safety was so low that skillful management was required and that badly managed as it was the factor of safety was so low that a very stable construction was required.

The testimony showed that the fault was divisible among these several groups and the jury was of the opinion that the parties responsible for each set of defects should be held to account.

Summarizes Previous Gossip.

From outside sources we had, or individual members had been told, many stories as to the Eastland's ballast—the boat was very light in the hold; it had no fixed ballast; it had carried iron in its hold but recently the iron had been removed. It had water ballast, but its ballast tanks were always emptied when it got squared away, as it ran faster without ballast and its propellers would hold the boat steady without ballast. In certain storms, barrels of something, probably water, had been rolled from side to side by the crew to straighten it up when it listed. This was not testimony. The testimony showed that before the crowd came aboard on Saturday morning every ballast tank was pumped dry. The level of the deck on which the passengers landed was a little below the level of the dock. When the passengers commenced to come aboard the boat listed a little toward the starboard. (From this point on the starboard will be termed the shore side.) Enough water to straighten it up was pumped into its port side, or river side, tanks.

Flow Determined by Gravity.

When it straightened up and began to list toward the river these tanks were emptied. In addition, its after bilge pump was set to work emptying out the bilge water.

When its leaning toward the river side became noticeable the sea cock was opened and the valves were turned so that the water flowed by gravity into tanks 1 and 3 on the land or starboard side of the boat.

There were ten tanks in the hull of the boat near its bottom—five on each side. These were numbered from 1 to 5 on each side beginning at the bow. The water to fill these tanks all came in through one in-

Roosevelt Stops to Visit Rajah and Lion Friends

DE VRY TELLS STORY

Col. Theodore Roosevelt stopped off in Chicago between trains yesterday to scratch the back of Rajah, the biggest tiger in Lincoln park zoo, and to have a good time generally in Cy De Vry's menagerie.

Mrs. Roosevelt, who had been reported ill in dispatches, accompanied her husband to the zoo and was sufficiently recovered from her indisposition to enable her to accompany La Verne W. Noyes to services at the Fourth Presbyterian church after the colonel, with a last, long lingering look at the lions, departed for the loop to make final preparations for going eastward over the Lake Shore at 12:40.

Sees Progressive Leader.

If Col. Roosevelt is flirting with the idea of returning to the Republican fold, he did not disclose it to Harold Ickes, with whom he held a conference at the Union League club.

"Mr. Roosevelt has never been anything but a Progressive since 1912," Mr. Ickes said last night.

"Did the colonel say anything definite on his political affiliations?"

"Well, naturally I didn't ask him."

During the afternoon a reporter asked Col. Roosevelt if the Republican party offered to make him its candidate at the next convention.

"Offered Nothing," He Says.

The former president smiled.

"A couple of years ago there were rumors I had been offered the kingship of Albania, the presidency of China, and the dictatorship of Mexico," he said. "What was true then is true now. I have been offered nothing."

The Roosevelts arrived from the west over the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul at 9:30. In company with Mr. Noyes they proceeded at once to the animal house, where Cy and the colonel greeted each other like long separated playmates. But let Cy write the rest of the story.

BY CY DE VRY.

"Be careful, do be careful, and don't get so close," cautioned Mrs. Roosevelt anxiously when she saw her husband making a bee line for the tiger's cage where Rajah, with his back turned, was enjoying a siesta.

"I am not in any danger," responded the colonel, jabbing his hand through the bars and giving Rajah a vigorous back scratching. Rajah seemed to like it, but his sense of majesty was too great to cause him to turn around, even to view a former president of the United States.

Rajah didn't know whether it was me scratching him, or the colonel, and he didn't give a darn, either.

I said to the colonel, "Rajah isn't half as bad as the Tammany tiger that you used to have to fight," and the colonel laughed and agreed with me. I had the colonel on my own dunghill for once, and I did most of the talking. Heretofore, when I have seen him in New York, he has done the most of it. The colonel is a great talker.

Whispers to Bull Moose.

I introduced him to Tom, our Chicago Bull Moose, and he whispered something in Tom's ear. Tom just nodded and walked away.

Of course he saw the lions. We talked about the way the members of the cat family fight—how they grab with their claws and then draw up their victims to their mouths to bite. It's the same with lions and tigers as it is with house cats. We were well agreed on the subject.

I had a surprise for the colonel when I showed him the snow leopard from the Himalaya mountains. He said he'd never seen one in a zoo before.

He paid a lot of attention to the cheetahs—said they were as fine a pair of specimens as he had ever seen.

The colonel was full of compliments about Lincoln park. He said the lion house was the finest building of its kind that he had ever seen, and that the sanitary conditions maintained for the animals in the park just fitted his ideas.

REPORT SUBMARINE LOST.

Danish Fishermen Say New German Boat Was Wrecked and Twelve Men Drowned.

LONDON, Aug. 2, 12:10 a. m.—A Reuter dispatch from Copenhagen says that fishermen who have returned from Lubeck are authority for the statement that a new German submarine, while on a trial trip between Kiel and Fehmarn, was wrecked and that twelve of the crew were drowned.

CRY OF "FIRE" CAUSES PANIC ABOARD SHIP

CROWD LISTS VESSEL?

New York, Aug. 1.—[Special.]—The Grand Republic—sister ship of the Gen. Slocum, which burned in the East river on June 15, 1904, resulting in the loss of 1,000 lives—was deserted by 900 of its passengers tonight when it arrived at Coney Island. They had had a fright which induced them to return to their homes by railroad rather than continue the trip on the Grand Republic.

The boat was between Rockaway point and Manhattan beach at 7 o'clock last night when men on the lower after deck shouted "Fight," and the cry was misunderstood by most of the passengers, who thought an alarm of fire was being sounded. In half a minute men and women were shouting "Fire, fire," and searching for life preservers.

Panic a Serious One.

Some of the persons who quit the Grand Republic when it touched at Coney Island insisted that the panic was a serious one, that the rush to one side was so sudden that the vessel listed dangerously, and that they had seen women knocked down and trampled on.

They said that an officer of the boat, revolver in hand, drove the frightened passengers from the lowering side in time for the boat to right itself.

They insisted that many of the men tried to get lifeboats into the water and were only prevented by the threats of the officers that the first man who tampered with the lifeboats would be shot.

Man Jumps to Death.

Another part of the story as told by the nervous passengers was that one man was so terrified by the apparent danger that he grabbed a life preserver and leaped overboard. It was said that his body was not recovered.

When the Grand Republic touched at the Coney Island pier more than 900 persons swarmed off the ship. Many of them—as a glance at the deserted decks revealed—left behind in their hurry many small belongings, such as lunch baskets, hats, parasols, and fans.

Capt. Edwin Carman of the Grand Republic denied that the boat had listed, that there had been a panic, or that any person had jumped overboard.

THAW IN CHICAGO TODAY ON COAST AUTO JOURNEY.

Harry Reaches South Bend, Ind., and Will Leave There at 8 a. m.; Due Here at 1 p. m. Today.

Harry K. Thaw will be in Chicago today on his cross country auto ride to the San Francisco fair. He reached South Bend, Ind., at 12:15 o'clock this morning by automobile from Toledo, accompanied by two New York friends, F. K. Johnston and P. E. Tembleton.

Thaw expected to leave South Bend in his automobile at 8 o'clock this morning, arrive in Chicago at 1 this afternoon and remain over night.

He is expected to stop at the Blackstone.

"We've already had many calls for him," a Blackstone clerk said.

EUGENE LIES RUSHING BACK; STRICKEN WHILE IN NORTH.

Eugene T. Lies, superintendent of the United Charities, will arrive in Chicago on the steamer Missouri this morning and will go direct to St. Luke's hospital for treatment.

He was stricken while on a vacation in northern Michigan.

It is understood Mr. Lies' illness is of a rheumatic nature. A year ago he had typhoid fever.

Miss Bertha B. Mixter, 36 years old, and Harry E. Greenwood, 37 years old, of Evanston, were being married by Police Magistrate John F. Boyer in the courtroom of the Evanston police station at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The magistrate almost had reached the "man and wife" pronouncement of the ceremony when—

"Oh, judge!" cried a woman, running into the courtroom. "I want a warrant right away for my husband. I want him arrested immediately; he came home and beat me up."

The woman was Mrs. Emma Eeefurth, 2720 Noyes street, and she desired the imprisonment of her husband, August.

Ceremony Is Resumed.

After issuing the warrant Magistrate Boyer resumed the ceremony. (He doesn't know now, he says, if it was where he "left off.")

The ceremony progressed again nearly to the principal part, when another interruption came.

Patrolman Brooks entered the room with a man whom he had arrested for speeding—U. C. Bartlett of New York City, who had been touring Evanston.

"We'll start again now," said the judge, "but before we do, let me ask you, Miss Mixter and Mr. Greenwood, if you realize, after seeing all this, some of the snares you may encounter in married life?"

Game to the Finish.

"O, surely," said the woman on the very verge of bridehood, "I'll take a bootjack to him if he ever comes home and 'beats me up,' and I don't believe we'll ever be arrested for speeding. Now, judge, marry us quick."

Starting in again, a little further back in the ceremony than where he left off—just to make sure—Justice Boyer went through to the end of it. And the bride and groom went away happy and satisfied, presumably because, among other things, the "tension" of the ceremony had been relieved.

OFFICERS REMOVE PLATE FROM COFFIN OF BECKER.

New York Police Convince Wife of Murderer That Inscription Might Result in Libel Suit.

New York, Aug. 1.—[Special.]—Police officers of high rank on their own initiative today went to the darkened room where the body of Charles Becker, who was put to death Friday for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, lay in a coffin and removed from the coffin lid the silver plate inscribed "Charles Becker, murdered July 30, 1915, by Gov. Whitman." Inspector Faurot, head of the detective bureau, convinced Mrs. Becker that the word "murdered" on the plate might result in an action for criminal libel.

(By Cable to The Chicago Tribune.)

LONDON, Aug. 1.—Fifty thousand persons participated today in a funeral parade for Jeremiah O'Donovan Rossa, the Irish patriot, who died on June 30 in the United States. The funeral procession included contingents of Irish volunteers, national volunteers, Jim Larkins' citizens' army, and other organizations.

21 AEROS BATTLE FOR 45 MINUTES

Six German Attack 15 Enemy Craft; Retreat When Reinforcements Come.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—A forty-five minute battle in the air between six German aeroplanes and fifteen French machines over Chateau-Salins is reported in an official Berlin dispatch here tonight. This and a Paris official dispatch tell of many air raids accompanied by bomb hurling and the destruction of raiding aircraft.

"Six German aeroplanes," the Berlin dispatch says, "attacked fifteen French machines over Chateau-Salins yesterday, and during the forty-five minutes of fighting several of the hostile machines were forced to land. When enemy reinforcements came up our airmen retreated without loss."

Two Raids by Germans.

The German dispatch tells of two raids. On the French flying ground near Nancy early this morning 103 bombs were dropped and eighteen hits were observed on the tents. The enemy machines which ascended for defense could not prevent the attacks. The British flying ground at St. Poe, near Dunkirk, was bombarded yesterday and thirty bombs were dropped.

Three Raids by Allies.

Three raids by the allies are reported. The Berlin dispatch says the German aerodrome near Douai was unsuccessfully bombarded "by a hostile air squadron." One of the German battle aeroplanes shot down an enemy aeroplane, it says. To the north of Saargemund a French aeroplane was forced to descend, the occupants being captured.

"During the day of July 23," the French report says, "our aeroplanes threw thirty shells on the aviation camp at Dalheim and also six shells on a military train near Chateau-Salins."

Chicago Woman Involved in Tale of War Intrigue

"Mrs. Warren Springs" Charged with Offer to Pay Italians.

PARIS, Aug. 1.—The Rome Giornale d'Italia publishes a statement issued "by direction of the Socialist party," alleging an attempt to pay Italian Socialists to oppose Italy's entrance into the war.

An accusation against Italian Socialists made by the Cri de Paris has evoked an explanation to the effect that on May 16 last a Zurich chemist named Nathan was presented at a Socialist council at Bologna by M. Greulich, dean of the Swiss Socialists, as having just returned from the United States, charged with a mission by an American woman which should be of interest to Italian Socialists on account of the financial difficulties of the party.

Gives Name of Mrs. Warren Springs

Nathan, asked to explain, is alleged to have said that an American woman living in Chicago and a well known peace advocate charged him to offer from $20,000 to $40,000 to aid a peace propaganda by the Italian Socialists. M. Greulich was then closely questioned and is alleged to have given the name of Mrs. Warren Springs of Chicago as that of the woman concerned.

The statement adds that the Socialists passed a resolution deploring M. Greulich's participation in the affair.

MRS. WARREN SPRINGER?

There is no Mrs. Warren Springs in Chicago, but there is a Mrs. Warren Springer, widow of a real estate man.

A reporter sat on the step of Mrs. Springer's home at 8 East Elm street until after midnight, but Mrs. Springer did not appear.

Since the death of her husband, who was reputed to be a millionaire, Mrs. Springer's aggressive charities have kept her in the public eye. She has projected successively a charity maternity hospital, a great country community to which hundreds of Chicago's poor might be transplanted, and a free university.

It was not long after the death of Springer that the widow became identified with a money raising scheme in behalf of St. Ann's hospital. Chances were sold on an automobile by the thousand, but the raffle was no more fortunate than a number of Mrs. Springer's other philanthropies have proved.

Many Complaints on Scheme.

Many complaints were made by persons who had bought chances and who wanted to know what had happened to the automobile. Mrs. Springer announced the holder of the winning ticket could not be found and said another drawing would be made. The outcome was never announced.

Mrs. Springer's still unbuilt city of the poor was to have risen at Kinman, Ill. Great plans had been prepared and Frank Lloyd Wright, the architect, spent many hours going into the scheme with the patroness.

Mrs. Springer has just returned from Mexico. She brought back with her a story of a thrilling battle with bandits, in which she played a prominent part. James Sawhill of the Hyde Park hotel, who was one of Mrs. Springer's companions on the Mexican trip, said last night he never had heard her make any remarks which might indicate she was interested in a European peace propaganda.

GERMAN DRIVE A WINNER, BUT AT HEAVY COST

CZAR'S ARMY IN PERIL.

(By the Associated Press.)

LONDON, Aug. 1.—The anniversary of the beginning of the war passed without the Germans occupying Warsaw, which was understood to be part of their program.

However, news of this climax to the Austro-German offensive in the east, which was begun in the early days of May, is hourly expected, for what little information is allowed publicity is to the effect that the Russians for several days have been withdrawing to the Brest line, leaving small forces to fight rear guard actions, so that the main armies might make good their retreat.

Russ Fight Stubbornly.

These rear guard actions have developed at many places into fairly large battles, as the Russians, whose steadiness has been phenomenal in the face of defeat, are offering stubborn resistance to the German advances and delivering powerful counter attacks.

For example, they have prevented Field Marshal von Hindenburg from throwing more of his troops across the Narew; repulsed German attacks to the northwest of Warsaw, and driven back to the river some of the invading troops who crossed the Vistula to the south of Warsaw.

In the southeast Field Marshal von Mackensen continues his victorious advance. He has swept aside the resistance of the Russians and forced them to retreat along both banks of the Bug river. The Germans have already passed through Chelm in pursuit.

During the month of July, Berlin says the Germans captured more than 95,000 Russians between the Pilica river and the Baltic sea alone.

Von Buelow Is Checked.

The Russians, according to Petrograd, have stopped Gen. von Buelow's advance in Kovno province toward the Vilna-Petrograd railway.

If Grand Duke Nicholas is to hold the Brest line after his retirement from Warsaw, it is absolutely necessary that Gen. von Buelow's offensive should be arrested, for should he reach the railway he would seriously interfere with the Russian communications.

It is not yet certain whether the Russian armies can make good their retirement from Warsaw. Certainly the Austro-Germans are doing their best to prevent it and have moved up strong reinforcements to hasten their encircling movement.

The appearance of fresh troops also suggests that the German staff will not be satisfied with the capture of the city, or even the destruction of part of the Russian army, but, should this be accomplished, will attack the Brest line and endeavor finally to crush the entire Russian forces.

Capture of Lublin Costly.

"The capture of Lublin cost Gen. Woyrsch, 70,000 men in killed, wounded, and prisoners. Four miles north of Lublin the Russians are fighting fiercely, disputing every foot of ground while covering their retreat.

"In an advance of seven miles with seven army corps, Field Marshal Von Mackensen lost 35,0000 men.

"The army massed from Lowicz to Ostrowiec has begun an advance upon Ivangorod and Novo Alexandria, the evacuation of which was commenced by the Russians on Friday night, according to the Germans.

"The Germans have dispatched more than 100 train loads of ammunition from Radom to Lodz toward Warsaw since July 28.

"The Russians who attacked south of Przasnysz killed 5,000, wounded 8,000, and took 1,300 prisoners of the Eighth German army corps."

German War Report.

BERLIN, Aug. 1.—The German war office gave out the following statement regarding operations on the eastern front:

"North of the Niemen, there have been local actions. Northeast of Rozan, we have made further progress; the enemy counter attacks have been repulsed.

"In the month of July, between the Pilica river and the Baltic, we captured 25,025 Russians, 41 guns, among them two heavy pieces, four mine throwing howitzers, and 230 machine guns.

"In the southeastern war theater, our troops, who advanced across the Vistula north of Ivangorod, repulsed heavy enemy counter attacks. Pursuing the Russians, we conquered the heights near Podzamose, capturing more than 1,000 prisoners. Between the Upper Vistula and the Bug, the enemy again offered resistance.

"In the course of the day the German troops ejected the enemy from positions near Kurow, east of Nowo Alexandria, south of Lecsna, southwest and south of Chelm, and southwest of Dublenka.

"Consequently the enemy continued his retreat on both banks of the Bug and on the front between the Bug and south of Lecsna. We have already passed through Chelm in pursuit of the enemy.

"In the southeastern war theater the German troops captured in the month of July 203 officers, 7,571 men, ten guns, and 126 machine guns."

Much Pomp as Duma Opens.

PETROGRAD, Aug. 1.—The duma was opened today by imperial ukase in the presence of a brilliant assemblage, including the cabinet ministers and members of the diplomatic corps.

Michael Vladimirovitch Rodzianko, president of the chamber, in convening the session, said the more terrible the war became the more Russia was imbued by the firm and unshakable determination to bring it to a successful issue.

"This," said M. Rodzianko, "necessitates complete unity of all classes and the development of the productive resources of the empire."

M. Rodzianko asked the members of the chamber to make suggestions to the government regarding how this could be effected.

During his address he greeted the diplomatic representatives of the triple entente powers, who were cheered by the members of the chamber and by the public in the galleries.

This first sitting of the duma holds out promise of work with the object of promoting the production of military supplies and meeting the military requirements, rather than oratory, recrimination, or effort to discover those responsible for the failure to realize the earlier high hopes.

The temper of the deputies was moderate; party differences were minimized; there was an entire absence of gloom or factitious enthusiasm. The speeches of the president of the chamber, M. Rodzianko, and the ministers were well received.

Reviews Political Situation.

Sergius Sazonoff, the foreign minister, who followed M. Rodzianko, after reiterating that all the evidence showed that neither Russia nor its allies were responsible for the war, gave a résumé of the political situation. But he warned the members that it was difficult to touch upon problems "which are still under negotiation."

There had been few changes, M. Sazonoff said, in international relations since his last address to the duma. Then combined action by the separate states had not been well organized, but now the forces of each state were being employed to the best advantage in striving for a common end.

M. Sazonoff referred amid cheering to the participation in the war of Italy.

"These people," he said, "long have wished to free their fellow countrymen from the foreign yoke. . . . . If the example of Italy had been followed by the other states it would have contributed to the speedy conclusion of the war. Nevertheless the time for supreme decisions has not passed, and it is to be hoped that advantage will be taken of the time which still remains by those neutrals who cannot otherwise find a solution for their national problems."

Assails German War Methods.

Referring to the German methods of waging warfare, M. Sazonoff said the Germans had stopped "neither at the wholesale poisoning of our soldiers nor at the extermination of women, children, and peaceful citizens, whose cries could not fail to arouse sentiments of just repugnance in neutral countries."

"These feelings," the foreign minister continued, "spread beyond the ocean to the United States, where humanitarian feelings revolted against such horrible occurrences as the sinking of the Lusitania, which cost so many American lives. This attack, which has no parallel for cruelty or absurdity, is an ineffaceable blot on the name of Germany."

M. Sazonoff concluded with a reference to "the miracles of bravery and devotion" of which Serbia had given proof.

Admits German Successes.

The war minister, M. Polivanoff, said: "At this moment the enemy is concentrating enormous forces against Rusia and is successively enveloping the territory and military districts of Warsaw, the strategic contour of which has always been the weak point of our western frontier.

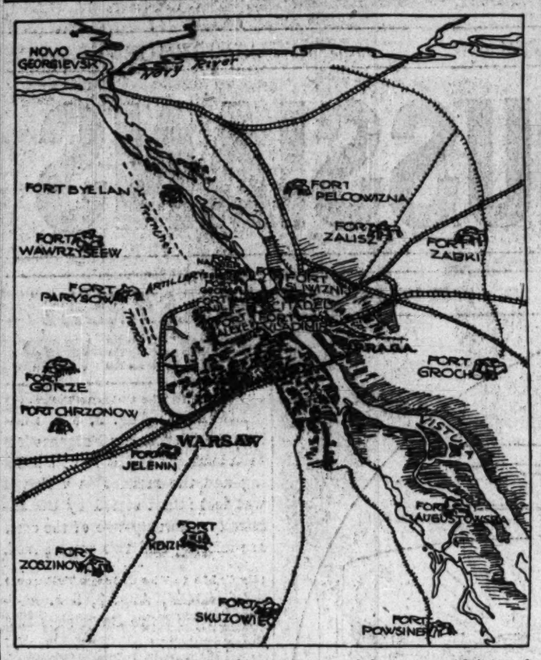

"Under the circumstances we shall perhaps yield to the enemy a portion of this region, falling back on positions where our army will prepare for a resumption of the offensive.

"All's well that ends well; 1812 was proof of that. We shall today perhaps give up Warsaw, as then we gave up Moscow, in order to insure a final victory."

One of the outstanding features of the session was the declaration made in the name of the emperor by the premier, M. Goremykin, that the Poles shall receive autonomy.

Announcement that amnesty had been granted Vladimir Boutrzeff, the revolutionist, who returned here from Paris for hospital service but was immediately arrested, was well received.

Vast Ring of Fortresses Which Encircles Warsaw.

The map above illustrates the great mass of fortresses and intrenchments behind which the Russians have been opposing the advance of the Germans on the capital of Poland.

CRITICIZES UNITED STATES; CALLS POLICY LICK-SPITTLE.

Dr. C. J. Hexamer, President of National German-American Alliance, Says England Sets Pace for Us.

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 1.—At a meeting today preliminacy to the opening of the convention here tomorrow of the National German-American alliance, the president, Dr. C. J. Hexamer of Philadelphia, took occasion to criticize the United States for supplying war munitions to England.

"I must say I have not been proud of my country lately," he said. "A nation which prays for peace on Sundays and supplies England with arms and ammunition all the rest of the week is, to say the least, hypocritical.

"I must confess that I, as a native born American, am nauseated by the lick spittle policy of our country. English ships patrol our waters.

"England forbids us to buy ships and to trade with neutral nations as we would like; England cuts the cables leading from our shores to those of a friendly nation, and England decides for our secretary of state what news he shall impart to us American citizens, who employ and pay him.

"From the way most war reports read, we might just as well tear up the declaration of independence and become loyal subjects of King George."

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1.—[Special.]—Labor's peace council, headed by Congressman Buchanan of Chicago, today outwitted leaders of national farmers' organizations at the "conference" held in this city.

After the farmers' representatives, who were called into conference by the "peace council," which paid all the traveling and hotel expenses, had threatened to walk out of the conference if a resolution urging an embargo on arms and government ownership of munitions factories were pressed, the "labor" leaders worked through a blanket resolution which appeared innocuous to the farmers at the time, but through the operations of which the opponents of the export of munitions hope seriously to embarrass President Wilson and this government's attitude in permitting the shipment of munitions of war to European belligerents.

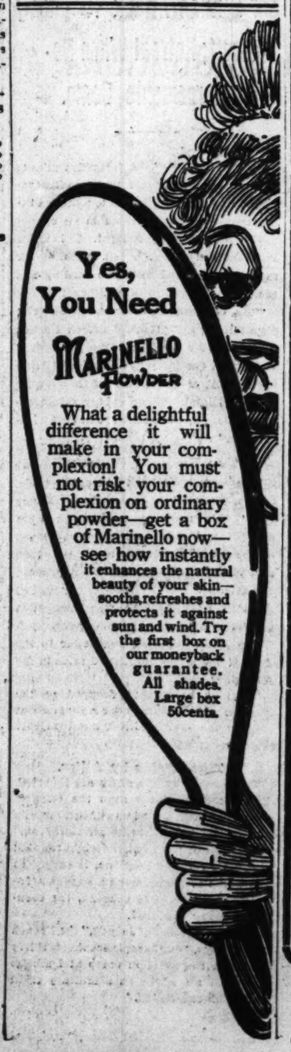

As chairman of a committee appointed to carry out the resolution, former Representative Fowler of Illinois, nominally the leader in the "peace council," announced that the committee would urge upon congress government ownership of munitions factories and an embargo.

When informed that this was the purpose of the committee Grand Master Oliver Wilson of the National grange, through whom the "peace council" issued the invitation for the conference, declared that this would be construed as evidence of deliberate bad faith and would be repudiated as such.

BIG GUN BATTLE AT FOUR POINTS ON FRENCH FRONT

German Battalion Between the Meuse and Moselle Surprised and Ranks Are Riddled.

PARIS, Aug. 1.—The following official communication was issued by the war office tonight:

"An artillery action of medium intensity has occurred in Artois and in the valley of the Aisne; it was more violent to the northwest of Reims in the region of the Luxembourg farm, between Cauroy and Loivre, and in the western Argonne, in the region of Fontaine Aux Charmes and Hill 213.

Surprise for Teutons.

"Between the Meuse and the Moselle, in the region of La Haye, a German battalion, surprised while assembling in the village of Vilcey-Sur-Trey, was subjected to a rapid and efficacious fire from several of our batteries.

"Pont-a-Mousson and the village of Maidieres have been bombarded, but the damage was insignificant.

"In Alsace, in the middle of the night, the enemy attacked without success our positions at Schratzmannele and at Reich-Ackerkopf, suffering heavy losses."

British War Report.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—The following official communication was issued tonight:

"Further fighting on July 30, after the first German attack on our trenches, near Hooge, reported in our communication of that date, resulted in the recapture by us of a portion of the lost trenches west of the village.

"Yesterday's action was chiefly confined to the artillery, but last night we successfully repulsed two further infantry attacks."

German War Report.

BERLIN, via London, Aug. 1.—The following official statement from general headquarters, covering the fighting on the west front, was issued today:

"A British attack against our new positions near Hooge completely collapsed. Night attacks by the French against Souchez also failed.

"In the Argonne there has been a heavy artillery duel. Late yesterday evening our positions on Reich-Ackerkopf, in the Vosges, were attacked. The enemy was repulsed."

JAPANESE CABINET CRISIS BECOMES MORE TANGLED.

Elder Statesmen Complicate Situation by Opposing Retention of Okuma Ministry.

TOKIO, Aug. 1.—A solution of the cabinet crisis is not in sight. The situation has been complicated by the opposition of the elder statesmen to Takaaki Kato, minister of foreign affairs, whose handling of the Chinese question they have criticized.

On the other hand, representative Japanese not connected with politics are urging the continuance in power of the cabinet, headed by Count Okuma as premier.

This party, under the leadership of Baron Shibusawa, chairman of the Tokio Banking association, and Buei Nakano, president of the Tokio chamber of commerce, is seeking to convince the elder statesmen that a cabinet change is not desirable in war times, when state affairs of paramount importance remain unsettled, including a readjustment of financial problems arising from extraordinary war expenditures and projected naval expansion.

The assertion is made that great difficulty would be experienced in forming a new ministry able to cope with the crisis.

AUSTRIANS PLAN TO QUIT TRIEST, LONDON REPORT

Unofficial Dispatch Says They Have Moved Machinery of Munitions Plants.

BULLETIN.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—An unconfirmed report comes from Rome tonight that the Austrians are preparing for the evacuation of Triest, and have already removed the machinery of the munitions factories.

ROME, via Paris, Aug. 1.—The following official statement was issued by the Italian war office tonight:

"In the upper valley of Camonica during the night of July 30 the enemy renewed their attack. They failed in their fifteenth sally against our positions near Refugio Garibaldi. The energetic action of our advanced posts was alone sufficient to repulse it.

"The same night in Carnia hostile detachments twice tried attacks on Mount Freikofel and were twice promptly repulsed. During the day our infantry, solidly supported by artillery, began in the zone of Pal Piccolo an audacious offensive which resulted in the capture of a strong line of Austrian trenches.

Austrians Lose Heavily.

"The enemy suffered important losses, leaving in our hands several prisoners. Nevertheless, during the evening, having received reinforcements, they counter attacked around the foothills of Pal Piccolo, but again were repulsed with serious losses.

"The Isonzo operations, with a view of developing the Plava bridges, proceeded successfully. After destroying barbed wire entanglements we enlarged towards the southeast our zone of occupation, along the slopes of Montkuk and around Zagora.

Progress in the Carso.

"In the Carso at Cave (?) our troops truck a second and strong line of defense prepared by the enemy as far as there, of which we lately reached the end.

"Yesterday, after efficacious preparations, especially in the center, we began an attack on a new line, making progress, captured some intrenchments, made 334 captured some entrenchments, made 334 prisoners, of whom fifteen were officers; took three machine guns, many other guns and munitions."

Announce an August Sale of Quality Furs

WE never had a finer stock of furs than right now, since every skin was bought this season, and bought expressly for the Shayne label. Still, at this sale (in advance of the season), we are offering them at lower prices than we have been able to quote for many years.

In fact, we are able today to sell furs at retail for less than others are paying wholesale. This is the result of foresight in buying. For instance, we bought several magnificent lots of fox skins such as Silver, Cross, Blue, White and Red, etc., for which a skin dealer has since offered us as high a price as we are going to charge our retail customers.

Our showing of 1915-1916 styles is complete and authoritative. The influence of the war is seen in some smart military effects that are particularly attractive.

Come in as soon as possible and choose from our great array of beautiful garments—or pick out the skins and we will make them up to order.

BUT—REMEMBER | These reductions prevail only until September 1st. Then Normal Fur Season Prices—20% Higher—will be in force.

LABOR DEMANDS PRESIDENT CALL REDFIELD OFF

Chicago Federation Joins Other Bodies in Protest Against "Self-Investigation."

The Chicago Federation of Labor yesterday decided to petition President Wilson to supplant Secretary of Commerce Redfield's "self-investigation" commission by appointing a committee not in the service of the department of commerce.

The federation demanded representation on the commission for the traveling public and members of the city council, as well as experts in lake steamship industry.

The resolution calling for this action was presented by Delegate M. L. Johnson of the electrical workers' union. It demanded that the president's commission investigate the Eastland disaster and steamship service on the great lakes in general.

Demand for Special Inquiry General

Unanimity in the demand that Secretary Redfield's "self investigation" of the Eastland disaster be supplanted by a special commission appointed by President Wilson is indicated by the following list of clubs, societies and individuals who have sent protests to President Wilson at Cornish, N. H. Here is the list:

Mayor Thompson.
City council investigating committee.
Organized labor.
Members of the Woman's City club.
Members of the coroner's jury.
Five Polish societies.

Inquiry Called "Inhuman, Brutal."

At the labor federation meeting Secretary Redfield's investigation was denounced in a report of the executive board dealing with the Eastland disaster. It called attention to a protest made by the federation to President Wilson asking that he prevent the steamboat inspection service from investigating itself.

"In spite of this," the report read, "one of the most disgraceful, unfeeling, inhuman, cold blooded, brutal scenes at which we ever had the misfortune to be present was the day we were present at the federal investigation."

The executive board's report was adopted unanimously. It carried with it a recommendation authorizing President John Fitzpatrick to appoint a committee of federation officers to represent organized labor in any movement for insuring safety of marine travel.

The board recommended the appointment of Victor A. Olander, secretary of the Lake Seamen's union, for chairman of the federation's committee. Mr. Olander declined the honor and President Fitzpatrick will probably head the committee.

Fighting for Principle.

"I am right in the midst of this fight for a cleaning up of the entire federal inspection service and I can do more good in the ranks," Secretary Olander said. "I do not wish to be placed in the position of antagonizing Secretary Redfield. We are fighting for a great principle."

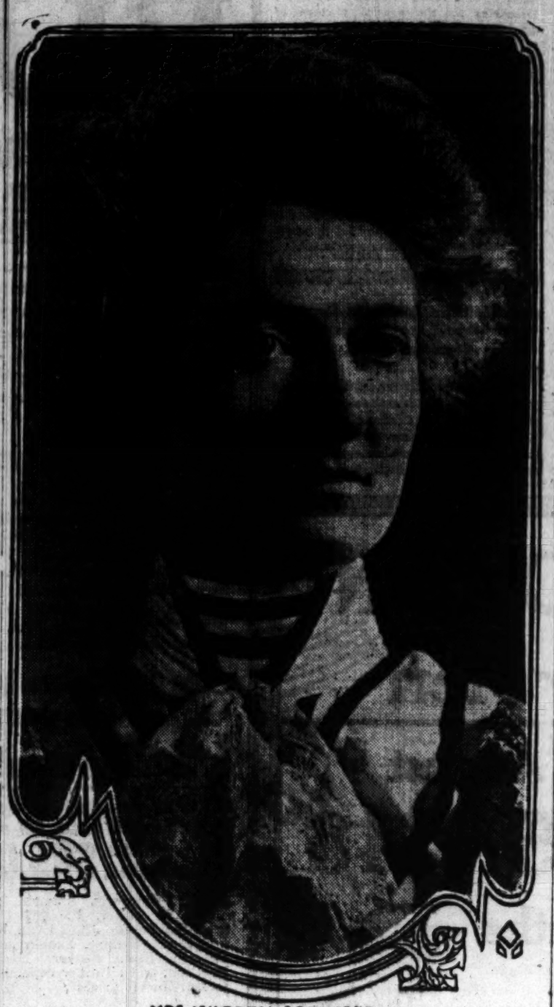

"We attended the federal investigation held under the auspices of the department of commerce, and presided over by Secretary Redfield, ready to give all the data, protests and information we have, but did not succeed in securing consideration," the report continues.

"Secretary Redfield's sneering sarcastic, disinterested attitude would get on the nerves of the Whitechapel murderer. This proceeding was so disgusting that the daily press was unanimous the following day in severe criticism of Redfield's attitude. A philosopher once remarked there was nothing to be gained by trying the devil if the court was held in hell. This can very well be applied to the federal proceedings."

"During the last week we have spent all our time considering the Eastland disaster," Secretary Olander said. "I believe the United States steamboat inspection service not only made this disaster possible but inevitable.

"I have no illusions as to my station in life, and never had any. I am not going to criticize Secretary Redfield. He gets that from better sources. But I want to say you've got to have an investigation of the entire inspection service if you are going to be reasonably safe in the future. This bureau has got to be uncovered."

Planned to Keep Italy from War?

MRS. WARREN SPRINGER

"Mrs. Warren Spring of Chicago" is mentioned in an Associated Press cablegram in connection with a reported effort last May to buy the influence of Italian Socialists to be used against the entrance of Italy into the European war. There is no Mrs. Warren Spring, but Mrs. Warren Springer of 8 East Elm street, is the well known widow of a former Chicago millionaire.

LAYS DISASTER TO GREED SPIRIT

Minister at Austin Memorial Blames Everybody for Ship Horror.

The first memorial services for the victims of the Eastland disaster were held yesterday.

Plans ar under way in several sections of the city to conduct a series of memorial meetings in different churches at which tribute will be paid to the dead and funds raised for the relief of the living.

"Such an astonishing event as the overturning of a great excursion steamer in quiet waters can never be a mere accident. It can only be a sign of criminal neglect and inefficiency. We are bound to ferret out the immediate responsibility for such a disaster."

This was the statement of the Rev. Wallace M. Short of Sioux City, Ia., in an address yesterday before 600 persons who crowded the Plaisance theater in Austin at an Eastland memorial service. The Rev. Mr. Short has a brother, F. E. Short, who is a department manager for the Western Electric company, and when the clergyman read of the disaster, he hurried at once to Chicago.

All Bound in Sorrow.

"When I received a telegram telling me of the safety of my own family," said Mr. Short in his address, "I was, of course, moved with deep gratitude. At the same time there came over me the sense of the utter selfishness and brutality of any other kind of gratitude than that subdued thanksgiving which makes one a participant in sorrow with the thousands of families that have lost those nearest and dearest to them."

A collection of more than $70 was taken up during the meeting for the benefit of Eastland sufferers. Otto McFeely is chairman of the Austin memorial committee.

Grand Crossing Services.

Memorial services at the Ingleside Methodist Episcopal church, Seventy-sixth street and Ingleside avenue, were attended by nearly 500. This is the first of three meetings to be held at Grand Crossing to give a public expression of sympathy to families affected by the disaster and to raise relief money.

Federal Grand Jury May Grill Redfield

SECRETARY OF COMMERCE William C. Redfield will be called before the federal grand jury, according to federal building rumors. He probably will testify today or tomorrow.

The grand jury, it is reported, wishes information on these subjects:

The administration of the steamboat inspection service, especially with reference to the Eastland catastrophe.

The underlying purpose of the secretary's investigation and his method of conducting it.

It is understood to be the intention of District Attorney Clyne and the grand jurors to interrogate Mr. Redfield especially on the allegations of Victor A. Olander, secretary of the Lake Seamen's union. They wish to know, for one thing, how far the "system" is to blame for permitting the unstable Eastland to carry 2,500 to 3,000 passengers. Among questions the grand jurors may put to the cabinet member are the following:

Why is so much discretion placed in the hands of the local board of inspectors?

How do you explain the lack of any definite standard to determine the carrying capacity of a vessel?

Do you think the present steamboat inspection service is adequate to protect the lives of the public?

In view of the fact that the Eastland was notoriously "cranky," why was it permitted to navigate?

Can you give us your reasons for stating you are "proud of the inspection service's record in the case of the Eastland"?

MORRIS RECOVERS RAPIDLY.

Minister to Sweden, Who Underwent Operation, Able to Be Up Short Time.

Ira Nelson Morris, United States minister to Sweden, is reported ti be recovering rapidly from an operation he underwent to remove a cystic tumor a few days ago. His secretary said last night that he had been able to be up for a while during the day and that his physician expects his complete recovery speedily.

RUMOR OF FIFTY BODIES AS THREE MORE ARE FOUND

EASTLAND DEAD AND MISSING UP TO DATE.

Identified dead	838
Unidentified dead	2
Western Electric company's list of missing	142
Total	982

Reports that divers had discovered nearly fifty additional bodies in the engine room and forward part of the hold of the Eastland caused officials to hasten to the docks at the Clark street bridge yesterday morning. They founud the report to be an exaggeration, but divers who brought up three bodies during the day expressed the belief that several bodies might yet be found entangled in wire and other obstructions which would make it difficult to remove them.

Diver William Deneau, who was one of those at work, said he felt sure but few bodies remained in the hold.

Three bodies, those of two women and a man, were recovered and taken to Sheldon's undertaking rooms, 912 West Madison street, where they were identified during the day.

Not an Eastland Victim.

Another body, that of an unidentified man, was taken from the river at Polk street and removed to the morgue, where it also was numbered, but Deputy Coroner Adolph Herrmann was inclined to doubt that it was one of the Eastland victims. It apparently had been in the water only a few days and was numbered and described as follows:

No. 760—Man about 25 years old; dark blue suit, tan shoes and socks; handkerchief with initial "M" found in coat pocket.

That of a man, No. 729, which was identified by sailors as that of Joseph Brennan, a seaman on the Eastland, also remains at the morgue unclaimed.

Find and Identify Three

The bodies recovered and identified yesterday (Sunday) were:

No. 761—Justin, James C., 22 years old, 5232 West Twenty-third street.

No. 762—Willestat, Miss Lydia, 18 years old, 1234 West Sixty-first street.

No. 763—Harke, Miss Elizabeth, 18 years old, 3815 South Lincoln street.

The body of Miss Harke was identified by her father, Edward Harke, 3815 South Lincoln street, and her sister, Frieda. The father a week ago identified body No. 571 as that of his daughter, but later discovered he had made a mistake.

No Reports of Missing.

It was said at the coroner's office that no one had called during the day in response to Hoffman's request that all relatives and friends of persons supposed to be missing as a result of the Eastland tragedy send the names to the coroner's office.

THOUGHT SISTER VICTIM, ERRED, BUT SHE'S MISSING.

Brooklyn Woman Anxious as to Whereabouts of Another Elizabeth Montgomery.

Reading the list of Eastland victims in a Brooklyn newspaper, Mrs. Charles Schwing, 44 Court street, that city, saw the name of Miss Elizabeth Montgomery. Her sister of that name was supposed to have started from Chicago for Brooklyn June 14, but had not arrived there.

Mrs. Schwing, prostrated by the thought that her sister had been drowned, sent a friend from Brooklyn for the body.

The name Mrs. Schwing had seen, however, was that of Miss Elizabeth Montgomery, 26 years old, who lived at 34 North Stone avenue, La Grange, Ill., and her body had been identified by a brother.

But Mrs. Schwing is still anxious for her missing sister, and Lieut. Enright of the detective bureau will search for her. Miss Montgomery had been employed as a servant in the home of Miss Mary L. Dutton, 5528 Everett avenue.

Boy Cyclist Hit by Auto.

Francis Barry, 10 years old, 3346 South Ridgeway avenue, suffered a skull fracture and broken leg yesterday when his bicycle was struck by an automobile driven by Frank G. Hallock, president of the Lawndale State bank.

MARGUERITE KENVIN RAFFERTY

ANOTHER addition to the "all star" cast who will perform at the Green Mill gardens Wednesday evening for the relief of Eastland sufferers was made yesterday. She is Miss Margaret Rafferty. She will give an exhibition of fancy dancing.

"Fresh Stuff," never pulled before on any stage, is the bill. Max Annenberg and his Goodfellow committee have pledged the talent, gathered from every good show in town, to give nothing but "new business." And Mr. Annenberg gives his solemn word that most of them, including Joseph Santley and Valli Valli, Roy Atwell, Ruth Randall, Patricola, and the "Maid in America" stars, are burning the midnight oil to demonstrate originality. Tickets are 50 cents. They are on sale at the Green Mill gardens, the Sheridan Trust and Savings bank, the Plymouth hotel, and THE TRIBUNE office.

REDFIELD FACES CABINET OUSTER

Wilson May Be Forced to Remove Him, Impression in Capital.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1.—[Special.]—There is a growing impression here that the actions of Secretary of Commerce Redfield at Chicago last week in connection with the inquiry into the causes of the Eastland disaster will force President Wilson to remove him from the cabinet. Already his critics are demanding that the president recall him from Chicago.

The attitude assumed by the secretary from the moment he opened his personally conducted investigation, which is now generally believed here to have been started for the sole purpose of absolving from blame the steamboat inspectors and other commerce officials, has aroused a protest which has assumed national proportions.

Mr. Redfield's plea for mercy yesterday, in which he said he had been misrepresented by the press and the Chicago state and federal officials, has only served to increase the conviction in many quarters that he has abused his power as chief of a great governmental department in an effort to restrain criticism of that department.

Two Killed in Auto Wreck.

'TRIBUNE' FUND PROMISE $25,000

Wednesday's Garden Benefit to Be Augmented in Several Ways.

BALL GAMES TO HELP.

Receipts from many special Eastland benefit performances, including the "all star" attraction at the Green Mill gardens next Wednesday evening, with the mailed contributions received yesterday, promise to bring THE TRIBUNE relief fund up to $25,000.

Acknowledgement of all money turned over yesterday and today will be made in tomorrow's paper. Phone calls to THE TRIBUNE yesterday gave indication that many motion picture theaters, ball games, and other amusments would turn over yesterday's receipts to the fund.

Thousands of dollars have been contributed to this cause since the Eastland toppled over a little more than a week ago, but there are still thousands of persons in Chicago who have not, but can, add thousands to the fund.

There is little time left. Hundreds of bereaved families will be without food or shelter unless many charitable persons respond to the urgent appeal.

Garden Elaborates Bill.

The Green Mill gardens performance will be worth double the admission charged. The usual cabaret and orchestral features will be augmented by sketches, songs and dances by the principals of the "Maid in America" company.

All the stars in the company have been corraled for the night. They have been diligently rehearsing for the last week. Members of the Good Fellows of the North Side, who have arranged for the special benefit performance, and the managers of the gardens say a record breaking attendance is assured.

Tickets may be purchased at the Green Mill gardens, THE TRIBUNE business office, or the Sheridan Trust and Savings bank. The management of the gardens requests prospective purchasers to get their tickets early because of the limited number of seats.

Make Collection at Ball Game.

Chicago firemen, members of engine company No. 45, added $15 to the fund yesterday. The money was contributed by spectators at a ball game between the firemen and the Coleman Colts. Miss Esther Rand of 4635 Langley avenue and Miss Ellen O'Connor of 706 East Forty-sixth street passed a hat among the crowd.

A conference was held yesterday and another will be held this morning of officials of the Red Cross to consider further permanent plans for caring for the bereaved families. Little but emergency work has been attempted by the Red Cross so far. Burying the dead and providing living expenses where needed has occupied most of the time of the relief committee. Today the most important task of all—the future of the widows and orphans—will be discussed.

Julius Rosenwald, chairman of the finance committee of the Red Cross, received a letter yesterday from the United Charities offering the services of twenty-five trained relief workers. The offer was accepted.

U. S. INSPECTOR BARRED OFF SHIP BY LANDIS ORDER

Action Ties Up All Lines of Redfield's "Self-Investigation" of Eastland Disaster.

Inspector William Nicholas, seeking information for Secretary of Commerce William C. Redfield's inquiry, yesterday was refused permission to examine the hulk of the Eastland in the Chicago river.

The order to exclude men from the steamboat inspection service and others not expressly authorized by District Attorney Charles F. Clyne was issued following a visit to the boat by Judge Landis.

The new order adds the finishing touches to the judicial decree entered by the federal judge on Saturday in tying up the Redfield "self-investigation." Secretary Redfield has announced the confirmation of his theories of the disaster would depend to a large extent on the examination of the boat itself.

Inquiry to Go On, Redfield Says.

Secretary Redfield took refuge over Sunday at the country residence of Marvin E. Pool near Blue Island. The cabinet member asserted he will continue his inquiry, despite the orders of the federal court.

"Why not?" he asked.

"It was presumed that you would suspend for the time being on account of possible embarrassment in obtaining testimony," he was told.

"On what do you base that assumption?" was the secretary's interrogatory reply.

"Then you do not think that Judge Landis' orders will interfere with your inquiry?"

"I don't think so. Our investigation will go on Monday."

"Have you received any word or message from President Wilson or from anybody in Washington concerning your inquiry?" he was asked.

Hoyne Investigates New Angle.

State's Attorney Hoyne ordered an investigation of the charge that owners of the Eastland employed inexperienced and incompetent men to handle the important ballast machinery. It was reported to him that one week before the catastrophe three engine room helpers were "fired," and their places filled by cheaper men who were unfamiliar with work on a steamship.

Assistant State's Attorney Michael F. Sullivan questioned Harry Pedersen, captain of the Eastland, for two hours.

Further evidence as to the object of the Landis "stop order" came to light with the announcement by Mr. Hoyne that he is working in harmony with the federal officials.

"Judge Landis, Mr. Clyne, and I have a perfect understanding," said Mr. Hoyne.

AUSTRIAN NOTE IS MADE PUBLIC; ASKS EMBARGO

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1.—[Special.]—The complete text of the Austro-Hungarian note to the United States government, protesting against the trade in war material between the United States and the allies, was made public tonight by the Austro-Hungarian embassy.

The note admits that the trade is permitted by law, but declares that the spirit of the law is violated by the proportions which this trade has assumed. It asks, therefore, that the United States enact legislation imposing an embargo on the shipment of war materials to the allies.

It has not been decided whether the state department will reply. If a reply is made, however, it is certain it will be along the lines already made familiar to all concerned in the president's note to the German ambassador.

The administration is satisfied that not only is its present attitude toward this trade the correct one but that to change it in the midst of the war would be a deliberate violation of American neutrality.

Text of the Note.

The text of the note is as follows:

"The far reaching effects resulting from the fact that a very extensive trade in war supplies has been going on for some time between the United States and Great Britain and her allies, while Austria-Hungary and Germany have been entirely cut off from the American market, have from the first attracted the most earnest attention of the imperial royal government.

"If the undersigned permits himself to take part in the discussion of a question which hitherto has been brought to the attention of the Washington cabinet by the imperial German government only, he merely follows the dictates of unavoidable duty in protecting the interests intrusted to him from further grave injury growing out of the situation effecting Germany and Austria-Hungary equally.

No Question of U. S. Neutrality.

"The imperial and royal government is convinced that the attitude of the United States government in this matter originates from no other intention than the maintenance of the strictest neutrality and the observance to the letter of all the stipulations of the international agreements involved, but the question arises as to whether the conditions they have developed in the course of the war, certainly quite independently of the will of the United States government, are not such that the very intention of the Washington cabinet is defeated; indeed, that the exactly opposite effect is produced.

"If this question be answered in the affirmative—and according to the opinion of the imperial and royal government this cannot be doubted—then another question automatically follows, namely, whether it is not possible, indeed advisable, to take measures to provide full effectiveness to the wish of the government of the United States to assume an attitude of strict fairness toward both belligerent parties. The imperial and royal government does not hesitate to answer this question also in the affirmative, without qualification.

Hague Treaties Are Cited.

"It certainly has not escaped the attention of the American government, which has coöperated in the work of The Hague in such a prominent matter, that the spirit and the letter of the fragmentary stipulations of the treaties in question are not entirely coextensive.

"If one takes into consideration the genesis of article VII. of the fifth and thirteenth conventions respectively, upon which the government of the United States apparently rests the present case, and the wording of which, as will not be denied, offers a formal basis for the toleration of the trade in war materials as carried on at present by the United States, it is not necessary to point out—in order to realize the true spirit and range of this stipulation, which incidentally seems to have been modified already by prohibiting the delivery of warships and certain supplies for warships of belligerent countries—that the various rights as conceded to neutral countries in the spirit of the preamble of the last named convention are limited by the requirements of neutrality in correspondence with the accepted principles of international law.

Unhindered Trade Question.

"According to all the authorities on international law who have especially dealt with the questions which here arise the neutral government is not permitted to allow unhindered trade in contraband of war if this trade assumes such proportions that the country's neutrality is thereby impaired.

"In judging the admissibility of the trade in contraband of war one can use as a basis any one of the various criteria established by law, and arrive, according to each, at the conclusion that the export of war materials from the United States as it is carried on in the present war cannot be made to accord with the requirements of neutrality.

"It is not a question as to whether the branch of American industry occupied with the production of war material shall be protected in order that its export as it has been carried on in peace times may suffer no impairment.

"Furthermore, this industry has experienced an unexpected increase because of the war. In order to manufacture the immense amount of weapons, munitions, and other war material of all kinds which Great Britain and its allies have ordered in the United States of America in the course of the last month, it required not only the full utilization and adaptation of existing plants but the creation of new factories, as well as the diversion of large numbers of workmen from all branches of trade—in short, a widespread change in the economic life of the country.

Embargo on Arms Asked.

"The right of the American government can from no quarter be disputed to decree an embargo on this obviously enormous export of war material, which is notoriously for the exclusive benefit of one of the belligerent parties.

"The United States government could meet with no reproof if it were to avail itself of its competency, even if it took recourse to the passage of a law in accordance with its constitution. Even if it proved correct in principle that a neutral state may not change the laws in force within its jurisdiction concerning its attitude toward belligerents during the war, there is, however, an exception to the principle, as is clearly shown in the preamble of the thirteenth Hague convention, where experience has shown the necessity for such change for the protection of the rights of that power.

"This case arises for the United States government by the mere fact that Austria-Hungary as well as Germany is cut off from any commercial intercourse with the United States without the existence of a legally effective blockade.

Answer to Possible Objection.

"To the possible objection that although American industry is perfectly willing to supply Austria-Hungary and Germany as well as Great Britain and its allies, the United States is not able to carry on trade in consequence of the war situation, it may well be mentioned that the United States is without doubt in a position to remedy the above described condition. It would be entirely sufficient to hold out to the adversaries of Austria-Hungary and Germany the inhibition of the export of foodstuffs and raw materials if the legitimate trade in these articles between the union and the two central powers is not permitted.

"If the Washington cabinet could find itself prepared to act in this direction it would not only follow the traditions always upheld in the United States to safeguard the freedom of the seas but it would also offer the great service of defeating the criminal endeavor of the enemies of Austria-Hungary and Germany to enlist starvation as an ally.

Careful Consideration Asked.

"The imperial and royal government, in the spirit of the excellent relations which have never ceased to exist between the Austro-Hungarian monarchy and the United States of America, and in the name of sincere friendship, permits itself to make an appeal to the government of the union to submit to careful examination the point of view hereinbefore taken in this most important question and consider the statement given herewith.

"The revision of the present attitude of the government of the union to agree with the views proffered by the imperial and royal government would not only be [according to the conviction of the imperial and royal government] within the scope of the rights and duties of a neutral government, but also in the direction of those principles prompted by humanity and the love of peace which the United States has ever written upon her banner."

MAY TELL FRYE AWARD.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1.—The German note regarding the sinking of the American ship William P. Frye, which was handed to Ambassador Gerard at Berlin yesterday, had not been received at the state department tonight. It was expected some time tomorrow. Secretary Lansing said no word had been received from the ambassador concerning the note.

There is considerable speculation here as to what the German reply to the American communication on the Frye case contains, in view of the attitude taken by this government.

Speculation on German Reply.

Germany was asked to reconsider its decision to send the Frye case to a prize court for adjustment, the United States maintaining that under the treaty with Prussia of 1828 it was a matter for diplomatic adjustment and not subject to prize court rules. The United States maintained that it would not recognize a prize court ruling in the case as binding.

Should the German reply include an announcement of a prize court decision, the United States will not, it is said, take any measures to prevent the owners from accepting the award if they are satisfied. But the American government will not recede from its contention that the case is one for diplomatic adjustment.

Another important communication expected tomorrow is Great Britain's supplemental note replying to American representations regarding the British blockade and interference with American commerce. Secretary Lansing was informed Friday that the reply would be forwarded in a few days.

Cornish, N. H., Aug. 1.—President Wilson today received from the state department official dispatches telling of the sinking of the Leyland line steamer Iberian by a German submarine. The dispatches were to the effect that the steamer had disregarded a warning to stop.

There were no indications here that the president regarded the incident as being one likely to cause further complications with Germany. He refused to make any comment.

Six Cruiser Destroyers to Be Built —Plans Influenced by Lessons of European War.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1.—Plans for six big cruiser destroyers have been approved. They will be the first vessels the design of which will have been influenced by the war in Europe.

The vessels will have a maximum sustained sea speed of thirty knots; they will displace 1,125 tons, measure 310 feet over all, have a width of thirty feet seven inches, and a mean draft of eight feet.

Each destroyer will carry four triple torpedo tubes, a main battery of four 4 inch guns, and two one pounder anti-aircraft guns.

FRENCH MARINES LAND IN HAITI

U. S. Grants Minister's Request for Sailors from Ship at Port au Prince.

CAPITAL IS NOW QUIET.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1.—With the consent of the United States, French marines have been landed at Port au Prince, Haiti, where last week's revolution overturned the government and necessitated the landing of an expeditionary force from the United States cruiser Washington to restore order.

A detachment from the cruiser Descartes is now guarding the French legation from which President Guillaume was taken by a mob and assassinated.

A request for the guard was presented by the French minister at Port au Prince and cabled to Washington by Rear Admiral Caperton in command of the American expeditionary force.

The French minister had expressed an urgent desire that his legation be guarded by French sailors, inasmuch as the Descartes had arrived at Port au Prince.

Upon receipt of Admiral Caperton's cablegram Secretary Daniels conferred with Secretary of State Lansing. Mr. Lansing could see no objection to the landing of a small detachment from the Descartes for the special purpose of guarding the French legation.

No complications would arise from such action, in the secretary's opinion, and Admiral Caperton was instructed to afford the French minister all facilities for landing the French guard.

Port au Prince was reported quiet today. The battleship Connecticut with 500 additional marines, is now en route to the island republic and will be followed by the hospital ship Solace and the navy transport Hancock.

Other reinforcements may be sent if there are any more attacks upon the city by revolutionists such as that in which two American bluejackets were killed.

HANOTAUX SEES ALLIES VICTORS IN ANOTHER YEAR

Former French Minister of Foreign Affairs Reviews War in the Figaro.

PARIS, Aug. 1.—Gabrial Hanotaux, former minister of foreign affairs, in the Figaro today reviews the causes of the war and the "historical stages leading Germany logically to this step and to cast the die for the gigantic conflict in an attempt to impose domination on the world."

"Germany prepared for this war," says M. Hanotaux, "as an enterprise of universal domination. Once ready, it chose its hour and dragged along its accomplice, Austria-Hungary, and its other accomplice, Turkey. Determined to stop at nothing, the day when it became necessary to sacrifice the world's peace and joy to its material prosperity and its pride, Germany willed war."

"Weltpolitik" Idea Reviewed.

This is proved by historical documents, M. Hanotaux says, and he reviews the growth of the German "weltpolitik" idea born at a meeting aboard the imperial yacht Hohenzollern in 1807, recounted in Chancellor von Buelow's book, and from which came the motto, "Our future is on the seas," through fifteen years of military and naval preparation to 1912, when "the work of preparation was accomplished and Germany was ready to profit from the first favorable circumstance."

"From the material viewpoint," he says, "the far sighted and formidable preparations of the twin empires with a view to war cannot be denied. With the most savage resolution, in absolute secrecy, with fists clenched and lips closed, two empires, armed to the death, constructed monstrous cannon, filled arsenals with arms and ammunition.

"Every slightest resource was catalogued that nothing might be lost, and all with the purpose of offensive action. There were inventories in advance, the means of defense exploitable, and the riches of the countries coveted."

Attitude in Germany Cited.

As moral proofs of Germany's purpose M. Hanotaux cites the growth of the conviction in Germany that a successful conquest is its own full justification, and that "the German people were the chosen people, the predestined people in the religious world, philanthropic and scientific sense of the word; that everything in the world untouched by Germany must remain retrograde and inferior * * *."

M. Hanotaux adds:

"The Germans are fighting for the enslavement, not the liberation of the world. * * *."

"France, especially, is in her traditional role, nor will she let herself be turned aside. She struggles for ideals which are hers; justice is greater than force; right protects the weak; every man and every people has a right to dispose of his own. These mottoes are opposed to those of Germany.

France Fights for Honor.

"I have lately reread the yellow book and have been struck by the fact that not once during the course of the negotiations preceding the war did France put forward the slightest claim or offer any bargain whatsoever.

"Not once did she say, 'what guarantees will you give; what will be my share.' Other powers talked; France kept silence. . . . The light has shone on two opposing systems. History has chosen—that is the first result of the year's war.

"German theories, German doctrines, and German morality are irreparably lost. They appear now for what they are, and themselves have demonstrated what they are: Frightful materialistic heresies. First of all we have saved the truth.

Germany's Present Position.

"Now it is the turn of justice and of right. Already Germany, by the failure of her campaign of conquest, overwhelmed by the immense losses which are draining her, conscious of the utter ruin which grips her, seeks to escape the consequences of her own theories and would be content with the white peace of a stalemate—counting herself well off to be able to preserve herself for the future.

"But not even this negative result will she obtain. The two theories of life are radically opposed. One or the other must succumb. Following in the wake of the German doctrine, German force now likewise is on the decline. One more effort though it require another year, and both will be cast into the abyss."

Stabbed at a Baseball Game.

John Brady, 748 West Fifty-third street, was probably fatally stabbed yesterday by John Connors, 827 Johns place, at a baseball game at West Twenty-first and South Morgan streets.

Health and Happiness Here.

The pictures tell the story.

Nine year old Anna discovers that the birdies whose growth she had been watching with great interest have flown the nest.

A costume playlet is presented by the children themselves.

The twins, Robert and Marjorie, who have passed just eight months in this busy world, gurgle and sputter at the fitting birds and scampering ground squirrels.

These are just a few of the hundreds of happy ones in the camp at Algonquin where THE TRIBUNE hospital is located.

You who in automobile or on street car or elevated train rode through parts of Chicago's slums yesterday, contrast what you saw to what you see in the pictures. Think of the thousands of children hanging over windowsills and perched on fire escapes starving for fresh air.

"The children of Chicago seem to be in greater need this year than ever before," said Dr. F. J. Maha, who watches over THE TRIBUNE youngsters. "More of them are in actual want. It is wonderful what only a few days at the camp here will do for them."

GIRLS, NO USE TO SMILE AT "YELLOW TAXI" MEN.

Chauffeurs Will All Be Married Men, Beginning Today, Bachelors Being Found Faulty.

The men who drive the fifty "yellow taxis" which will appear on the streets of Chicago at noon today—and also the men who will drive the other hundreds of similar cars expected to be in operation soon—will have no bachelors among them.

John Hertz, superintendent of the Shaw Taxicab company, stockholders of which control the new Yellow Cab company, has decided the ideal taxi driver must be married.

The bachelor, Hertz thinks, is much more likely to temptations from convivial "fares." Besides there are other advantages, he points out. Here are some ways in which Mr. Hertz has learned through experience the benedick of the wheel excels:

He is not dazzled or lured by the bright lights, but sticks to his cab.

He is a person of responsibility and therefore more careful of his job, his cab, and his patron.

For the benefit of the married chauffeurs the company has arranged a profit sharing scheme.

3 YANKEES DIED ON IBERIAN.

Official List of Casualties Due to German Shells Also Includes Three Englishmen.

QUEENSTOWN, Aug. 2, 1 a. m.—The official list of the dead of the British steamer Iberian, shelled by a German submarine, accounts for six men—three Americans and three Englishmen.

The Americans were Mark Wileys of Boston, John Carroll, and —— Sheridan; Englishmen, Proudfoot, Appleby, and O'Keefe.

Ellis Avenue Home Robbed.

Thomas Brennan, 4642 Ellis avenue, reported to the police yesterday that his house had been entered by burglars Saturday when he was away, and two diamond rings, a pearl brooch, and other jewelry valued at $175, and silverware, valued at $100, were taken, Mr. Brennan said.

HULIT GETS CITY JOB AS GIFT FROM MAYOR.

Andrew May Not Have Any Time Now to Promote World Fairs and the Like.

The good cause of world's fairs will have to get along without the valiant service of Andrew B. Hulit, who's just got an $1,800 a year inspectorship in the city law department from Mayor Thompson's plum tree.

McKenzie Cleland, former Municipal court judge, is bemoaning the fact that he will lose the promoting experience of Mr. Hulit, who was to have helped Attorney Cleland in the organization of Mr. Cleland's Chicago Volunteer Home Guards.

"I have heard a great many vague charges against Mr. Hulit, as, for instance, that his previous exposition projects fell down because he used the names of some business men without their consent," said Mr. Cleland, "but I have yet to hear of one concrete charge of wrongdoing."

Noncontraband Imports.

In June the United States received from Germany goods valued at $3,100,000. From Austria-Hungary its imports were $450,000, and from Turkey $190,000.

ALLIES CANNOT EXHAUST KAISER WITH BLOCKADE

Secretary of Treasury Shows Resources of Germany Are Inexhaustible.

BERLIN, via London, Aug. 1.—Dr. Karl Helfferich, secretary of the imperial treasury, has prepared for the Associated Press a signed statement on German economic and financial affairs as he views them at the end of the first year of war. His statement follows:

"The economic and financial features of the first year of the war are, in my opinion, the following:

"First—The British starvation war has failed. Once and for all it has been proved that our domestic production of foodstuffs, bread card system, and maximum prices assure even to the poorest the necessary supply of food and that at prices lower than prevailing in Great Britain.

"Second—Nor can we be 'starved out' in raw materials. The difficulties cast in the way of the importation of raw materials, in violation of international law, are unpleasant for us, but are not fatal.

Coal and Iron Plentiful.

"We have in our own country an ample supply of the most important raw materials—coal and iron—and of others we have on hand, unmanufactured or manufactured, great supplies which, with the economical employment thereof insured by our methods of organization, are virtually inexhaustible.

"Third—The specter of unemployment has been banished. There is more work than workers. The war has proved itself to be a greater employer of labor than our export trade was.

"Fourth—So far as finances are concerned Germany can carry the war through for an unlimited time. We produce in our country practically everything needed for war. Thus expenditures for war purposes resolve themselves into savings. These are at the empire's disposition, as payments on the war loans and deposits are flowing into the banks and savings institutions more plentifully than in times of peace.

More Bank Deposits.

"The total of deposits today, after over $3,000,000,000 has been paid on war loans, is higher than at the outbreak of the war. The gold reserve of the Reichsbank has almost doubled since the war began. Notes and deposits in the Reichsbank covered by gold are 33½ per cent, as compared with 26.7 per cent in the Bank of France and 21.7 in the Bank of England.

"Fifth—The confidence of the German people in our financial strength is as unbounded as their confidence in our military superiority.

"Work, skill, discipline, organization, economy, and, last, but not least, the categorical imperative of patriotism, have upheld Germany in the first year against world enemies, and will help us further to win the war."

Hold 135,000 Square Miles.

BERLIN, Aug. 1, by Wireless to Sayville, N. Y.—Reviewing the first year of the war, the Berlin newspapers point out that the territory of the central powers is free from invaders except for small strips in Alsace and Galicia, while the German armies in the west occupy 35,335 square miles, including Belgium and the most valuable part of France.

In addition to this territory, the Austro-German allies occupy 100,000 square miles in the east.

France Sure of Victory.

PARIS, Aug. 1.—The morning papers of this city generally print reviews of the first year of the war, with statements from prominent men. The Petit Parisien quotes Rene Viviani, the French premier, as follows:

"One year has rolled away since the day when, on a nation devoted to peace, which with its allies had made every effort to maintain peace, Germany and Austria loosed war. Never have the virtues of our race appeared nobler and more solid. Still other virtues, which previously had not been accorded us, have evoked the admiration of the world. By these virtues—enthusiasm, endurance, patience, and spirit—victory is assured our heroic army and its chiefs."

RACE RIOT STIRS DETROIT; TO PROTECT WHITE WOMAN.

Twenty-five Negroes Rush to Protect Black Robber; Three Persons Hurt, Five Arrests.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 1.—[Special]—One man was shot and a woman and two men were stabbed in a fierce race riot in Hastings street this evening. Five arrests were made.

Two negroes approached a woman alighting from a car and cut the strings that held the handbag over her arm. The negroes fled, pursued by a crowd. One took refuge in a car. The trolley pole was lowered, and the crowd surrounded the car.

Bricks, sticks, and stones were hurled at the car, and the passengers hurried out. Standing alone in the car, the negro stabbed Max Reisman, who attempted to remove him.

Then reinforcements of twenty-five negroes hurled themselves on the whites. They scattered and fled down Hastings street. The yelling negroes pursued them with knives and revolvers until stopped by the police.

Got a Job for Saver of 6 Lives?

John J. O'Connor, director of the central division of the Red Cross, appealed to employers yesterday to give work to a man who saved six persons shortly after the Eastland turned over. He refused to give out the man's name.

According to Mr. O'Connor, the man was out of work for six months. He is the sole support of a large family. He was passing the Clark street bridge the morning of the disaster, seeking employment.

When the big steamer hurled its human cargo into the water this man forgot all about the work he had come in search of. Throwing off his coat, he dived into the river, and was soon returning to shore with a woman. He repeated this performance five times during the next few minutes.

"He is one of the many unrewarded heroes," said Mr. O'Connor. "He saved two women, a baby, and three men. He was exhausted when he came to the dock with the last body. No dry clothing could be procured, and he contracted a cold. He has just recovered. Poverty is staring him in the face."

FATHER P. J. O'CALLAGHAN PREACHES HIS FAREWELL.

Retiring Pastor of St. Mary's and Head of Paulist Fathers Will Go East Next Saturday.

Chicago yesterday heard the last sermon by the Rev. Peter J. O'Callaghan as pastor of St. Mary's church and superior of the Chicago Paulist Fathers.

He will go east next Saturday. His destination he is keeping secret, as he is not permitted to make public the name of his next post.

The Very Rev. John J. Hughes of New York, superior general of the Paulist order, has appointed in his stead for the Chicago post the Rev. Thomas F. Burke of Toronto, Ont.

Father O'Callaghan has served in Chicago for four terms, or twelve years. In his farewell sermon he voiced his feelings of regret in being compelled to leave his parish.

"The great kindness I have received both from the parishioners of old St. Mary's and from the citizens of Chicago make my going very painful to me," he said. "The years have been filled with experiences such as it has been the privilege of few to have. The joys and sorrows of men have intermingled; their follies and tragedies have crowded one upon another; every day has seemed full and overflowing with human trials and human hopes."

DISSEMINATING MISINFORMATION.

One of the Democratic representatives who may be expected to back the errors of Chairman Hay in military matters unless his constituents get after him is Representative Ralph Moss of the Fifth Indiana district. Representative Moss seems to be a mine of misinformation, which he gave forth liberally at a Spanish war veteran picnic. That there seems to have been no one of these veterans who challenged his statements does not speak well for the organization, and we advise the Terre Haute Star, which published the address, to do a little educating of Mr. Moss' constituency.

Representative Moss, says the Star, "quoted from the record of appropriations by congress for the army and navy, showing the large increase in expenditures in both arms of the country's defense, bearing out the thought that in both branches the United States is amply prepared to defend its people from attack and invasion."

This line is going to be followed by Hay and his supporters. A Spanish war veteran should have reminded the Indiana statesman that we were spending millions on the army and navy when we shamefully boggled that relatively minor military enterprise.

Moss informed his hearers that England, with the largest navy in the world, could not convoy a force of more than 40,000 men to invade this country, and against this, he declared, we have a standing army of 100,000 regulars, a national guard of 40,000, and "back of that a reserve army of Spanish war veterans and trained students from our colleges and universities of at least half a million more."

A member of congress capable of making a series of misstatements at such a time is unfit to represent any intelligent, patriotic community. The assertion about the invading force is worthless. As soon as England's overwhelming navy had overcome ours she could send soldiers over indefinitely. The assertion that against this force we could bring a standing army of 100,000 men is either inexcusable ignorance or still more discreditable intent. The total number of enlisted men authorized in our standing army, including Philippine scouts, is 91,402, plus 4,935 officers. Of this force, the mobile army, or that part of our standing army available to meet an invader, is less than 35,000 men. The number of the national guard fit to be put into the field after some preliminary hardening is variously estimated, but if it be taken to be as much as 40,000 men our total defense force would be 75,000 men. The reference to veterans of the Spanish war and reserves of officers for half a million men is a joke. It takes time to organize and equip even "veterans," and as for the reserve of officers it is one of the most notorious facts that it does not exist and that the lack constitutes one of the most serious phases of our unpreparedness. The invading force we must expect in case of war with a first rank power may be variously estimated, but by no competent judge as less than 100,000.

In case of war we should have men like Representative Moss howling against the army and navy and the departments when the inevitable results of our unpreparedness began to be registered in terrible defeat and humiliation. But justice would be served if they were put into the first line of battle and made to pay the full penalty for their part in the national disaster.

Meanwhile Representative Moss' address shows how much education in even rudimentary facts and principles is necessary if we are to get any intelligent action from the body in which he and many of his like have a vote.

RAILROAD REGULATION.

It is asking too much of the railroad managers to demand the most efficient service at the lowest costs and at the same time to hamper them with multifarious and conflicting laws, which injure their credit and impair their results without any economic return to the public welfare. As Mr. Alfred P. Thom, general counsel of the Southern railway, has indicated, it takes only one state through which a railroad operates to destroy credit, but all of them combined to establish it. He sums up some of the results of various state legislative enactments as follows:

"Thus three states have passed laws making it illegal for a carrier having repair shops in the state to send any of its equipment, which it is possible to repair there, out of the state for repairs; fifteen states have attempted to secure preferred treatment of their state traffic, either by heavy penalties for delays or by prescribing a minimum movement of freight cars, some of them requiring a minimum movement of fifty miles per day, one of these states imposing a fine of $10 per hour for the forbidden delay; twenty states have hours of service laws varying from ten to sixteen hours, twenty states have full crews laws; twenty-eight states have headlight laws with varying requirements as to the character of the lights, and fourteen states have safety appliance acts."

The residuum of unused power vested by the commerce clause in congress is considerable and should be employed to bring more justice, order, and consistency to the public regulation of railroads. Regulation should be more constructive and helpful, less restrictive and punitive. Its purpose should be to harmonize and increase the efficiency of our system of transportation, and this seems to be more the policy of the commission as time goes on. Regulation which is preoccupied with checking rates is certain to slight considerations of equal or even greater importance to the public. The commerce commission exists for the benefit not merely of the shipper but of the whole nation which supports it, including the railroads themselves, and the latter should find in it so far as their legitimate interests and especially their efficiency, are concerned, their best and strongest support.

This country cannot be prosperous lacking an efficient system of transportation, and an efficient system cannot be had without an ample command of capital, which is dependent upon a confidence among investors that regulation means justice to them as certainly and ungrudgingly as to shipper and consumer. Nor can we have efficiency in transportation unless regulation is consistent, unified, and free from incompatible exactions. Transportation in the twentieth century is national. Its regulation should be national. It should be made so as fully as possible and as soon as possible.

INTERVENTION IN HAITI.

Perhaps no people's history has been more bloody and hopeless than that of Haiti. Presidents, dictators, and upstart kings have risen to rule over this petty state, to rule by the sword and to die by the sword. Ferocious violence, tyranny, and corruption have marked and still mark the annals of the country. Rulers hardly last over night and more than a century of so-called constitutional government leaves the people as unfit for self-rule, apparently, as ever.

All this, perhaps, is in one sense none of our affair. We are not pledged to make other peoples virtuous or wise, although there are some Americans who seem to believe that such is our mission. But from the viewpoint of national security and intelligent self-interest the incurable turbulence of Haiti is our affair. It is certain to involve us in grave complications and it is in the meantime an unremitting care. We have just paid two good American lives in the irksome but necessary performance of our international responsibility. We may have to pay many more before the present revolt has lost its force.

Where is the wisdom of the infirm compromise we call our policy in Central America and the Caribbean? If we consider our own security, the legitimate safeguarding of our interests, or, for that matter, if we consider the welfare of the mass of the peoples concerned, now exploited, degraded, and oppressed by their native rulers, we shall proceed to develop and vigorously to enforce a thorough policy of control. Spasmodic and belated police work and a policy of conciliation and drift gain us neither security nor respect.

We ought not to content ourselves with quieting the present trouble in Haiti. We ought to face the fact of her incorrigibility and establish an adequate supervision over the island conditions. If a treaty on the lines of the Santo Domingo treaty is sufficient we might adopt that course, which seems to have been fairly satisfactory. If this is not a thorough, safe plan we ought to see to it that we take whatever measures are necessary to insure peace and assist humane progress in this semi-barbarous nation and to protect our own interest and security. Military intervention apparently is needed at once, but, having accomplished it, we should see to it that we get the full benefit of our efforts.

If vigorous and thoroughgoing action is taken in Haiti the effect will be beneficial as a sedative throughout Central America.

THE YEAR IN STOCKS.

Encouraging as the gains are in the "war stocks" during the last year from a business standpoint, they are no more encouraging and certainly not so fundamental as the increases scored by the railroads and the great majority of the industrials that have not been inflated by huge war orders. If the rise in Bethlehem Steel of 227 points is significant of the wealth that has been thrust upon the country following the war, the rise of eight points in American Sugar, of seven in American Telephone and Telegraph, of ten in the Atchison, of twelve in Consolidated Gas, of fifteen in Union Pacific, of twelve in Western Maryland, and of fourteen in Woolworth are also significant. The analysis printed in Saturday's TRIBUNE, showing the changes during the year, emphasizes the emergency strength of the American position. Whatever extreme fluctuations there have been were in the "war stocks." The regular industrials have tended to a healthy and gradual movement upwards.

The steel, copper, locomotive, automobile, and munition making stocks have risen because the French, English, and Russian governments have emptied their treasuries buying American goods. But the railroads and the industrials, represented by such a wide range as Woolworth and Consolidated Gas, show gains because of fundamental domestic conditions. Business is better placed in public opinion and the railroads in particular seem to have better days ahead of them. In the analysis of about 150 leading stocks, losses are shown in only four or five instances. Practically all registered gains, some trifling, but many substantial despite the derangement of a world war.

It is by no means yet time for Americans to congratulate themselves. The war is not over. But so far the widespread disaster and financial collapse that was so freely predicted at the outbreak of the war has failed to come true.

Editorial of the Day.

OFFICERS' PAY.

[From the Boston Advertiser.]

A man who has had some years of experience in the national guard admits frankly the great need of experienced officers, but he points out as a reason a condition which has never yet received much attention. In a good many states, he says, the man on an average salary cannot afford to be an officer. The expenses which go with such a position are beyond the average young man who is just beginning life and who has the salary which usually goes to such a beginner. A young man of a fairly large income can pay for his rather expensive uniform and "chip in" for his share of various official functions which officers are expected to have during the course of a year; but the poor young man cannot afford it. Of course the states should pay their militia officers enough of a salary to recompense them for the many months of study and training required to win a commission. The little extra expense involved is not worth considering in view of the importance which trained and intelligent officers must play in the matter of the efficiency of any army of national defense.

Visited Le Ray Mansion.—Irving Bacheller, the novelist, was in Carthage yesterday the guest of W. B. Van Allen and made a visit to the Le Ray mansion there. The Le Ray mansion is mentioned in several of Mr. Bacheller's novels, and especially in Dri and I. This is Mr. Bacheller's first visit to the Le Ray mansion. It has been his desire for a number of years to visit this mansion. While at the mansion Mr. Bacheller deposited an autograph copy of Dri and I.

Speaking of Listing to Port—

Sir: Correspondent Louis E. Browne writes that one of the British battleships performed a unique and daring maneuver at the entrance to the Dardanelles. To give her big guns the range of a howitzer the captain opened the sea-valves, taking in water into the double bottom compartments until the vessel tilted more than 15 degrees and it was impossible to stand upon the deck. The desired elevation was thus obtained and a broadside was fired upon the hidden fortification. It may be inferred that the battleship had a keel and that the captain knew his ship. J. T. B.

OUR laconic contrib, Padded Hammer, bets that we'll fall for the palmbeach suit eventually, and offers, if he loses, to attend a Chaplin m. p. show and watch the entire act. But that were a cruel and unusual affliction to a person of refinement, such as we esteem Mr. Hammer to be, so we decline the wager.

SURELY SOMETHING OUGHT TO BE.

[From the Fort Frances, Ont., Standard.]

UNFAMILIAR QUOTATIONS.

(Charles Whibley.)

IN brief, all passes save the imaginings of Art. The politics which today seem the last thought of wisdom and beneficence, go out forgotten into the night. The Constitutions designed to bring perpetual prosperity upon suffering States, survive only as curiosities in a text-book. The eloquence which hushed the Senate is lost like the rustling of leaves in the treetop. A word, a colour, a melody, as they bring a purer delight, so they live longer than the tangled policies of tyranny or revolution. And I verily believe that the discovery of Sappho's nine books of poems would more surely increase the sum of human happiness than the wisest act of Parliament which ever could be added to the Statute-book.

How to Keep Well. By Dr. W. A. Evans.

Questions pertinent to hygiene, sanitation, and prevention of disease, if matters of general interest, will be answered in this column. Where space will not permit or the subject is not suitable, letters will be personally answered, subject to proper limitations and where a stamped, addressed envelope is inclosed. Dr. Evans will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases. Requests for such service cannot be answered.

[Copyright: 1915: By Dr. W. A. Evans.]

A VALUATION OF THE DIFFERENT METHODS EMPLOYED AGAINST FLIES.

THAT flies spread disease and that they are otherwise a source of harm, as well as a nuisance, is assumed to be generally accepted. Furthermore, it is assumed that people pestered by flies are willing to go to some expense and trouble to get rid of them. The questions are: What are the methods for ending the fly nuisance; what is the efficacy of each, and what are the limitations to the applicability of the different methods?

It is assumed that every person wishes to get rid of flies, at least as an intellectual impulse. Further, that he wants to make use of the method which best suits his position, his needs, equipment, and general placing.

The most effective method of controlling flies is by preventing fly breeding. As a rule, to which there are exceptions, this means that no collection of moist manure is to be left accessible to flies for as long as a week during hot weather. Fly eggs and larvæ live for a week in hot weather in moist manure. Therefore, if manure be hauled away and spread oftener than once a week, it will not breed flies. The advantage of a daily removal is that it means no manure boxes, manure pits, or manure piles, and practical experience proves that, give a stable an inch and it takes an ell.

The only places of which I know that have entirely conquered the fly nuisance remove manure daily. The only manure receptacles are small and portable.

If prompt removal is not possible, the next most effective procedure is treatment by chemicals. The methods of treatment advised by authorities are with borax, or colemanite, or sulphate of iron.

If the amount of manure is small and a good deal of ground is available, spreading in thin layers on the ground at intervals of three days or less is feasible as well as efficient.

As a method of controlling the fly nuisance a proper system of manure disposal is more important than all other measures combined. Next in importance is a method of garbage collection and disposal. As between these, collection is much the more important. Garbage should be drained, wrapped in paper, and collected in a flyproof metal pail. The pail should be washed at intervals with lye soap and water and then sponged with kerosene in water.

To keep flies out of a house in hot, dry weather the most valuable procedure is cleanliness. Flies will not remain in a clean house in warm, dry weather. A clean garbage pail is the most important item of fly preventive household cleanliness. On a cold day or during rainy weather no amount of cleanliness will make a house fly free. Therefore, unless the manure and garbage situation has been solved, screens are a necessity. A few flies will get into the best screened house.

For the clean, well screened house the only additional measure required is fly swatting. For a butcher shop or grocery store, however clean it may be and however well screened, fly trapping and fly poisoning are required. Such places should have Hodge fly traps on their garbage cans and scrap cans. Elsewhere around the store and in the yard ordinary fly traps should be used.

Ordinary drug stores, well screened and kept clean, need something in between swatters and traps. For them flypaper is very well adapted. Sticky flypaper of one sort or another is best. Formalin fly mixtures are only effective in premises that are so dry that the fly has no drinking water except that which is poisoned.

CLEANLINESS 'WORMS' FOE.

N. O. W. writes: "About what percentage of people between the ages of 30 and 40 have worms? I enjoy eating roasted peanuts, skins and all. Are the skins in any way harmful? Is it safe for one who thinks it fairly likely that he would be benefited by taking tablets of desiccated thyroid glands to do so without consulting a physician and to continue to take them or not according to their effect after a few weeks' test? What is the most probable cause of a school of quasi-blisters that recur each summer on the sole of the right foot of a man of 35 who is on his feet very little, but who has a slight nephritis and a slight heart murmur? The first summer these blisters were somewhat large and, if opened, exuded a sticky, yellowish fluid. Itching practically nil. This year they started several weeks before warm weather."

REPLY.

1. Much depends on the standard of cleanliness. Stiles and Garrison found that 10.1 per cent of the inmates of an insane asylum had intestinal parasites of some form. In 1914 the Panama canal zone laboratory examined the movements of employés (in the main, young men) for intestinal parasites, 9,189 times. In 3,414 parasites were found. Tapeworm was found twice, ordinary threadworm twice, round worm 368 times. Hookworms and whipworm led in frequency.
2. No.
3. It is not advisable.
4. Neither nephritis nor heart murmur is responsible for this condition. The tendency to have blisters on the soles of the feet and in the palms of the hands in summer is a well recognized condition. The sweat glands are at fault.

LA MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

[Copyright: 1915: By the Brentwood Co.]

DR. ELLA SCARLETT-SYNGE, who sailed the day before yesterday for Messina on board the steamship America after a week spent in New York, bound for Serbia on Red Cross work intent, is half American. Her mother, the late Lady Abinger, who died last winter, was the daughter of Commodore G. A. Magruder of the United States navy.

The late Lady Abinger was the wife of Gen. Lord Abinger, the third peer of his line. Her son, the fourth baron, was unmarried, and when he died in 1904 he left all the property at his disposal to his American mother, even granting her Inverlochy castle and the famous Inverlochy deer forest in Scotland for her life, with a proviso that it should go to his cousin and successor in the peerage on her death. The remainder of her fortune went to her daughters, three in number, the best known of them being Dr. Synge.

The Hon. Ella is a very remarkable young woman. A bright eyed little brunette and, like most small women, full of go and pluck, she, after having taken degrees in medicine in London, Paris, and Brussels, accepted the appointment of physician to the empress and princesses of Corea, from which country she brought home to the Natural History museum in London a number of valuable zoological and ornithological specimens which had fallen to her gun, including the pelts of two superb snow tigers.

The Boer war caused her to throw up her appointment in Corea, although it is said that her discovery that it was customary in the event of one of the imperial patients dying to put all the attending physicians to death, so as to furnish the illustrious patients with a medical escort into the other world, contributed to hasten her departure.

She did excellent service in the ambulances throughout the South African campaign fifteen years ago, and while thus engaged fell in love with a young officer of the name of Percy Hamilton Synge, whom, on the restoration of peace, she married, and settled in British Columbia, at Vancouver.

Since the beginning of the present war she has been busy organizing the women's volunteer reserve of Canada, the object of which is to liberate every man for the firing line, the reserves in question being divided into seven units—for field telephone laying, for field oven construction, camp cooking and bread making, for signaling, for dispatch riders, for expert telegraphers, for interpreters, and for the Red Cross, one feature of which is stretcher work.

The fortunes of the family of Scarlett, of which the present Lord Abinger is the head, and to which the Hon. Ella Scarlett-Synge belongs by birth, were founded by Robert Scarlett, a Jamaica planter who acquired great wealth in the West Indies.

His son James was a celebrated lawyer, who was raised to the peerage as Lord Abinger on his elevation to the bench as lord chief baron of the Court of the Exchequer.

A grandnicle of the present Lord Abinger, and also of the Hon. Ella Scarlett-Synge, was Gen. Sir James Scarlett, leader of the charge of the heavy brigade at Balaclava.

Lord Kilmorey's death creates a vacancy in the ranks of the twenty-eight representative peers of Ireland, in the upper chamber of the imperial legislature at Westminster, who are elected by their fellow peers of Ireland for life, and also places a ribbon and star of the Order of St. Patrick at the disposal of King George.

The late earl, whose name is pronounced as if written "Kilmurry," is succeeded in his honors and estates by his eldest son, hitherto known as Viscount Newry and Morne, who is now serving at the front in France as a captain of the First Regiment of Life Guards, and who, still a bachelor, enjoys the distinction of having been engaged a greater number of times than any other member of the British peerage.

Among those to whom he has plighted his troth in vain have been Miss Enid Duff Assheton-Smith, one of the greatest heiresses of her day, and Miss Lulu Pfizer, daughter of Charles Pfizer of New York and Newport. He is a very popular and amusing Irishman, with plenty of good looks, Hibernian wit and humor, and a talent for dancing and for telling the drollest of Irish stories in the most intimitable manner; also a gallant officer.

If Lord Kilmorey still remains unwedded it is because he has been until now far from rich, and because his father, who owned some 44,000 acres in Ireland, and over 200,000 acres in England, was so unsuccessful in many of his mining ventures, and was unfortunate in most of his investments. In fact, the late earl was frequently in the toils of the law in connection with suits brought against him by shareholders in mining companies of which he was a director, and which had come to grief, and was also in the closing years of his life repeatedly proceeded against by London usurers, on notes which he had signed in order to obtain money at extortionate rates of interest.

"Kilkie," the nickname by which the late earl was known, was quite as unlucky in his theatrical ventures, and "The Danischeffa," which he helped not only to write, but also to produce, was just as unfortunate an enterprise as his ownership of the St. James' end of the Globe theaters in London.

In spite of all this, he fancied himself a clever business man, and about a decade ago started a scheme to provide the Australian city of Adelaide with a new harbor. Owing to difficulties made for the scheme by the legislature of South Australia, he denounced that body with such vigor for its failure to prefer the interests of British capitalists to those of the colony that the South Australian parliament passed a vote summoning the earl to the bar of its house on charges of breach of privilege, by attacking it.

The matter was eventually compromised and buried by a parliamentary committee, and thus the world was deprived of the spectacle of a British peer of the realm committed for contempt by a colonial legislature. But naturally Lord Kilmorey's attitude towards South Australian politicians, and his attacks upon the legislature, were not calculated to promote the interests of the Adelaide dock enterprise, and the earl was jettisoned by his associates in the undertaking, as soon as possible.

The late Lord Kilmorey's first acquaintance with Australia was formed when, as a member of the household of King Edward VII.'s sailor brother, the late Duke of Edinburgh, and of Saxe-Coburg Gotha, he accompanied that prince on his voyage to the antipodes, and he was with the duke when an attempt was made to assassinate the latter in Australia by O'Farrell.

In fact, it was Lord Kilmorey who, after seeing the wounded duke in the hands of the doctors, rescued the would-be assassin from the indignant crowd which, led by an enthusiastic American, was bent on lynching him. O'Farrell subsequently expiated his crime on the scaffold in spite of all the efforts made by the duke to obtain a commutation of his sentence.

HUSBAND AND WIFE LIABLE FOR RENT.

Chicago, July 30.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—I was ordered by my landlady to move from one of her flats, due to nonpayment of rent. While moving the landlady attempted to hold some of my personal property, but I succeeded in stopping her from doing so. My wife holds a position with a small salary and the landlady is now trying to frighten her into paying the rent. Can she legally do this, and, if so, what salary must she receive before they can garnishee her salary? Is it possible for her to bring suit against me for taking my personal property away. A SUBSCRIBER.

Your landlady has a lien on your personal effects for the payment of rent due her. Room rent is a family expense for which both the husband and wife are liable. The law exempts from garnishment the wages of a person who is at the head of a family and lives with same up to the amount of $15 a week. All above this amount is subject to garnishment. Since you are not working, your wife probably would be considered a wage earner at the head of a family, but this is questionable. If you took the property away with the knowledge and consent of the landlady she lost her lien thereon. But if you took it by force or fraud she can replevy the goods and recover them back and hold them until you pay the amount due her. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

MORTGAGE CAN BE FORECLOSED

Miami, Fla., July 29.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—Under a chattel mortgage I mortgaged a horse, then in good health, for $50, and five months later the horse died of colic. I have neither money nor horse and the mortgagee has foreclosed on me. I am not in a position to meet the payment on the mortgage, and would be pleased to have your advice respecting the matter. A. F.

The mortgage can be foreclosed and a judgment obtained against you for $50. Of course, if you haven't any money or property, the mortgagee will be unable to collect the judgment. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

NEED NOT ACCEPT DAMAGED FURNITURE.

Chicago, July 30.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—About four months ago I bought some furniture and agreed to pay on monthly installments. This furniture was in a damaged condition when delivered and at the time I demanded that the furniture be delivered either in good condition or have them refund what money I had paid them in good faith. The furniture company insists upon my meeting my monthly payments and is now trying to force me to accept the damaged furniture. Kindly advise me and oblige. K. L.

You cannot be forced to accept damaged furniture. But if the furniture you ordered is delivered to you in good condition, you are bound to accept and pay for same or subject yourself to an action for breach of your contract. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

CANNOT TAKE HOUSEHOLD GOODS.

Chicago, July 30.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—My wife left me and is now keeping house for a widower. Since leaving me she has attempted and threatened to take the furniture and beds from my home. Is she entitled to any of the furniture? W. D. B.

Your wife has no right to take any of your household goods out of your home. You probably can sue this third person for alienation of your wife's affections. If you desire to take any legal action against him, consult a competent attorney. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

WIFE LIABLE FOR EXPENSES.

Chicago, July 30.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—I am a married woman, possessed of an income equal to that of my husband, and I am anxious to know whether I am legally obligated to share in the household expenses. MRS. T.

The expenses of the family and of the education of the children shall be chargeable on the property of both husband and wife or either of them, in favor of creditors thereof, and in relation thereto they may be sued jointly or separately. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

THE PRESIDENT, RIGHT OR WRONG?

Chicago, July 31.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—On many occasions it has occurred to me that those who accept the statement that kings decide momentous affairs in Europe are unacquainted with the facts. It is my impression that, despite the United States being a republic, our president has greater power than any sovereign in Europe except the czar.

Now Decatur's celebrated toast raises the question, What is our country? Is it the president or is it what many of us think it is, the congress? If not the latter, then we must not take offense at the dictum that rulers are selected by Providence. In a five cornered presidential contest the winner may receive barely two-fifths of the entire vote. He may represent theories that are incorrect and at variance with the other three-fifths, which if put into effect might injure the country. Should such a president ignore congress and put his theories into effect must I follow him?

The attitude of our administration regarding American rights in Mexico appeared to be this: "Those Americans who went into Mexico when it was at peace and who have lost life, limb, and property there, have no right to ask aid of the United States because they took their own chances in going there." The present attitude seems to be: "Yes, it is dangerous to travel on ships of belligerents—in fact, Germany has warned us of this fact, likewise the state department has ceased to issue passports except under well established conditions; therefore Americans should travel on ships of belligerents and we will protect them." I presume the folk who say THE TRIBUNE is subsidized because of the splendid, sane and learned editorial writer who handles the editorials on the German submarine situation will say that this is special pleading.

Well, is it? Have we lost all common sense? When I think about the repeal of the Panama canal toll privileges and the reasons given by the president for the repeal and compare them with the challenging tone of the note to Germany; and when I consider that the president admits that Germany is at war fighting greater odds than history ever recorded before, and he still insists that Germany obey certain rules called international law, formulated years ago before submarine warfare was a factor to be seriously reckoned with, and when I consider that even England fails to observe international law I seriously question if I am unable to see things correctly. It seems apparent to me that, despite international law, all neutral countries today must comply with England's commands and instructions or they cannot engage in oversea commerce, and all the world knows that this is due to English navalism and nothing else.

Do not forget there are many people in the world who somehow are confident that they are correct when they say that Germany did not start this war and that it did not go into it for conquest. Let us keep our heads even if the words "Prussian militarism" seem to some to have become a synonym for something ominous. MICHAEL F. GIRTEN.

THE OSTRICH, OUR NATIONAL BIRD.

Chicago, July 31.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—None are so unwise as those who fool themselves. The best example of this is found in the ostrich, a bird both proud and strong, but when in trouble buries his head in the sand, hoping by so doing to escape. This manner of escaping trouble seems to be the attitude of many of our people during the world's present turmoil. From the beginning of history there have been wars, and might has generally prevailed. We are told of the unpreparedness of our military and navy by such authorities and students of our present condition as Congressman Gardner, Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, and Rear Admiral Fisk.

There is a source of future danger in our relations with Japan and Mexico, and all know of our critical relations with Germany, so this would seem to be the time to awaken to a proper realization of our unprepared condition, and by public opinion to bring such pressure to bear upon congress that there will be no delay in giving us at the earliest possible moment such enlargement of all requirements needed that we may once more feel secure and command the respect of all nations.

We have been shown the value of aeroplanes, submarines, and fast cruisers. Let us be second to none in our equipment with these proven instruments of safety for our defense, thus changing the sad plight we find ourselves in as a nation to one of effective preparedness. "In time of peace prepare for war" is as true today as ever, for as long as human nature exists there will be misunderstandings, complications, and danger of wars, and the better armed and trained the nation the less likely to be attacked, and if attacked the more likely to make a successful defense. Germany and China are two extreme examples of the conditions showing preparedness and unpreparedness. Which shall we choose? Or shall we continue like the ostrich to bury our head in the sand, thus hoping to escape all future trouble? E. F. LAPHAM.

"WE WHITE CHINESE."

Oklahoma City, Okla., July 29.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I am deeply grieved over your editorial, "We White Chinese." The title is objectionable. Nor do I believe that there is any justification in your reasoning, and the conclusions are very unfortunate in times like the present. Surely you will not throw aside your fairness and will not stop to use your influence for the maintenance of peace. A. D. JOHNSON.

GERMAN EFFICIENCY HERE!

Chicago, July 31.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—The efficiency of the German nation enables it, even today, to wave the flag of defiance in the face of the combined forces of Europe. Let the nation of the land of America adopt German efficiency individually and collectively, in every department of human endeavor and we shall avoid such horrors in the future as occurred in the "Eastland disaster" the other morning. I am not a pro-German.

VILLA ORDERS AMERICANS OUT OF CHIHUAHUA

Similar Action in Torreon; Jails Native Merchants; Food Trains for Capital.

Chihuahua City, Mexico, Aug. 1.—Gen. Francisco Villa has seized all stores in Chihuahua City, imprisoned all native merchants, and ordered all American merchants to leave the country. It is reported similar action occurred in Torreon.

No Americans were arrested, but all were told that if they had not left the city by midnight tonight they would be imprisoned. A special train was provided for the Americans. It should reach the border early Monday.

Villa's action is the most radical he has taken since assuming the dictatorship in northern Mexico. It followed quickly after his arrival in Chihuahua from Torreon, and was taken without warning to any of the merchants, native or foreign. American merchants were given no time to arrange their business affairs or to save any part of their belongings.

Famine has Chihuahua City in its grasp. For weeks people have been dying in large numbers from hunger and disease caused by insufficient food. Rioting has occured frequently during the last week, men, women, and children marching through the streets and storming the governor's palace.

High prices charged by merchants for food is held responsible by many of the people for the famine. Villa tonight said this would be remedied.

Trains of Food for Capital.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1.—Announcement of the reoccupation of Mexico City by Gen. Gonzales' army was followed today by a statement from Gen. Carranza's headquarters at Vera Cruz that immediate efforts would be made to send foodstuffs by rail to the starving people of the capital. The state department had no direct advices regarding the situation there.

Heavily guarded trains, it was reported, are being prepared to leave Vera Cruz with provisions to supplement those being taken into the city by the army. Washington officials are hopeful that Gen. Gonzales has left the railway line so well patrolled that the trains will get through with slight delay.

Test for Gen. Carranza.

Reopening of the railroad will furnish an important test for the effectiveness of military operations of Carranza's forces to protect means of transportation from the east coast to the capital, officials here believe. Much depends, they say, upon the success of this undertaking, because the United States government is determined to relieve the famine in Mexico City if Carranza's forces cannot do it.

Information of Carranza's plans came to his Washington agency in a message from Jesus Acuna, Carranza minister of foreign affairs, who announced also that the railroad between Queretaro and Aguascallentes, connecting Gonzales with Gen. Obregon's forces, would be reopened.

Since the announcement, officially confirmed in state department dispatches, that Gen. Gonzales drove Villa's flying column under Gen. Fierro from Pachuca, little has been heard of this southern division of Villa's army.

The Villa agency issued a statement tonight saying this column was operating in the states of Hidalgo, Vera Cruz, Puebla, and Mexico. In this case it may be able to menace the railroad to Vera Cruz.

Wilson to State Stand.

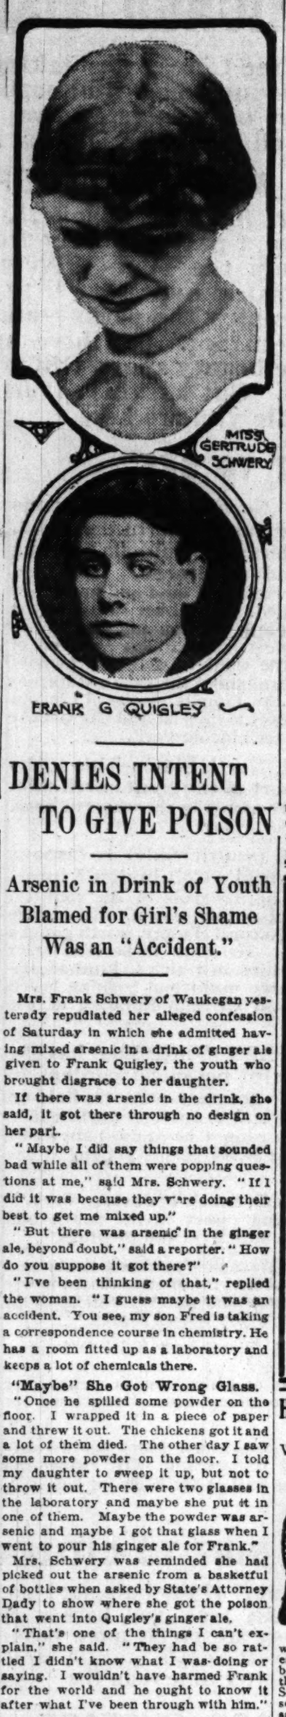

The attitude of the administration towards Mexico is expected to become more definitely known on President Wilson's return to Washington this week. Secretary of State Lansing has intimated that the president will have an important announcement to make shortly after his arrival here from Cornish. This announcement is expected to be another demand that the Mexican leaders must get together or the United States will be forced to take action.

Carranza Man to Washington.

New York, Aug. 1.—Louis Cabrera, minister of finance in the Carranza cabinet, arrived here today on the steamship Morro Castle from Vera Cruz. His mission is to arrange for the printing of paper money to the value of 250,000,000 pesos, recently authorized by the Carranza government and also to visit Washington to confer with Secretary Lansing.

Recent reports that a former member of the Madero cabinet probably would be advanced for the presidency of Mexico, as a compromise candidate, Mr. Cabrera characterized as impossible.

The Girl; the Boy in Poison Mystery.

DENIES INTENT TO GIVE POISON

Arsenic in Drink of Youth Blamed for Girl's Shame Was an "Accident."

Mrs. Frank Schwery of Waukegan yesterady repudiated her alleged confession of Saturday in which she admitted having mixed arsenic in a drink of ginger ale given to Frank Quigley, the youth who brought disgrace to her daughter.

If there was arsenic in the drink, she said, it got there through no design on her part.

"Maybe I did say things that sounded bad while all of them were popping questions at me," said Mrs. Schwery. "If I did it was because they were doing their best to get me mixed up."

"But there was arsenic in the ginger ale, beyond doubt," said a reporter. "How do you suppose it got there?"

"I've been thinking of that," replied the woman. "I guess maybe it was an accident. You see, my son Fred is taking a correspondence course in chemistry. He has a room fitted up as a laboratory and keeps a lot of chemicals there.

"Maybe" She Got Wrong Glass.

"Once he spilled some powder on the floor. I wrapped it in a piece of paper and threw it out. The chickens got it and a lot of them died. The other day I saw some more powder on the floor. I told my daughter to sweep it up, but not to throw it out. There were two glasses in the laboratory and maybe she put it in one of them. Maybe the powder was arsenic and maybe I got that glass when I went to pour his ginger ale for Frank."

Mrs. Schwery was reminded she had picked out the arsenic from a basketful of bottles when asked by State's Attorney Dady to show where she got the poison that went into Quigley's ginger ale.

"That's one of the things I can't explain," she said. "They had be so rattled I didn't know what I was doing or saying. I wouldn't have harmed Frank for the world and he ought to know it after what I've been through with him."

Buried Baby When It Didn't Cry.

Mrs. Schwery admitted she did not make sure her daughter's new born baby was dead before she buried it in the yard in the rear of her home two weeks ago.

"I just didn't hear it cry, which made me think it was dead," she said. "I didn't want my son Fred to know and I was in a hurry to get it out of the way. It wasn't until days later that I built a bonfire over the place where I buried the baby."

Dady said he did not believe Mrs. Schwery could be prosecuted successfully because of the difficulty in proving the baby was alive at the time of burial.

Quigley is still in a serious condition, but his doctor announced last night his chance for recovery is good.

$11,000, CASHIER, AND TYPIST GONE

BOTH GO TO NEW YORK.

Englewood, N. J., Aug. 1.—[Special.]—Abraham Cornelius Jr., for many years cashier of the Citizens' National bank, a married man with a family, and Miss Loretta Adelgais, an attractive young stenographer formerly employed in the bank, and $11,000 in cash from the bank's vault have been missing since Wednesday afternoon.

Goes on "Shopping" Trip.

Cornelius finished work at the bank as usual late Wednesday afternoon, and boarded a trolley for New York. One of the bank's directors sat in the same seat with him, and they chatted freely all the way. The cashier said he intended to do some shopping in the city. The director thought nothing of the incident until Friday morning, when President Blake made certain of Cornelius' disappearance and the loss of $11,000 of the bank's money.

It was then learned that the cashier had not returned from his "shopping" trip, and that neither his family nor his friends had seen him for several days.

Fair Typist Vanishes.

Meanwhile the Englewood board of trade had been trying to trace the whereabouts of Miss Adelgais, the board's stenographer. She had been employed three weeks ago at the earnest solicitation of Cornelius.

On Wednesday afternoon she asked to leave the office early, as she had an engagement in New York.

Then she sent a telegram to her mother at Rockelle Park saying the board would meet late Wednesday night and she would stay in Englewood with friends. The board had no meeting at all that night and the girl did not appear at her desk on Thursday morning. Her mother then admitted her disappearance from home.

SEEK BACK TAXES FROM BIG NORTH SHORE ESTATES

Levying Bodies Launch Attack on Properties Being Distributed.

Up on the north shore they have discovered a flaw in the axiom that dead men tell no tales.

As a result of the discovery Attorney Martin C. Decker, representing a half dozen north shore taxing bodies, will go before the board of review in Waukegan today and launch an attack on several big estates now in the course of distribution.

One of the estates is that of R. W. Sears, of the original Sears-Roebuck concern. For ten years Sears lived in the township of Warren, and paid taxes on $2,000 worth of property. But Sears' death a year ago put the authorities in possession of the most positive sort of proof he was really worth between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000.

Find Other Cases.

The Sears estate is not the only one from which Decker will attempt to recover back taxes. The taxing bodies also were astonished when death revealed to them the real wealth of Nelson A. Field of Waukegan, Stephen H. Harrington of Highland Park and Frank L. Demming, each of whom had been paying nominal taxes for years. These cases, too, have been put into Decker's hands.

Poor Millionaires.

"Some of the inventories filed in the last year or so have been a source of astonishment," said Decker.

"Of course in many cases it was known these payers of nominal property were well equipped with the world's goods.

"However, it was hard to make the assessment, as we understood they were paying big taxes in Chicago and other places where their holdings were said to be heavy.

"Now we understand it was thought in Chicago that they were paying taxes there."

Associated with Mr. Becker is Edward Shurtleff, speaker of the lower house, who recovered $83,000 back taxes from the Barber estate for McHenry county. Shurtleff and Decker represent the school district, the town board of officers and the highway commissioners in Warren township.

HEAT KILLS 8 IN QUAKER CITY

Mercury Mounts to 96 at Philadelphia, but Storm Brings Relief.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 1.—With an official temperature of 96 today, there were eight deaths due to the heat. Relief did not come to the city until the late afternoon, when a thunderstorm caused a drop of 18 degrees.

Six Die in New York.

BAPTIZE IN "RAINBOW POOL."

Tarrytown, N. Y., Aug. 1.—[Special.]—John D. Rockefeller's "rainbow pool" was used today for the ceremony when the Rev. J. Homer Nelson christened eleven children of employés on the Rockefeller estate.

JURY FOREMAN SIFTS EVIDENCE

Dr. W. A. Evans Tells of Lack of Precautions Against Listing.

TANKS BADLY WORKED.

take and flowed through one pipe. Valves were so placed that the water could be turned into any tank or kept out of any.

Common Emptying Pipe.

The water flowed in by gravity. The tanks were emptied by a pump. There was one common emptying pipe and each of the tanks connected with it. By turning appropriate valves the pump could empty any desired tank or tanks. The men in charge of these pumps, valves and cocks were the chief engineer, the second engineer, and an oiler. When the boat was noticed to be leaning toward the river the sea cock was opened and the valves were turned so that water could run into tanks 2 and 3 on the land side. The testimony as to the length of time that water was being put into these tanks was variously stated at from seven to seventeen minutes. It was testified to that the tanks should fill in from three to six minutes.

Guided by Boat's Action.

Nobody knew how much the tanks would hold. The size of the intake, known as the seacock, was given as 10 inches and as 4 inches. The engineers and helpers testified that they were guided in judging how much water to put in the tanks by the behavior of the boat. No water was put in tanks 1, 2, and 5. Tanks 2 and 3 were used habitually because they were most efficient. Nobody knew whether water could be put into tanks 1, 4, and 5. None was put into these tanks on this occasion, but nobody knew why.

The chief engineer, the second engineer, and the oiler were somewhat upset by the continued, steady, slow listing. At one time it seemed to stop going over. The engineer said that they "had her." Presumably it was noted to be going again. As they did not seem able to stop it, the oiler was sent out to see if it was hanging on the dock. Before he found out the boat tumbled over.

Couldn't Tell About Orders.

Nobody knew whether the engineer told the captain of the trouble he was in or the captain gave any orders or asked for any information from the engineer. The captain was in charge of the boat, but the engineer had charge in the engine room. The captain and engineer were on good terms. A speaking tube ran straight from the engineer's station to the captain.

The boat listed slowly until the water began to come through the openings on the river side. There was first a fair sized trickle of water through these openings. After an appreciable length of time the trickle through these openings rather abruptly changed to a surge, and over the boat went.

All engineers and helpers having to do with the ballast escaped. All of them testified they did not start to escape until the water began to run through the openings on the river side of the boat. They had a heavy run that day.

Nobody knew whether the management at St. Joseph or the captain or the engineer was responsible for the custom of beginning the load with empty tanks. Some leeway was necessary in loading. A ship in loading must have the amount of water in the different tanks changed from time to time to trim it—to keep it level as the crowd came aboard.

Some of the witnesses thought these should be called ballast tanks and some that they should be called trimming tanks.

One hundred and four tons of coal had been put aboard. Its water around sea cock valve had frozen last winter and some of its tanks had flooded. It was found that the seacock valve was broken. No other defects in the ballast apparatus were testified to.

It was testified that it would be impossible for the engines to pump water out of the tanks at the same time that water was running into them.

It was testified that it would be impossible for the engine to be pumping out the port, or river side, tanks while the land side tanks were filling. The second engineer had been on the boat two days and Oiler Erickson knew little about the ballast apparatus.

One Palpable Mistake.

A boat of the known tendency to list of the Eastland should not have been allowed to begin loading when its tanks were empty. For some reason or other no effort was made to fill tanks 1, 4, and 5. For some reason or other it was not the custom to try to fill these. In attempting to fill tanks 2 and 3 something did not work right.

Although the boat was slowly listing and everybody was uneasy, nobody closed the openings on the river side of the boat.

The responsibility certainly rested with the engineer and captain.

I could not see how the management of the corporation could be ignorant of the fact that this boat, with its record of frequent listing, customarily began loading without any water ballast. And then there was the further probability that when the boat was righted it would be found that there was some reason why tanks 1, 4, and 5 were not used, and that the reason should have been known to the officers of the corporation under whose eyes work on the ballast apparatus had been done recently.

RUSSIA CORDIAL TO U. S. VISITORS

TRADE OUTLOOK GOOD.

If you are an American tourist willing to accept the hazards of war time travel to visit foreign lands, but desirous of a friendly welcome when you get there, include Russia in your itinerary.

Ray T. Baker, secretary to American Ambassador Marye at Petrograd, brought this cheering news to Chicago yesterday when he stopped at the Blackstone hotel on his way westward, to return to Russia. Mr. Baker is the man who brought the recent letter of Czar Nicholas to President Wilson. He is a native of Nevada.

Americans Popular in Russia.

"Americans are highly popular in Russia, and find their stays there made very pleasant," said Mr. Baker. "While the rules are strict in regard to passports, the American traveler will by no means find them irksome. After crossing the frontier and arriving at St. Petersburg, the traveler will find that passports are inspected at the hotels by officials who call twice daily to keep a record of the guests. This, however, is a practice which long has been in vogue in Russia, and need give the American traveler no ground for apprehension. He will find the Russian people glad to see him, and attentive during his stay."

The American embassy at Petrograd now has a commercial attaché. Mr. Baker considers the outlook for American trade with Russia highly promising.

American Firms Get Foothold.

"A number of important American firms already have men in Russia for the purpose of laying foundations for trade," explained Mr. Baker. "There is a wonderful field there for American furniture, shoes, tools and machinery, rubber goods and other American manufactures. And the disposition of the Russian people towards American goods is very favorable, indeed."

Mr. Baker, when asked whether he is carrying a return message from President Wilson to Czar Nicholas, replied that he could not discuss any topics which might bear upon official matters. When he reaches St. Petersburg, about six weeks hence, he will have completed a trip around the globe. He plans to travel via San Francisco, Vladivostok, and the Trans-Siberian railroad.

Struck by Car; Near Death.

An unidentified man, who was struck by a street car at Eighth street and Wabash avenue Saturday night, is dying in St. Luke's hospital. His skull is fractured and he is suffering from internal injuries. The man, about 55 and shabbily dressed, had a bit of paper in his pocket on which the name G. H. McAdow was written.

The Yellow Cab

PHONE CALUMET 5900 — YELLOW CAB CO.

Watch for the Yellow Cab. It will be on the streets today. You will know it by its color and by the monogram on the door. It is painted yellow so it can be distinguished at a distance. Fifty of these dapper, up-to-date cabs will make their appearance at 5 p. m. and go into commission on the European System. The rates will be twenty-five per cent lower than the rates provided by the city ordinance. And every cab will carry a meter that is sealed by the city sealer. Overcharge is out of the question.

Every Yellow Cab will be driven by a married man who will be bonded by the Chicago Bonding Co. They will get 20% of the net profits of the company, distributed quarterly, and this gives them every inducement to become courteous and accommodating business men. The whole scheme is an effort to build up a cab system that will be honest, comfortable and efficient, and fill the quick wants of the public to the last detail.

The Yellow Cab Company will be owned and controlled by the same men who own and control the Walden W. Shaw Company. But there will be no conflict between the companies nor any system of co-operation. The Yellow Cabs will be picked up on the street and by telephone. There will be no charge accounts in connection with them. They will not be operated from private branches, but they will be stationed at the twenty-six public stations in the loop. They will call any place in the city without extra charge. In other words, you will pay only for the time that you ride in them.

The hour rate will be $2.50, the lowest hour rate in the world, so these cabs will be much used by traveling salesmen and for other commercial purposes.

THE YELLOW CAB

The Yellow Cabs will be light in construction, roomy and comfortable. They will be clean as a whistle, sanitary to a degree, subjected to careful daily inspection and have all the devices that contribute to absolute safety. The drivers will be careful of the speed ordinance, railway crossings and crowded districts, because we don't propose to put drivers on them who will not live up to the rules of the company.

The whole thing is an experiment and we are going to give Chicago the chance to choose between the Yellow Cabs and the luxurious limousines operated by the Walden W. Shaw Company. It is up to the public whether or not the experiment succeeds. If it does succeed, we will flood Chicago with Yellow Cabs. We will put them everywhere.

We are also going to install a new idea in dispatching cabs in this city. The Automatic Telephone Company will install a flash-light system for us. For example, when you call Calumet 5900, our dispatcher there lights all the lights in the district where you are. The first driver to see the light answers the call, and as soon as he lifts the receiver, all the lights on that circuit will go out, showing that the order has been filled. This means rapid service everywhere.

What we can't afford to do on these low rates is to operate charge accounts and maintain private stands with uniformed starters, and other similar expenses and conveniences which go with Shaw Cabs. What we can afford to do is to give you a prompt, high-class, absolutely safe service. We won't take your order unless we know we can fill it promptly. We won't keep you waiting or guessing.

TO CHICAGO VISITORS

You cannot see Chicago by taking a turn or two downtown. The most beautiful parts of the city are miles away—but only minutes away on the street cars. See them all before you go back home.

A 5-CENT FARE TO EVERYWHERE

You can't see a park properly from a motor car. You can see only the main driveways, which are much alike the world over.

The way to enjoy the parks—and the only way to see them—is on foot. Go there on a surface car, then walk to the beauty spots, which can be reached in no other way. Cut out this advertisement and use it as a guide while you are here.

WHAT TO SEE	HOW TO GO
LINCOLN PARK (North Side)—Here is one of the greatest zoological gardens in the world, with collections of birds and animals totaling nearly two thousand specimens. The Bird House contains an assortment of land and water fowl which is nowhere excelled. The Lion House is the best of its kind. The herds of bison and giraffes are the finest in any zoological garden. The Academy of Sciences contains 270,000 exhibits, many of them of surpassing interest. Throughout the park are statues of great men, notably the famous statue of Lincoln by St. Gaudens, the Grant Memorial and the Goethe Memorial. Be sure to see Lincoln Park.	Take Through Route 1 or Through Route 2 cars running north on Wabash Avenue; or Broadway, Bowmanville, Rosehill, Clark Street-Devon or Clark Street-Howard cars on the La Salle-Monroe-Dearborn-Randolph loop; or Through Route 22 or Wentworth-Clark cars northbound on Clark Street. Twenty-minute ride.
WILSON BEACH (North Side)—This is the popular bathing resort of the great north side. Here you can see 10,000 people in the water at once. Open evenings as well as by day.	Take Broadway car on the La Salle-Monroe-Dearborn-Randolph loop. Thirty-five-minute ride.
JACKSON PARK (South Side) is famous as the site of the World's Columbian Exposition and as one of the beauty spots of the country. It is especially beautiful at this season. Here is the great Field Museum of Natural History, worth going a thousand miles to see. Here are to be seen exact reproductions of the ships in which Columbus discovered America. A large municipal bathing beach lies in front of the old German Building of the World's Fair.	Take Cottage Grove Avenue cars, southbound on Wabash Avenue. Forty-five-minute ride.
WASHINGTON PARK (South Side) has one of the most wonderful botanical gardens in the country and the greatest athletic field in the world—400 acres devoted to outdoor sports which, for variety and volume, cannot be equaled anywhere else. Here you can see 30,000 people playing at one time.	Take Cottage Grove Avenue car, southbound on Wabash Avenue. Forty minute-ride.
MANHATTAN BEACH, South of Jackson Park, is the big, popular bathing resort of the south and southwest side. Open both days and evenings.	Take Cottage Grove Avenue car, southbound on Wabash Avenue, and transfer to eastbound 75th Street car.
GARFIELD PARK (West Side)—Here is the largest conservatory in the country, famous for its flower shows. There are an outdoor natatorium, lakes for boating, and a golf course and tennis courts.	Take Madison cars, westbound on Madison Street. Thirty-minute-ride.
HUMBOLDT PARK (Northwest Side) is famous for its wonderful flowers and conservatories. It is one of the beauty spots of Chicago with a character all its own. There are many attractions here for the children.	Take Division Street cars from the Washington-Dearborn-Randolph-State loop. Thirty-five-minute ride.
DOUGLAS PARK (Southwest Side) has an outdoor gymnasium and natatorium with swimming pools for both sexes, as well as facilities for baseball, boating and tennis.	Take Ogden Avenue cars from the corner of State and Randolph Streets. Thirty-minute-ride.

A HINT TO CITIZENS

See Chicago first. If you have not seen your own parks and bathing beaches this year, you have a delightful experience awaiting you. They are much more beautiful now than ever before. Wise "stay-at-homes" take a street-car vacation every week—and have a better time than the "resorters."

CHINESE MONEY A HODGE-PODGE OF IMAGINATION

You Imagine Something That Does Not Exist, Then Pay for Meltage.

[STAFF CORRESPONDENT OF THE TRIBUNE.]
[Copyright: 1915: By The Chicago Tribune.]

PEKING, China, July 2.—Ever since I have been by way of hearing anything at all about the Chinese I have heard that they are first class business men.

They are usually represented as shrewd at a bargain, able in handling all sorts of propositions, and scrupulous about carrying out their agreements.

I am not going to question any of those statements now, although since I have been in Peking this time several things have come to my notice which might justify such questions. This letter is to be devoted to a brief and sketchy discussion of the tael—the Chinese unit of currency for foreign and domestic commerce—but it may appear that the tael question has some bearing upon the matter of the quality of the Chinese as business men.

To begin with, the tael, although the unit of currency, is not a coin, but a weight. There is no such coin in China as the tael. There is no official token to represent the official unit of currency.

Tael Imaginary Currency.

In fact, the tael as an instrument for facilitating trade is purely imaginary. It serves, so far as I have been able to discover, but one purpose, that of benefiting the business of the banks that deal in exchange and the money changers.

Next there are many different kinds of taels. Not only are there several official kinds, but practically every important city or town in the whole country has an unofficial standard of its own which it calls a tael.

An eminent authority on the trade of China has listed as many as 170 different currencies in use in various parts of the country. That is, of course, good business for the money changers, but how about the poor devils who deal, or try to deal, in other commodities?

In theory the tael is an ounce of silver. The money of most of the people of China is cash—the brass or copper piece about the size of an English penny, which has a square hole in the center, by means of which it is strung on a cord for convenience in handling and carrying.

Cash is usually carried in hundred cash strings, but, just as there is wide variation in the value of the tael, so is there similar variation in the value of cash, and in the practice regarding the hundred cash string. For example, in one city 96 cash on a string will be accepted as 100. In another it takes 98, and in still others 102.

Theoretically, the cash has a direct relation to the tael. One tael equals ten mace; one mace equals ten candareens and one candareen equals ten cash. Thus, comparing the tael with our dollar, the cash represents our mill.

Bulk of Trade in Cash.

In by far the greater portion of China the great bulk of transactions are carried on in cash. Small purchases and laborers' wages are computed in this currency, and no other currency is used. A man traveling about the country must provide himself with a strong box of cash or get into all sorts of trouble.

It is only in theory, however, that cash has a direct relation to the tael. In actual practice the cash fluctuates in extraordinary degree. One tael may be worth as little as 800 cash or as much as 1,800.

The variation in taels is of three kinds, weight, touch, or quality of silver, and custom, which last is merely an arbitrary device for charging an additional exchange on business done in taels. The Chinese carry their silver in lumps or "shoes" called sycee. These vary in size according to the locality, and range in theoretical value from 1 to 50 taels.

The traveler going into the interior takes his reserve supply of money in sycee. He carries along a pair of scales and a cold chisel. When he needs more cash he chops off a chunk of silver from one of his sycee shoes and weighs it out. Then he bargains with the local money changer as to the weight value and the touch value, the "old custom" or conventional premium is reckoned in, and he gets his cash accordingly.

To a small extent paper of one kind and another is taking the place of sycee, and taels are transferred on native orders or the notes of one or other of the numerous banks—chiefly foreign banks—which abound in the treaty ports. Treaty port currency, however, is a subject by itself.

Money Situation in Peking.

In Peking eight or ten different taels—all imaginary as coins—have their place in the daily business. The first, and the only one that is in general use throughout the country, is the haikuan, or customs tael. All customs dues are calculated in this tael, which is a purely arbitrary unit not employed in commercial transactions of any kind.

When it comes to the actual payment of duties anywhere, that is done in the local currency. At the treaty ports it is in dollars. But the duty is first calculated in haikun taels and that sum then reduced to local currency, the man who has to pay losing by exchange on each transaction.

Banks, and some of the larger commercial houses, keep their accounts in kungfa taels. The haikuan tael is the largest. That is, it is supposed to be the biggest ounce of silver and the silver is in theory pure. The kungfa tael is slightly smaller. That is, the weight is less—the imaginary weight, of course, and the quality of the imaginary silver in it is supposed to be slightly below that in the haikuan tael.

It may be suggested by the cynically inclined that this device offers an excellent opportunity to the banks to make a little private squeeze of their own on all their transactions, but any banker will assure you that such a suggestion is pure cynicism.

However, if you take an American banker's check for $100 gold around to the different banks in Peking today—or any day that is not a holiday—you will almost certainly find that eight different banks will offer you eight different amounts for it.

Chinese Treasury Tael.

The Chinese treasury has a tael of its own, called the Kuping, in which taxes and government dues other than customs are calculated. In theory it is uniform throughout the country. The board of revenue keeps its accounts in Kuping taels. It is considerably less in value than the Haikuan, or customs tael.

When it comes to general business, that is done mostly in the local taels of the neighborhood. As Shanghai is the chief commercial port of China, the Shanghai tael is probably as widely known as any. It is still less in value than the Kuping, or treasury tael.

The Tientsin tael is a little bit higher in value than the Shanghai tael. Then there are Canton taels, and Hankow taels, and Chingping taels, and not even the Chinese know for sure how many more. But every province has its own kind, and every provincial capital has two or three kinds. It takes a local money changer to determine what a man has and how much it is worth.

Some notion of what this superfluity of units of currency means to the transaction of business in China may be gained from a theoretical transfer of 100 imaginary Kuping taels into 100 imaginary Shanghai taels. It is all a matter of bookkeeping and exchange.

A hundred Kuping taels by weight equal 101.80 Shanghai taels by weight. That is, there is in theory 1.8 per cent more silver in the 100 Kuping taels than in the 100 Shanghai taels. But, in theory, the Kuping taels are of finer silver than the Shanghai taels.

"Difference in Touch" Factor.

So when such a transfer is calculated five and a half taels are added for differences in touch, making the total 107.60.

Then comes the Shanghai convention, or "old custom," which divides this 107.60 by .98. In effect this is an arbitrary discount of 2 per cent. The result is 109.592, and now the value of 100 Kuping taels in Shanghai taels is almost found.

There is yet to be added a small charge for meltage fees, the theory being followed out to the limit, and it being imagined that the 100 Kuping taels represent actual silver that must be melted and recast into Shanghai sycee. This charge is fixed at .008, and the value of the Kuping tael is determined to be 109.60 Shanghai taels.

That kind of transaction goes on every day in every part of China and in innumerable cases. It simply means that business is paying a tremendous tax constantly to the money changers and exchange banks.

This may be an evidence that the Chinese are good bankers and good money changers, but surely they do not constitute the greater part of the business men of China.

Never Cut a Corn

Besides Being Dangerous It Cannot Be Removed Permanently by Cutting.

Corns are caused by tight, ill-fitting shoes that squeeze the flesh along the toes' sides and soles of the feet. In order to insure a permanent cure for corns you must attack the cause. Throw away those ill-fitting shoes and fit your feet with a pair of Larson's Corn Cure Shoes. If you do, your corns will soon disappear.

Larson's Corn Cure Shoes are made by a plaster paris cast system of shoe building, which is the only method possible to build shoes to fit the feet as nature intended they should be fitted.

Warning!

From the moment the organization of the Triangle Film Corporation was announced, all sorts of fantastic tales of fabulous expenditure and still more fabulous profits have been flying about.

Based chiefly on fact, these stories have, in some cases, grown into such gross exaggerations as to amount to misrepresentation.

Dealing with a subject that interests more than half the people of the United States, such exaggeration is not unnatural.

Most of the stock of the Triangle Film Corporation is held by Mr. Griffith, producer of "The Birth of a Nation"; Mr. Ince, producer of "The Battle of Gettysburg" and other big pictures of the big outdoors; Mr. Sennett, producer of "Keystone Comedies"; Messrs. Bauman & Kessel, proprietors of the New York Motion Picture Corporation, myself or others directly concerned in the management. All of this stock is deposited for two years and cannot come on sale.

The remainder has been underwritten by a syndicate which will in turn dispose of it through brokers in the open market.

While I, and the experienced and successful motion picture men who are with me in this Company, have every reason to believe the business will be highly profitable, and while it is, in our opinion, extremely likely that the stock will advance rapidly in value, there is no authority whatever for the statement that either the Company itself or any of its officers guarantees or promises dividends of given amount or within a stated time.

Any business yielding such amazing profits as this business yields is subject to great risks.

It is not the type of investment for the man who cannot afford the chance of loss.

The total capital is $5,000,000—all common stock, par value $5.

No matter how great nor how prompt his dividends, a stockholder is not satisfied if he has been led to expect something greater or quicker.

So—

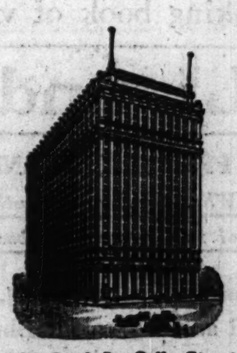

While I believe this venture will be even more profitable than any of my earlier ones, I am making no definite predictions as to date or amount. And no one else has any authority to make them—

I want satisfied stockholders—

FLICKERINGS from FILM LAND

By KITTY KELLY

Two Loop Houses Taken by Triangle.

PROMISES by the Triangle Film corporation, recently formed by rebellious Mutualers, to give Chicagoans a chance to see its productions in two loop playhouses have been fulfilled.

The Studebaker and the Colonial have been taken over by the Griffith-Ince-Sennett combine, and Chicagoans soon will have the opportunity to see if the much heralded Triangle program fulfills its sponsors' predictions.

The advent of the new corporation into the local field also marks the retirement of two playhouses from the Jones, Linick & Schaeffer list of theaters. The Studebaker will be a permanent Triangle stronghold, opening about Sept. 6, it is understood. At that time the J., L. & S. flag will be hauled down and the Metro program now being given will be discontinued.

At the Colonial a different arrangement will be in effect. There "The Birth of a Nation" will flip over from the Illinois on Aug. 23. It will run as long as Chicago takes enough interest to make it pay D. W. Griffith to keep it there. Film folk think this will be until about Dec. 1. At that date the $2 schedule will drop back to the present popular prices and Jones, Linick & Schaeffer will resume management with either vaudeville or feature pictures.

Another Film Row.

Along comes a note from Henry McRae Webster, director (or is it ex-director?) for the United Photo-Plays company, who has been at work with Gerda Holmes and Wilmuth Merkyl producing a five part feature picture, "The Victory of Virtue," announcing himself as at liberty with his company to make any production ordered by anybody. He explains also that he has made arrangements by which, if he wishes, he may take over the studios recently built at 2332 North California avenue.

Then along close on the heels of that comes a note from the United Photo-Plays company remarking firmly that Mr. Webster has not ceased relations with said company, since he is under a contract until Jan. 1 which can be canceled only by death or mutual agreement. The United Photo-Plays company express no intention either of material dissolution or of amicable relinquishment. So, once again, there y'are.

THESE and many more contribute to the contents of the six reels, elaborated into a story out of the inspiration somebody's mind drew from the words of the old song, "Silver Threads Among the Gold."

Maybe it is not quite so bad, and on Saturday afternoon a number of people laughed heartily—but, of course, there are two kinds of laughter and this is not a comedy.

It has in it a great many things besides people. There are crystallizations of many situations familiar from long usage.

Mr. Jose sings his ballads as per schedule, and the regular musical accompaniment for the whole picture comes from a piano and violin.

Juvenile Benefit Nets $600.

The juvenile benefit at Orchestra hall on Saturday morning was a big occasion for the little folks. A lot of them were present, to an extent that brought in nearly $600 for the Eastland fund.

UNDER TWO FLAGS [Biograph] — Two scenes showing men in alleged Jewish mannerisms grossly exaggerated; man doping horse.

says Antoinette Donnelly

[Copyright: 1915: By Antoinette Donnelly.]

I CANNOT help feeling a personal joy in the resurrection of the befounced and berumfled petticoat from the ashes of the hobble skirt. It is nothing if not feminine—and it is dainty. In the summing up of a pretty woman femininity and daintiness are extremely important virtues.

You don't have to have the wisdom of a Solomon to realize that the women who attract are the women who cultivate feminine fluffiness. "She's such a dainty girl!" Isn't that just about the nicest thing you can have said about you?

Well, you don't earn that desirable opinion without a little effort on your part, and perhaps a little sacrifice in another direction. The effort is that of eternal vigilance as far as cleanliness is concerned. And the sacrifice may mean giving up a pet extravagance for that of purchasing dainty lingerie ribbons and laces. Or, if you are married, it may mean giving up a little of the housekeeping money to invest in a dainty boudoir cap or dainty nightie or combination.

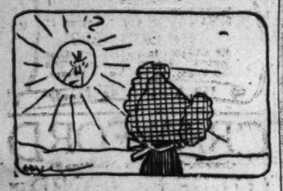

So many married women seem to think that "practical and useful" are the two desirable things to bear in mind when buying or making boudoir articles. Without any idea in mind of encouraging extravagance, I certainly advise every woman with a little spare cash or even the woman who hasn't any—a dollar or two, out of the housekeeping money will do as well—to invest in those dainty little side lines of beauty such as silk stockings, dainty corset covers, and so forth. The boot length silk are very effective, and you can buy them for half a dollar or less. Your feet unquestionably do look better in this kind of stocking with low shoes.

Lingerie is really inexpensive to buy—almost so much so that it is folly to make it yourself. But it is not enough to buy a dainty corset cover. You must not let it degenerate into a piece of soiled finery—than which there is nothing more unlovely through a sheer blouse. Keep it freshly laundered and thread it with fresh ribbon after every washing. That ugly, faded yellow ribbon—the laundered remnant of the pink or blue that was in it when you bought it—has spoiled many a pretty shirtwaist.

KEEP THE CORNERS OF YOUR UP

If you cultivate this habit of daintiness in your lingerie it will become so much a part of you that it will shown in everything you do and wear. And, as I said before, 'tis the feminine daintiness that brings wholesouled admiration.

Sunbonnet Keeps Complexion Fair

If you have any beauty problem upon which you wish advice or need the help of an expert, write to Antoinette Donnelly, "Chicago Tribune." In the carrying out of her work Miss Donnelly will be in consultation with Dr. W. A. Evans, health editor of "The Tribune." All matters relating to personal hygiene and physical culture will have his advice. Miss Donnelly will be pleased to answer you personally if you will inclose stamped, addressed envelope for reply.)

I use a sunbonnet. I used to go out in the hot sun without a sunbonnet or hat. I got sunburned and freckles. Now when I go out I wear a broad brimmed hat or sunbonnet and I have no trouble keeping my complexio fair. H. S.

Good for Skin and Muscles.

I find witch hazel one of the most satisfactory astringent washes for coarse or enlarged pores of the skin. After giving my face a good scrubbing I wet a piece of cotton with witch hazel and rub over the skin. It is also a tonic for the muscles when they are tired or flabby. My husband also uses it after shaving. H. R.

THE TRIBUNE COOK BOOK BY JANE EDDINGTON

Poaching Peaches.

PEACHES, like pears, are exquisite when poached, and lend themselves to many handsome effects. When they are to be combined with ice cream, as they are, in all the most elegant "entremets," this is the only way to prepare them.

In all the recipes with the following titles from Escoffier the first direction is "poach the peaches," or peel and then poach: Pêches Aiglon, pêches a l'Aurora, pêches Alexandra, pêches Cardinal, pêches Dame-Blanche, pêches Melba, pêches petit duc (peaches on ice cream alternating with little heaps of currant a l'Impératrice, pêches Rose-Chéri, pêches Jeny] pêches au Chateau-Laffite, pêches Rose-Pompon. The last are poached peaches with stone removed, cavity filled with vanilla ice cream, served on a layer of raspberry ice, covered with whipped cream, chilled thirty minutes and at the last moment veiled with pink spun sugar.

Peaches Aiglon.

"Poach the peaches in vanilla flavored syrup. (This requires but four or five minutes.) Dish them in a timbale upon a layer of vanilla ice cream and coat with a raspberry puree."

BEFORE AND AFTER TAKING.

BRIGHT SAYINGS of the CHILDREN

"The Tribune" will pay $1 for each childish saying printed. The stories may be sent in either by children or their parents. The only condition is the story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Address bright sayings to Aunty Bee, "Tribune," Chicago.

We were going out. I dressed my little boy first and told him to wait until we were ready. After a time he got impatient and started to cry. His father said, "Herbert, if you cry you cannot come with us." Herbert looked at his father for a minute and then, as his face brightened in a broad grin, he said, "Why, daddy, I'm laughing; you didn't think I was crying, did you?" MRS. G. D.

The "kiddo" is particularly fond of a dog for a pet. In the early spring a small white tramp dog came her way and was at once given the freedom of the house, as was evidenced by the tracked floors. A few days later a Scotch collie joined the family circle and in her enthusiastic extolling of their respective merits said to daddy that she liked Brownie best. Asked why, she replied, "Oh, his lick is cooler." C. B. A.

Much to his displeasure little Stephen was taken to Aunt Mary's to stay while his mother went calling. After a while, when he seemed happier, devoted Aunt Mary asked for a kiss, which was immediately denied. After a few minutes, however, he said: "Auntie, I'll kiss you if you'll say someting." "What do you want me to say?" asked Aunt Mary, and little Stephen replied: "Please say I can't come here any more." E. J.

The Gardener at Work

Garden Roses in Summer.

BEDDING roses bloom continuously from June to October. Tea roses, hybrid teas and several hybrid perpetuals will bud and flower if cultivated and given proper care. Summer pruning and cutting blossoms will prolong the period. The time and manner of cutting flowers is an important factor. Amateurs do not realize that success depends on these little things.

Blooms should be carefully cut with a sharp knife or shears. The stem of a bud or cluster of roses should be cut back to one or two leaves. The dormant buds at the base of these leaves will develop into other stems. Under the right conditions flowers of good quality will be produced on the new growth.

Roses always blossom on the current season's growth. Not to cut back the stem will mean that the new growths coming after will be weak and insignificant and possibly without roses. These or "blind stems" should be cut back to one leaf as soon as the stem has developed.

"Suckers" or rank growing shoots pring from the root, or that part of the tree below where it has been budded. This refers particularly to the varieties budded on brier stocks. Suckers can be identified by the leaves. The rose leaf has five divisions and the brier leaf seven divisions.

Marion Harland's Helping Hand

By Marion Harland

Based on Scientific Principle.

"IS THERE reason or a foolish notion in the belief that if you put a silver spoon in a glass before pouring hot liquid in it it will not crack? I have seen it done many times, but nobody seems to know why. To me it is a good deal like the custom of throwing salt over your shoulder to keep away bad luck after spilling the salt.

"MINNIE E. T."

So far from being a foolish notion, it is based upon a scientific principle. The water should be poured into the bowl of the spoon. The metal is a better conductor of heat than the glass, and carries it off to some extent into the air, lessening the intensity of the heat upon the glass. I have practiced the experiment hundreds of times, and never have seen it fail. The spoon is, so to speak, the defense of the brittle glass or china. The silver becomes instantly fiercely hot.

Line from a Comedy.

"Who said first, 'Time was made for slaves'? One hears it quoted often, but I never knew where it came from. It sounds like Shakespeare. I am afraid you will be sorry for inviting us youngsters to bring our puzzles to you. But you brought it upon yourself.

"ELIZABETH J."

"Billy Taylor," a comedy written by J. B. Buckstone, who wrote many far better things, by the way, published in 1830, contains this verse:

Why should we break up
Our snug and pleasant party?
Time was made for slaves.
Never for us so hearty.

The line is worthy of a more dignified parentage. But I have never been able to trace it to any other.

Said by a Physician.

"The Corner seems to be a 'snapper up of unconsidered trifles' (falsely so-called in this case). Can it tell us who said, 'Doubtless God might have made a better berry than the strawberry, but he never did'? Some say Bishop Berkeley, some say Roger Williams. Whose was the saying?

ELINOR P. U."

Roger Williams quoted it as the saying of "one of the chiefest doctors of England." It was Dr. Boteler or Butler, whom a contemporary describes as "the chief Esculapius of his age," and not a bishop, as is generally supposed. I am afraid that I have myself attributed the epigram to Bishop Berkeley before your query set me to searching out the truth. I am therefore indebted to you for setting me right. And when we come to look closely into the wise saying it is likely that the aforesaid Esculapius was a better judge of the wholesomeness and remedial properties of the berry than the bishop could be.

Wearing a Mourning Band.

"Can you tell me on which arm it is proper for a man to wear a mourning band? I shall watch the Corner for an answer, as I have lost my father, and should like to know as soon as possible.

"MOURNER."

The mourning band is worn upon the left arm, and for a public man, for thirty days; for a relative, for three months or longer. May I suggest that the fashion of wearing this badge of bereavement is generally superseded in our day by the bombazine band upon the hat? It is unusual to see the strip upon the arm in public places.

How to Clean Feather Boa.

"Will you please tell me how to clean a white feather boa? M. N. H."

Shake gently in a draft of air for a minute, pulling it open throughout the length to dislodge the dust. Then wash in clear gasoline. Do it out of doors and in the daytime. Souse it up and down a dozen times to reach every part. Hang in the air to dry, shaking several times to renew the fluffiness.

Fashions from London

LONDON.—[Special Correspondence.]—Bayadere effects in tucks, in folds, and in striped materials applied on a plain ground are figuring largely in the forefront of things fashionable. For the youthful and slender figure these are assuredly vastly becoming styles. But it takes a lithe, straight carriage and a height above the medium to carry them well. For the plump and petite they were never invented, and the woman who has passed her first youth must inevitably forget that such effects are at all apparent on the field of fashion.

But for what is generally known as the "awkward age" there are few styles that will prove so acceptable. Whether the straight lengths of sheer material are tucked in graduating widths, the widest at the bottom, and decreasing toward the waist line, or whether bias folds cut after this same idea are applied with either hand or machine stitching, the result is about the same.

Although one sees the tucked effect in sheer crêpes and silks, rather is it the design which presents two materials used after this idea that is the more acceptable after all.

The illustration presents a charming development with georgette crêpe for the foundation, one of those dull parchment shades that require a great deal of lighting up to look really fetching. On this are applied bias folds of the same tint in charmeuse, graduated to the waist line and piped with just the tiniest edge of tangerine taffetas. This brilliant coloring is repeated in the broad sash made of the same silk and finished with a picot edge all around. The sash is tied loosely around the waist, to hang with loops and long ends in the back.

Party frock for a debutante. Made in a parchment tinted georgette crepe, with taffetas folds piped in tangerine. Broad sash, loosely tied, also of tangerine taffetas.

Midsummer Corsets, $3 and $3.50

No. 1 at $3.00 illustrates a new model that will prove a boon to slender women and young girls, especially designed for the slender figure tending to angularity, with small bust, prominent shoulder blades and hip bones, with a low bust and elastic inset across the bust lines to give complete freedom in breathing. The top of the corset through the back cares for the prominent shoulder blades, and the boning is light and so placed as to avoid pressure across the hip bones (usually sensitive in this type of figure). The angular look disappears, the entire figure becomes rounded and more symmetrical when molded into this model. Made of pink silk figured batiste. Price... $3.00

No. 2 shows an attractive corset for medium and slender figures, made of pink satin flowered broche, with medium bust and just enough curve at the waist to hold the corset in position on the figure; the skirt is medium in length, the boning light and firm, an ideal summer corset, at..... $3.50

Society and Entertainments

Midsummer Gossip of Chicago Society

MR. AND MRS. W. C. NIBLACK, who are occupying their new summer home at Lake Forest this summer, have had as their guests for some weeks Mr. and Mrs. Alden B. Swift (formerly Miss Lydia Niblack) of St. Joseph, Mo., and their two children, Narcissa and Peter.

Mr. and Mrs. Swift left on Saturday for Mackinac island to spend the rest of the summer there.

Mrs. Niblack's other daughter, Mrs. James Ward Thorne, and Mr. Thorne are cruising eastern waters, with Mr. and Mrs. Laurance Armour, as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Meeker, aboard their yacht, Arcady. They are nearing Boston, and from there Mr. and Mrs. Thorne and Mr. and Mrs. Armour are expecting to start for home, arriving in Lake Forest early next week.

Mrs. Frederick Rawson and children of 1650 North State parkway are at East Hampton, Long Island, where they have a cottage for the summer. Mr. Rawson left on Saturday to join them there and remain for a number of weeks. Later Mr. and Mrs. Rawson are intending to motor through New England.

Mr. and Mrs. George Robb Collins, who were married in April, have returned from their wedding journey to the Pacific coast and are spending the summer with Mrs. Collins' mother, Mrs. Thomas Dyke Whitney of 3122 Sheridan road. Mrs. Collins was formerly Miss Margaret Jane Whitney.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Ripley, whose estate at Riverside is one of the most extensive of that suburb, are remaining there until September, when they intend to go east for several weeks at the seashore.

Miss Isabelle McBirney has set Sept. 2 as the day of her wedding to Henry Stimson of New York. The ceremony will take place at the country home of Miss McBirney's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Johnston McBirney, at Lake Forest. Monroe Douglas Robinson will entertain this evening at Onwentsia club in honor of Miss McBirney and Mr. Stimson.

Mr. and Mrs. Hobart C. Chatfield-Taylor will entertain at dinner this evening for Mrs. Frank Curtis of New York City, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Thomas J. Prindiville.

Mrs. Potter Palmer and her brother, Adrian Honoré, will leave this week for a visit to the Pacific exposition. Mrs. Frederick Dent Grant, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Potter Palmer, may visit her father, H. H. Honoré, for a time, but is undecided in her plans.

Mrs. Lydia Avery Coonley-Ward is spending the week in Chicago visiting old friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Lambert S. Wintersteen of Park Ridge, Ill., announce the engagement of their daughter, Helen Vincent Wintersteen, to J. J. Greenman, son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Greenman of Morgan Park, Ill.

Miss Vera Uhlendorf of Deming place left on Saturday to spend the remainder of the summer at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Uhlendorf at Eagle Lake.

Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Phillips of 4217 Lake Park avenue will leave for the east the last of the week.

Mrs. F. J. H. Farrell and her daughter, Miss Helen Farrell, of 458 Belmont avenue, left yesterday to spend the month of August in Duluth, Minn. Dr. Farrell and sons will return next week from a fishing trip on the Illinois river.

Mr. and Mrs. Everette A. Guild of Wheaton announce the marriage of their daughter, Laura Estella, to Roy George Bartlett, also of Wheaton, which will take place in September at the home of the bride's parents, 714 Scott street.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Stephenson announce the marriage of their daughter, Florence, to Ernest Gahlbeck Jr., which took place Friday at St. Peter's church.

Mrs. Helen E. Starrett and Mrs. Mary G. White of 4718 Woodlawn avenue, on Tuesdays during the month of August, will serve tea from 4 until 6 to their visiting alumnæ and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar F. Winterson announce the marriage of their daughter, Elsye Dorothea, to Bruno Julius Boehm, which took place on Wednesday, July 7.

The engagement has been announced of Miss Florence Brigham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Brigham of 4830 Lake Park avenue, to Eugene Edward Ford of 4623 Drexel boulevard.

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Gross of 5300 South Park avenue left Saturday to visit the Pacific expositions.

Miss Marie Dorothea Buhmann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodor W. Buhmann of 2734 Pine Grove avenue, is spending the month of July and part of August at Bent's Home camp on Lake Mamie, in northern Wisconsin.

MISS MARY LOUISE SMITH

Miss Mary Louise Smith, 5300 University avenue, with her mother and sister, will spend the remainder of the summer at their cottage, "Pen-wallah," Birch Lake, Michigan, where they will have several house parties of Chicago young people. Miss Smith will return Oct. 1 to resume her studies at the Anna Morgan Dramatic school.

Getting Ready for the Big Show.

Biscuits like mother used to make will be placed alongside of the fancy products turned out by the culinary artists of the kitchens of the north shore homes, and a fair opportunity to compare a chef d'œuvre of French pastry with a blackberry pie prepared according to grandmother's favorite recipe will be afforded those who visit the booth designated for domestic arts and kitchen products at the big charity benefit to be given under the auspices of the Lake Forest Horse Show association, Aug. 28.

Mrs. William P. Martin and Mrs. O. E. Babcock, joint chairmen of this committee, are going to make this department of the country fair one of the features of the whole show. Each booth is to be presided over by some one of the younger married women of the Lake Forest society set, so in order to satisfy your sweet tooth with a little delectable sugar coated popcorn or candy you will have to hand your money to a younger member of the social whirl, perhaps one of the season's debutantes.

Aiding Mrs. William P. Martin and Mrs. O. E. Babcock in preparations for this exhibition of kitchen dainties are Mrs. A. Watson Armour, Mrs. Francis J. Johnson, Mrs. Charles S. Dewey and Mrs. Edward S. Moore.

L. F. Swift has his program of entries for the stock show completed, and it will be in the hands of many stock fanciers of the north shore district by the first of next week.

Two Birthdays Each Year.

John Stewart, superintendent of the Bible Rescue mission, has two "birthdays" each year. Today he will celebrate the seventy-fifth anniversary of his birth. On Jan. 1 he intends to celebrate his twenty-ninth "rebirth."

Stewart, according to his own confession, was formerly a "derelict." Twenty-nine years ago he renounced drink and decided to dedicate his life to helping other unfortunates. He founded a temporary mission and began work. His mission has been successful and he intends to establish a permanent home.

He and his flock will have a "banquet" today at the mission, 626 West Madison street, to celebrate the occasion of his first birth.

Civic Federation Issues Tax Report.

THE legislative report of the Civic Federation of Chicago on the tax amendment to the state constitution, designed to give the legislature power to "revise the personal property tax laws of the state upon a modern, just, and workable basis," was made public yesterday by Secretary Douglas Sutherland.

It is pointed out in the report that the approval of the majority of the male votes cast at the general election in 1916 is necessary to make the amendment a part of the constitution.

"To secure this large majority will necessitate persistent and effective work of organization and education during the coming sixteen months," says the report. "This work the federation, through a special committee, already is mapping out."

The executive committee of the federation thanks the legislators who voted to put the amendment before the voters and gives credit to Gov. Dunne, State's Attorney Hoyne, the board of review, the board of assessors, and the various civic, commercial, improvement, business and taxpaying organizations active in the campaign.

"The substantial vote in the senate and the overwhelming vote of 130 to 8 in the house could have been based only upon strong public sentiment in favor of a fundamental revision of our unjust revenue laws, which inevitably lay the bulk of the tax burden upon such property as cannot escape, punish thrift and encourage perjury and evasion. The newspapers throughout the state are entitled to great credit for the splended educational work which they have done during the long campaign," continues the report.

"This amendment in itself would not make any change in the present system of taxation. It would remove some of the restrictions which now render enactment of desired statutory changes impossible. It must precede any adequate changes in the basis of taxation in this state. If adopted, it would merely give to the Illinois general assembly substantially the control of legislation affecting personal property taxation now held by the legislatures of New York, Minnesota, Michigan, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Wisconsin, Connecticut, Rhode Island, and other states in which successful steps have been taken toward the effective and equitable taxation of modern forms of wealth."

A High Speed Romance.

"It came in handy during the street car strike," he was remarking at the station last night. And then he explained just how handy it came in.

"Was on my way home one night," he said, "passing Twelfth street and Ashland avenue, I saw a good looking young lady and asked her if she wanted a ride. Took her home—some place around Thirteenth street and Forty-ninth avenue—don't know the number—haven't been there enough to learn it.

"Anyway, we're going on a trip in my automobile up to Mattoon, Ill., Wednesday. It's to be a kind of a honeymoon in the same car we got acquainted in—you see? Haven't made the wedding arrangements yet, but it will be some time Wednesday just before we start on the trip to Mattoon.

GOSSIP of the PLAYERS

ART in the theater continues to get it in the neck. Thus, the "team" of Allen and White sends word that it is disbanding, and that the varieties will know 'em no more.

Mr. Allen goes to San José, Cal., to take personal charge of an all night lunch wagon which he owns, and Mr. White—why, he is going to work again at his trade of tailor.

"In a Woman's Town" is a play about The Vote, which Cohan & Harris think they ought to stage.

Miss Charlotte Greenwood, a girl with very long legs, who has made Chicago appearances in "Pretty Mrs. Smith" and in the varieties, has been married to Cyril Ring, brother of Miss Blanche Ring. Miss Greenwood is the star of a musical piece, "So Long, Letty," running in Los Angeles.

N. C. Goodwin has decided that there is more money in the movies than in touring at the head of his own company and has, accordingly, canceled his arrangements to go out again in "Never Say Die."

The management of "Twin Beds" now announces ten casts for next season in that farce. So far as is known, this is the record for multiplication in performances of one play in this country. "Within the Law" was for a time acted by eight casts and "Peg o' My Heart" by seven.

West Side Band Concerts.

The following is a list of the band concerts which will be given in the West park system during the week ending Aug. 7, from 8 until 10 o'clock:

PULASKI PARK—This evening; Polonia Military band.
WICKER PARK—This evening; International band.
LOGAN SQUARE—Tomorrow evening; Garfield band.
GARFIELD PARK—Wednesday evening; Kozak's band.
UNION PARK—Thursday evening; Chicago Letter Carriers' band.
HUMBOLDT PARK—Friday evening; Seventh Regiment band.

Fashion Show at Midway Gardens

With hundreds of out of town buyers already in Chicago and many others arriving today, the Chicago Garment Manufacturers' association is looking forward to its most successful style exposition.

Tonight at Midway Gardens probably the most unique fashion show ever staged will be opened to the visitors from the Chicago sales territory and to the general public. Thousands of dollars have been spent to make this pageant which has been written and staged by Carlos Sebastian, the dancer, who also will play the leading rôle, so successful that there will be no question after the show closes Saturday night that Chicago is the style center of America.

New scenery, scores of show girl models, beautiful gowns, suits, lingerie, shoes hats, and the like, imported and "made in Chicago," and music by the National Symphony orchestra, Max Bendix conducting, are expected to attract wide attention to the progressiveness of Chicago garment manufacturers.

Real Love Stories

She's Waitress Now.

THIS is a story that proves marrying for love can make one as unhappy as one is told marrying for money always does. At least I'm not married yet, but I have been engaged two years to the man I love, and I have little prospect of marrying him for many, many years to come.

I was engaged to a rich American to whom I had been introduced in Hamburg, Germany. Although he was much older than I was, he was the most wonderful lover, and nothing he could do to make me happy he left undone—and happy I was. Then, being offered a good position in Kimberley, South Africa, I had to leave my rich sweetheart, and sad was our parting at Southampton.

But one day while returning from the school where I taught in Kimberley I was attacked by a negro purse snatcher. Calling out, "I'll knock you down!" a tall man rushed up and gave chase to the now fleeing negro. The chase being fruitless (though the native police in the negro compound afterwards found this thief), my rescuer returned to me and asked if he should take me home. It was now quite dark and I was glad of his escort.

On the way I found out he was a certain man I had been in the habit of meeting every morning on my way to school and he on his way to business. Thus our friendship began and soon developed into something stronger, but my engagement held us back.

Then one day my fiancé cabled for me to return to him to be married at once. He had booked my passage, arranged for our marriage in London, and I must come at once. Frantic cables passed between us. I pressed for time, and he insisted, so finally I cabled that I must break our engagement.

A month afterward I became engaged to the man I loved and still love. He has proved to be so independable. Our plans were made for an early marriage, and we built rosy castles in the air of the position he would get. But he remained a diamond sorter in the syndicate with a salary barely large enough to keep himself.

At last I decided to take a trip to England and gave up my position in Kimberley. Two years have passed and the war has settled everything. My boy is now a gunner in the artillery, fighting in German West Africa, while I am a waitress in a Chicago restaurant. Letters full of promises and prospects and an early reunion come to me via my home in England every fortnight, but I know that "marrying for money" and marrying a man much older than oneself is better than clinging to the ideal—and becoming a waitress!

Says He Loves Her.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am 18 and love a fellow of 21. He has told me he loves me, but does not show it. He takes me out twice a week and the rest of the week he takes other girls out. Do you think he loves me? S. A."

Perhaps this young man is not ready to be serious, so does not want to devote himself to any one girl. I think twice a week is plenty of time to spend on one man when you are not engaged to him. Now quit worrying as to whether or not this man loves you. Have a good time and don't specialize for a while.

PROGRESSIVES IN 1916 FIGHT

Mount Pleasant, Ia., Aug. 1.—Victor Murdock of Kansas, chairman of the Progressive national committee, made the following statement here today:

"I have just completed a three months' personal canvass of the situation with the Progressives in the central west and on the Pacific coast, and after making it I am ready to say flatfootedly that we Progressives are going into the 1916 fight as a party and to win.

"Moreover, a meeting of representative Progressives held last month in New York City reported the same conditions in the east that I have found in the west, and they are lining up for the next battle. This also is the sentiment of the Progressive national committee. We will hold our national convention early and nominate a ticket.

Platform 1916 Issues.

"The great convention battles of 1916 will not be over candidates, but will be over platforms. The storm will rage, not in the committee on credentials, but in the committee on resolutions. The bourbon Republican leadership will not only insist on a standpat candidate, but will fight for an unstinted and unequivocal indorsement of the administration of William Howard Taft, including the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill.

"The Democratic leadership likewise will point with pride to the equally lamentable Simmons-Underwood tariff bill, and against a Bryan insurrection of the first magnitude will cancel the one term presidential pledge and other Bryan propaganda, and the Progressives will reiterate and reemphasize their Chicago platform of 1912. That platform remains the most nearly perfect utterance of the principles of Abraham Lincoln of modern times.

"Both in its protest against the inroads of privilege fattening on an era of gross materialism and in its practical program of concrete economic remedies, the Progressive platform has become to hundreds of thousands of aggressive Americans the ark of the covenant, and there is not a township anywhere without its group of Gittites devoted wholly and solely to its preservation.

Tariff Stands Contrasted.

"The Progressives have the right plan for the tariff and other economic issues, including the trust problem.

"The Democrat leadership, after two and a half years' trial, has signally failed in solving the nation's economic questions. Its tariff law, slammed together under the old log rolling leadership, is utterly unproductive of any of the results previously claimed for it.

"Its trust legislation flounders, its attempts at development of American ocean going craft, have fizzled. That this is the judgment of the voter is amply evidenced by the tremendous anti-democratic sentiment that has developed at the polls at virtually every election in the last two years.

"The spectacle of Republican reaction in New York and Ohio, in contrast to Progressive achievement in California under Gov. Johnson, is a dramatic portrayal of the need of the new strong patriotic party of public service. Therefore, the Progressive party will go on with its fight straight out and flat footed."

SHOOTING OVER CARD GAME RESULTS IN ROOF CHASE.

Man Who Uses Revolver Flees to Top of Buildings and Is Captured When He Falls Three Stories.

Henry Orsanelli, 1210 South Michigan street, was shot twice in the left arm last night by Anton De Carlo, 1102 South Morgan street. The men were playing cards in a saloon at 1102 South Morgan street. De Carlo accused Orsanelli of cheating. Orsanelli started out and De Carlo fired three shots, two taking effect. He then ran into his home on the third floor and locked the door. He climbed through a skylight to the roof just as a policeman broke in. He attempted to jump from his roof to the one adjoining, but missed his footing and fell to the areaway. He was picked up unconscious and rushed to the county hospital, where it was said he had a skull fracture and is not expected to live.

BATHING SUIT MISSING; WATCHMAN SHOOTS A BOY.

Night Guard at Flat Says He Fired at Ground and Bullet Was Deflected, Striking Youth in Ankle.

One boy was shot in the ankle by a night watchman and five others escaped early yesterday following the theft of a bathing suit from a clothes line in the rear of a flat building at 4447 Berkeley avenue. Michael Kelly, 16 years old, 4433 South Fifth avenue, was wounded by Walter Sullivan, 604 South Green street, a night watchman, who fired one shot toward the ground. The bullet was deflected and wounded the boy. The boys are said by the police to have been at the Chicago beach, and were supposed to be going home when discovered at the rear of the flat building by Sullivan, who asserted one of them had stolen a bathing suit.

Trolley Kills Two Aged Men.

Decatur, Ill., July 31.—Leonard Rossback, 80 years old, and John Alwies, 70, of Danvers, were killed last night when an interurban car struck the carriage in which they were riding.

SUIT A "MISTAKE," SHE SAYS.

Mrs. Grace Caplin Asserts She Knows "Nothing About" Action She Filed Against Wormser.

Facts concerning the basis of a $25,000 damage suit filed Friday by Mrs. Grace Caplin against Milton D. Wormser, a wealthy hop merchant, remain a mystery. Lawyers for Mrs. Caplin refused to discuss the suit, but admit that it "will be interesting."

Mrs. Caplin declared the suit a "mistake" and said she knew "nothing about it." She is employed by Dean's Wabash avenue clothing store and lives at 3102 Flournoy street. Wormser lives at the Lakota hotel and is connected with the firm of Falk, Wormser & Co. He could not be located last night.

According to business associates, Mr. Wormser and Mrs. Caplin have known each other for a number of years. Lawyers refused to state whether the case concerned an alleged breach of promise.

Husband Finds Wife Dead in Bed.

MILITIA CHARGES STRIKERS WITH FIXED BAYONETS

Routs Massena, N. Y., Workers from Bridge; Two Previous Casualties.

Massena, N. Y., Aug. 1.—[Special.]—Three companies of militia arrived today to take control of the situation arising from the strike of 2,400 employes of the Aluminum Company of America.

A bridge, behind which were intrenched hundreds of strikers, was charged, the soldiers having fixed bayonets, and the strikers dispersed. The strikers showed fight, but they were easily routed, and the militia is now in control. Thirteen alleged ringleaders were arrested.

Before the arrival of the troops two employes of the company were victims of attack. One is near death. Another was thrown into the power canal at the plant and drowned.

Strike for Wage Increase.

The strike was the result of the refusal of a request for increased compensation. After the refusal 500 employes left their work and took up a position on the bridge. They stopped all traffic and concentrated materials being shipped into the factory.

Sheriff Day of St. Lawrence county summoned all deputies in the vicinity and deputized a large number of farmers and townspeople, who were armed and ordered to the plant, but the sheriff decided his small forces were inadequate and wired to Albany for aid.

60,000 Cloakmakers May Strike.

New York, Aug. 1.—[Special.]—A general strike of the 60,000 members of the cloakmakers' union will be called Tuesday unless the final effort of the council of conciliation appointed by Mayor Mitchel proves successful. Workers available for picket duty have been collected and are being held in readiness to be sent to the 2,000 shops in New York.

Will of Barker Girl Bride Settles Sum on Spaulding?

Now that Howard Spaulding, Jr., and his $30,000,000 bride are speeding westward on their round the world honeymoon, interest in the romance centers largely upon the condition of the former Miss Catherine Barker's financial affairs brought about by the marital partnership and on the provisions of a new will she outlined to her guardian, James B. Forgan. The actual draft of the will has not yet been completed, it is said.

In Harbor Point, where the Barker summer home is located and where the marriage was solemnized, rumor had it that in a prenuptial contract she had settled a large fortune upon young Spaulding. It also was gossiped that in her new will the bridegroom had shared generously in the wealth her father left.

Provisions of Her Father's Will.

Members of the family and close friends of each of the newlyweds, however, discredit these rumors. Mrs. Spaulding, by the provisions of her father's will, never will receive the principal of the estate. Until she is 26 years old, the bride is given only a part of the income from the estate. When she is 26 she will receive the accumulated profits and revenue and come into control of the future total income.

This, they say, makes it impossible for the bride to settle any lump sum on Spaulding. It is said her father's will prevents her even from giving lavishly to charity.

Although James B. Forgan's guardianship over Catherine Barker ceased when she became Mrs. Howard Spaulding, he will remain administrator of the estate during his life, and all the principal of her vast wealth will be held by him in trust.

Mrs. Spaulding's new will, it is said, disposes only of her interest in the estate—the total income, the control of which is given to her when she is 26.

Off on Honeymoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Spaulding departed at 7 o'clock aboard the Overland limited, from the Northwestern station, on the first stage of their wedding journey. Their first protracted stay will be at Honolulu, whence they will proceed to Japan. Half a baggage car of trunks are being carried by the honeymooners.

The Spauldings, who had not intended to start for the coast until tonight, arrived in Chicago at 7:30 in the morning. They were accompanied by Daniel Willard of Baltimore, Edson Manierre of Chicago, and Mason M. Starring Jr. of New York, ushers at the wedding.

After breakfasting at the Blackstone the honeymooners attended mass in St. Mary's church, and they were entertained at luncheon by Mr. Manierre.

The afternoon was spent in a tour of the boulevards and parks of the north side, the couple stopping to look through their future home at 221 Walton place.

Leave a Mystery in Wake.

And while they are making their circuit of the world, a sizzling mystery is likely to remain unsolved in Chicago by the folk in the "Blue Book" and a good many others.

It concerns the sudden eleventh hour elimination of Miss Elizabeth Goodrich from the wedding as maid of honor.

Stories that are in circulation already agree that Miss Goodrich, who is only 17, and who has a habit of frank speaking which is sometimes terribly embarrassing, said something to which the bridegroom took exception.

What Did Miss Goodrich Say?

The guesses as to what she said vary in form but are in substance the same. The untactful remark, in short, is said to have been one calculated to throw doubt on Mr. Spaulding's motive for taking Miss Barker to wife. Rumor has it that Miss Goodrich tartly asserted her belief—or passed on the tart implications of others—that the stake for which young Mr. Spaulding played was Miss Barker's immense fortune rather than her heart.

Still another explanation put forward is that Miss Goodrich repeated what she had heard on the links at Wequetonsing when a group of masculine gossipers were terming Spaulding "the $30,000,000 'nobody home.'"

SHOT IN DISPUTE OVER SHOES

Leo Schmidt, 1807 West Seventeenth street, who the police say is also known as Leo Scott, was shot twice and seriously wounded yesterday by Thomas Diamandocks, 2252 Blue Island avenue, in a quarrel in the latter's shoe shining parlor at Eighteenth street and Ashland avenue. Diamandocks was arrested. He said Schmidt asked to borrow a pair of white shoes which he refused to lend and they quarreled. Later, he said, Schmidt returned with five companions. The shooting followed.

WHO GAVE TIP TO FREIBERG'S?

Mayor Says He Won't Permit Notorious Dance Hall to Reopen.

Who assured the owners of Freiberg's they would be permitted to reopen the most notorious of the dance halls of the old levee?

"Would they spend the money to redecorate without assurance of protection? And will THE TRIBUNE stand for it without exposing the rotten deal and those 'higher up?'"

Nothing Stirring, Says Mayor.

"I haven't granted them any license and nobody has talked to me about it," the mayor said yesterday.

"Are you going to give them permission to open?"

"It isn't my intention," responded the mayor.

Lieut. M. J. Clohesy of the Twenty-Second street station was asked about the reports.

"Nothing stirring," he declared. "The saloon license at Freiberg's was restored last January to Abraham Halle on condition that the dance hall be kept closed. I've heard the reports about the opening, but it won't take place unless I receive instructions to the contrary. They won't even be allowed to put in entertainers."

No Cabaret at Buxbaum's.

"How about Buxbaum's old place at 2133 South State street—are they going to put on a cabaret show?"

"Not if I know it."

GIRL'S SCREAMS BRING RESCUERS

There was no lack of rescuers once the girl's plight was revealed by her screams. A small sloop sailing near was put about and swooped to her aid. Canoeists changed their courses. Strong swimmers sped from the beach—one fully dressed save for the coat which he flung on the sand as he splashed into the water.

JOHN SCHRAMM

The girl, Miss Bonnie Gray of 4006 Clarendon avenue, was unconscious when the associated rescuers got her to the beach. After she had been revived the girl went back into the lake, but she did not attempt again to reach the "club" raft off the foot of Lakeside place.

There were no drownings recorded nearer to Chicago than Miller beach at Gary. There Theodore Rocoff, proprietor of the Kostur hotel in Gary, was attacked by cramps while swimming in deep water.

The third beach victim of the last twenty-four hours was John Schramm of Glencoe, an employé of the Merchants' Loan and Trust company. Schramm, whose family is one of the oldest in the north shore suburb, was drowned while swimming off Newhall's beach in Glencoe.

WOMAN IN RIVER; MAY BE MURDER

Well Clothed Body Has a Gash Back of the Ear; Police Puzzled.

The body of an unidentified woman, who may have been murdered, was found yesterday in the north branch of the Chicago river, near the Cortland street bridge. There is a gash three and one-half inches long on the right side of her neck, back of the ear. Whether it was made with a knife or by being struck by a boat the police are unable to say.

Undertaker Elsfeldt, 2216 Southport avenue, to whose place the body was taken, says the woman was about 25 years old. The body had been in the water, it is believed, three or four weeks. A search of the police records for the last six weeks of persons reported missing failed to reveal any one whose description fits the body.

Was Well Dressed.

The clothing worn by the woman was of good texture. She wore a black silk skirt, white shirtwaist, white silk stockings and white tennis shoes. On the left hand she wore a gold ring set with a coral cameo.

The woman was about five feet seven inches tall, dark complexion and had dark hair. Around her neck she wore a half inch black velvet ribbon.

Wound Is Unusual.

"The gash back of the ear may have been made after the body was in the water," said Undertaker Elsfeldt. "We seldom get a body from the river with a wound of that description, and it may be the woman was murdered and thrown in."

FINDS RUINS OF ANCIENT TEMPLE

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 1.—[Special.]—The discovery of a great temple at Memphis, in Egypt, belonging to approximately the period of Rameses II., is announced by the University museum as a result of the spring and summer explorations of the Eckley B. Coxe, Jr., Egyptian expedition under the leadership of Dr. Fisher, curator of the Egyptian section of the university museum.

The find is considered of the first importance and is hoped to be only the beginning of further developments in Memphis, which was one of the great cities of the world, possibly the greatest, in the time of Rameses II., more than 3,000 years ago, and which is known to have been of great importance 8,000 years ago.

When the digging began the capitals of two columns of the great palace were discovered. One hundred expert diggers spent three months in excavation with surprising results. A great hall of columns was unearthed and the excavations carried down to the original soil.

In spite of the rack of time, of sieges and other destructions, enough survives to show that it was a magnificent place. A large inscription indicates that the temple may have been that of Seti I., although at first it was supposed to have been erected by Menephtah, son of Rameses II.

Valuable Specimens Recovered.

Some four thousand specimens of great archaeological importance were recovered. The finds include scarabs, amulets, gold and silver rings and other objects on these precious metals, many ushabtis and especially many moulds for making these ushabtis, necklaces, and all sorts of ornaments.

FUN AHEAD; IT'S MARKET WEEK

Chicago to Show Its Ability as an Entertainer, Beginning Today.

Today is the first day of "Market Week"—the greatest buying event that Chicago business interests ever have staged. From now until next Saturday night, there'll be something doing daily and nightly in Chicago for the reception and entertainment of the army of merchants who are expected in Chicago to select autumn goods.

Loop the Loop Daily.

Spectacular sporting and recreational events with automobiles, aeroplanes, hydro aeroplanes, and boats will mark the week. Daily at 5 p. m., Miss Katherine Stinson, who "loops the loop," will perform the thrilling stunt above Grant park. Watch for her this afternoon.

The Chicago Association of Commerce has urged all merchants to decorate their windows and places of business.

Mayor Thompson's Appeal.

I call upon all citizens of Chicago, and especially its merchants and manufacturers, to join in providing a display of Chicago merchandise that shall contribute to the significance and the success of "Chicago market week."

Further, urge all citizens to make extraordinary efforts for the entertainment of the city's guests during this week, and request every citizen to do his part, so that no visitor to the city during "Chicago market week" shall depart without being convinced not only that Chicago is the world's greatest summer resort, but that it is a good place to come to, a good place to do business in, to play in, and a good place to revisit.

RASMUSSEN, M'KITTRICK AND PECHOUS WIN TRIPS

GREAT CONTEST AT END

BY CLARENCE E. ELDREDGE.

Charley Pechous, third baseman of the White Giants; Harry Rasmussen, pitcher of the Edisons, and John McKittrick, shortstop of the Chicago Grays, are the winners in THE TRIBUNE's big amateur contest, and the members of this trio of winners will be apportioned among Chicago's three league clubs and sent by THE TRIBUNE on the final trips of the season.

Rasmussen has been named to accompany the Whales when they leave on their eastern trip tomorrow night. Pechous will be a member of the Cubs after they finish their stay at home for their last jaunt, while McKittrick will join Rowland's White Sox on their hike eastward in September. The apportionment was made by lot.

All Ripe for Higher Game.

The selection, which was made at the conclusion of the double header staged yesterday at Comiskey park as the final tryout, was unanimous, each of the members of THE TRIBUNE's judging committee reaching independently the conclusion that Pechous, Rasmussen and McKittrick were more nearly ripe for a test in select baseball society than any of the other candidates.

The unanimity of the selection may not be taken, however, as an indication that the three boys chosen so completely outclassed the rest of the field that the issue was free from doubt in the minds of the judges. Nicholas Kearns, a well constructed pitcher from the Parnell A. C. team, in particular gave the judges something to think about, and when the final summing up came he failed by the narrowest of margins to get into the money.

Size Handicap to Simmons.

Simmons, the young pitcher who made so favorable an impression on Joe Tinker on the occasion of the first game of the series, continued his excellent work, and might have fared better but for his rather diminutive size, which, it was feared by the judges, would interfere with his being of real value to a major league ball club at the present time.

When it became apparent after Rasmussen's first appearance two weeks ago that the big pitcher had an excellent chance to land one of the three trips offered complaint was made that he was ineligible because of the age limit. While the suggestion that Rasmussen is over age came through interested and, therefore, possibly biased channels, the complaint has been accepted in good faith by THE TRIBUNE committee, and before the selection of Rasmussen is made final every effort will have been made to determine his exact age.

Evidence to Show Age.

Rasmussen himself has assured the committee that he is under the age limit and has volunteered to produce the necessary documentary evidence with which to substantiate his assertion. No question has been raised as to the age or other eligibility qualifications of either McKittrick or Pechous.

Having satisfied the necessity for selecting the winners of the three big prizes—a necessity occasioned by the proximity of the Whales' departure on the trip on which they are to be accompanied by one of the three winners—the judges will proceed with more deliberation in the selection of the twelve players for whom the City league and the Intercity association have indicated a desire to bid.

Not only is the matter of the selection of this dozen players less urgent in point of time than was the decision in the contest proper, but the selection of twelve players from the forty-one who performed yesterday is inherently one more complicated and one requiring more deliberation and conferring than did the choice of the three top liners.

Other Players to Be Chosen.

Accordingly the judges will get together today, discuss the relative merits of the fifteen or twenty players who still have a chance, and then ballot on the twelve to be chosen. The result of this part of the contest will be announced in THE TRIBUNE tomorrow.

The final and deciding games were featured by the same interest on the part of the contesting athletes as had been shown in the earlier tryouts. Every one of the forty-one athletes who survived the preliminary games was on hand to battle for a job, and many of them had admirers in the stands rooting vigorously for their favorites. Tom Chivington, president of the American association; Tip O'Neill, president of the Western league; and Secretary Harry Grabiner of the White Sox were among the baseball celebrities who watched the contests.

Charley Murphy as Scout.

Charles W. Murphy, whose recently revealed activities as "scout" for the club of which he once was president, have provoked the irrepressible Lardner to mirth, likewise was on hand. He continued to show a praiseworthy interest in the success of the Cubs, for he looked Rasmussen over carefully. As a result of his inspection, Rasmussen has been asked to report to Manager Bresnahan at the Cubs' park this morning, when he will be given a workout.

In the main, the work of the various candidates yesterday served only to confirm the original judgment formed by the judges when the athletes were under inspection for the first time. Charley Pechous, for instance, demonstrated even more conclusively than on his first appearance that his fielding ability is beyond question; while a triple that he made in his first trip to the plate did not serve entirely to remove the belief that he is only a fair hitter.

Pechous Stars in Field.

In fielding Pechous set a fast pace for his only dangerous rival, McKittrick, who kept in the going, however, by a brilliantly executed return thrown by which he cut down the runner at the plate on an attempted double steal.

While generally speaking the judges were given no occasion to change their initial judgment, Nicholas Kearns furnished a conspicuous exception to this rule. Kearns is a big right hand pitcher, whose failure to take the game seriously on his first appearance relegated him to a position of comparative obscurity. Yesterday, however, he appeared to have awakened to the situation, and made an excellent impression. He had better control of his sharp breaking curve ball than when seen before, and if four players, instead of three, were to have been chosen he would have been named.

Others Receive Mention.

Dowling and Arends, catchers; Simmons, pitcher; Cerny, shortstop; Coutre and Henry, outfielders, and Mee, third baseman, were others who more than lived up to expectations, and are reasonably certain to be included in the additional list of twelve to be announced later.

As has been the case throughout the contest, yesterday's games were marked by excellent sportsmanship on the part of the candidates. Not only was there no wrangling over umpires' decisions but no attempts were made by any of the boys, either directly or indirectly, to bring influence to bear on the judges with whom rested the final selections.

Three Boys Named for Eastern Trips.

Henry Rasmussen (Edisons), pitcher.

John McKittrick (Chicago Greys), shortstop.

LINCOLNS SWAMP FOSTERS, 11 TO 3; EVEN UP SERIES

The largest semipro crowd of the year saw the Lincolns of New York even up matters with the American Giants at Schorling's park, winning 11 to 3, the same count that the cost the Lincolns the opening decision. Ragged infielding along with poor pitching by Tom Johnson, who allowed six hits and a walk in the first round for five runs, helped down the locals. Redding won his twenty-third victory this year. Jack O'Connor hurled the first no hit game in the City league yesterday, when he let Jack Lowery's Normals down without a safe blow, but his team lost to the home club at Normal Park, 3 to 1. O'Connor lost his own game by three wild heaves to catch runners at first. He allowed two walks that did not figure in the score. Winkler's brilliant fielding robbed the home players of two hits, marring O'Connor's record. Young fanned fourteen men and allowed only one pass.

CUBS' RECRUIT DEFEATS STAR OF PHIL STAFF

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

In the best game of ball they have played for more than two weeks, Chicago's penitent Cubs defeated the militant Phillies yesterday at the west side with the great Grover Alexander on the slab. Young Karl Adams engaged the Philadelphia wonder in a duel, and won it in the tenth inning when Heine Zimmerman's line single to center field went through Whitted and bounded away to the clubhouse. Before it could be retrieved Heine had legged it around the circuit with the run which ended the game in the Cubs' favor by a count of 2 to 1.

Except for one little slip by Polly McLarry, the Phillies never would have counted on Adams and the Cubs would have won in regulation time, because in the fifth inning Cy Williams picked out one of Alexander's fast ones in the groove and slammed it into the right bleacher for a home run. That was the only earned run in the combat. In the next round McLarry booted a roller from Stock's bat and a run resulted from the error.

Cubs Show New Life.

Until yesterday the Cubs hadn't played a real snappy game since the last time they whipped Alexander in Philadelphia, two weeks ago last Saturday. At that time Larry Cheney did the dueling with the Phillie star. Adams wasn't quite as steady as his opponent yesterday, but he was good enough to keep out of danger nearly all of the time.

The visitors tapped Adams for five hits, all singles, while the Cubs made only four off Aleck. One of those four was Williams' four base drive, which would have been enough to win without the other three if no mistakes had been made. Adams walked three batsmen, while Grover walked nary a man.

It was a noteworthy victory for the young Cub pitcher and there were about 9,000 fans there watching him, so today Adams is some hero. He had a fast ball that was fooling the Phillies even when they outguessed him and took their toe hold and full swing. He kept it low and had little trouble in sticking it over any corner of the plate he wanted to. Along with it he had plenty of curves and his speed at times looked as great as that of his famous opponent.

Adams Given Great Support.

Along with his sterling pitching, young Adams was given splendid support by his mates except in one instance, when McLarry kicked one. Bob Fisher and Heine Zim spoiled no less than three hits by their active infield work, while Cy Williams moved to all parts of the middle garden to capture fly balls. Pete Knisely was back on second base and had only one chance, which he handled in a highly efficient manner. Jim Archer pegged three men out at second when they attempted to steal.

After Adams had pitched himself out of a bad place in the third inning, he seemed to gain confidence as the game progressed. Things looked rather bad for him in that round, and it was noticed that Manager Bresnahan had another man warming up down by the clubhouse, but after that inning was over no one attempted to warm up for relief service again.

Fans Cravath in Pinch.

With one out in the third, Bancroft drew a base on balls and stole second. Stock's best was a high fly, which the strident Mr. Williams caught, then Becker bounced one over Adams' noddle and beat it for a single, Bancroft taking third. This brought the famed home run hitter, Cravath, up to bat, and in this crisis Adams displayed abundant reserve power and fanned the great clouter. After that the west side recruit was master.

The Cubs scarcely made an impression on Alexander in the first four innings, though Fisher had hit one to safe ground in the first and McLarry cut one through the infield in the third. Knisely was first man up in the fifth and died on a long fly to Becker. Williams then picked out the one he liked and drove it out over Cravath's head. The latter backed up to the screen, but the ball dropped over into the seats and Cy made the circuit while the ardent fans went wild with joy.

Adams Helps Phils Score.

It was too bad that blow didn't win the game, for the visitors never should have counted on Adams. However, the recruit hurler had himself to blame, too, for he might have prevented trouble had he been alert. Stock was first up in the sixth and smashed one straight to McLarry. The big substitute first sacker fumbled and kicked the ball, then recovered too late to carry it to first base ahead of Stock. Adams rushed for the bag after he saw the fumble, but he was too late. Becker sacrificed, and then Cravath poled to right field. Good pegged to the plate, but Stock beat the throw. Cravath took second on the throw, but no further damage was done because Adams made the next two batters pop up.

That undeserving tally knotted the count, and it stayed tied until Heine Zim came up in the last of the tenth with one out. Heine picked out the second ball pitched and lined it fiercely to center field. Whitted got down to stop the ball, but suddenly rose again and began a sprint for the clubhouse. Heine went around at top speed and was over the plate long before the ball arrived.

Notes of the Cubs.

The Phillies will be the attraction at Cub park for three more days.

Vic Saier, when seen at the close of yesterday's game, said he expected to be back on the first base job before the week was over.

Alexander had the Cubs hitting the ball into the air most of the time. Sixteen men died on fly balls during the game and Whitted caught eight of the sixteen fly balls.

Three infielders ran back to make the relay to the plate when Zimmerman's hit went through Whitted in the tenth. Bancroft got the ball finally and made a desperate heave, but Zim was across before the ball got back to the infield.

Adams' speed was so great and so deceiving that Whitted took his third swing at a high fast one in the fourth and the ball hopped in and hit him on the shoulder. Although being hit by pitched ball he was called out because he had struck at the ball and it was the third strike.

Cy Williams was robbed of a hit in the eighth when Cravath made a diving catch of a beauty line drive to right center. For a time it was doubtful whether the umpire had judged it a fair catch or not and Cy spoiled the chance for an opening by running right on to second and being tagged by Niehoff when the ball was thrown in. Fortunately for Williams, the umpire decided that Cravath caught the ball, so Cy was out before he was tagged.

CARDS WIN IN TENTH, THEN LOSE TO GIANTS IN SECOND CONTEST

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 1.—New York and St. Louis divided a double header. St. Louis won the first game, 4 to 3, in the tenth inning, when with two out Snyder singled and scored Long, who previously had singled and gone to third on a wild pitch. New York got one run in the ninth and tied the score. The second game was New York's by 4 to 1, St. Louis getting its run in the first inning. Scores:

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 1.—Cincinnati won a double header from Brooklyn, 4 to 2 and 6 to 3. In the opener McKenery allowed three hits in seven innings, but weakened in the eighth and Toney was sent in to finish the game. The locals made their runs in the first by bunching hits off Douglas, who was taken out at the end of the seventh, Dell finishing. In the second game the Reds were lucky, while just the reverse was true of the visitors. Scores:

Notes of the Whales.

Newark today for one game.

Harry Howell has been reinstated to the umpiring staff of the Fed league. Tom Corcoran was dropped to make room for him.

Moran was knocked off the slab in two innings Saturday. Harry looked liked a different pitcher after relieving Falkenberg.

Because the Whales will not be home Friday, Weeghman will admit women fans free today. That means it's "ladies' day."

One of the best crowds of the season saw twenty-one innings for the price of one admission. There were about 7,500 fans out.

Brennan pitched the best game he has shown since he joined the Whales in the spring of 1914. If Ad keeps up that sort of hurling Tinker's slab staff will not look so bad even with Brown ill.

McKechnie benched himself in favor of Strands in the second game. That left the champions' manager in position to bat in the tying run when he took Falkenberg's turn in the ninth.

Zwilling hurt a finger when he fell rounding second base on Saturday. Alec was badly missed, for several times Handford, who replaced him in the batting order, fell down when a hit meant a run.

Three singles filled the bases with Whales in round six of the first game. No one was out, but Reulbach fanned Jackson and Wilson was doubled at the plate on Mann's fly to Scheer. Big Ed was given a great hand after getting out of that difficulty.

THROWN BALL KILLS PLAYER

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 1.—Edward Hafferkamp, 34 years old, a lawyer, died today from hemorrhage of the brain as the result of being struck on the head yesterday by a pitched ball. Physicians said his skull had been fractured.

KRAMERS, 9; LOGANS, 8.

Kramer Colts downed the Logan Squares, 9 to 8, at Twenty-fifth street and South Park avenue. Timmerman was hit hard, but good hitting saved him from defeat. Score:

PACKERS LEAP AHEAD BY DOUBLE VICTORY OVER TERPS, 2-1, 6-3

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 1.—Kansas City jumped into the lead in the Federal league race by two full games today, by defeating Baltimore in both games of a double header, while Newark was trouncing Chicago twice. The scores were 2 to 1 and 6 to 3. The first game was a well fought battle between Main and Quinn. In the second game Bender allowed the locals only two hits during the first six innings, but in the seventh he was driven from the mound and Leclair, who succeeded him, was unable to stop the Kaws. BUFFEDS DEFEAT S'LOUFEDS, THEN TIE IN 11 INNINGS.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 1.—In a double header St. Louis lost the first game to Buffalo, 6 to 2. The second game was called in the eleventh on account of darkness and rain, with the score 1 to 1. This contest was a pitchers' battle, Ford for Buffalo being taken out in the eighth to allow Watson to bat for him. Anderson replaced Ford and gave no hits. The first game was easy for Krapp, who held St. Louis to five hits. Buffalo got four runs in the first and held its lead. Fielder Jones, St. Louis manager, played right field in the first game. He went hitless but got one run after forcing a man at second. Scores:

WHALES BEATEN TWICE; DROP OUT OF FIRST PLACE

Newfeds Trim Tinker's Team in Double Bill; Last Game Twelve Innings.

BY J. J. ALCOCK.

Beaten twice by the champion Newfeds after twenty-one innings of desperate fighting, Tinker's Whales dropped into second place in the Federal race yesterday. Newark won the opener in the ninth inning, 4 to 3, and copped the second after twelve rounds of continuous thrills, 3 to 2.

Both times the Whales appeared to have the victory clinched when the peppery champions leaped from behind and ruined their hopes. The overtime battle was especially disheartening. There was one out in the ninth when two doubles in rapid fire order tied the combat at 1 all. Manager Bill McKechnie inserted himself as pinch hitter for Fred Falkenberg and soaked the double which scored the tying run.

After escaping half a dozen desperate situations Ad Brennan finally weakened in the twelfth and allowed the Newfeds two runs. The Whales died fighting, but one run was all they could muster in their last trial.

Enemy Wins in Ninth.

It was much the same in the first clash. Persistent pecking at the offerings of Big Ed Reulbach gave the Whales two runs in six innings, then Newark broke loose with a three run rally in the seventh. Back came the Whales with the run that tied the score, but a little luck helped the enemy to the winning tally in the ninth.

Lengthy Fred Falkenberg was the chief cause of the second defeat suffered by the Tinkers. For eight innings Fred worked his new "dry spitter" with deadly effect, fanning nine batters and yielding only four hits. Fred has a curve that acts like the emery ball. After wetting the sphere he spreads dirt over the moist spot, and the varying pressure on the sailing sphere causes it to break at astonishing angles.

Brennan in Hurling Form

Ad Brennan, our comeback southpaw, opposed Falkenberg and hurled a masterly game up to the fatal twelfth. Ad was in continual trouble, but he always escaped by showing as much pitching as he used to when he was a star with the Phils. Once Newark filled the bases with none out, yet couldn't score.

Falkenberg's only bad spot happened in the second inning. Mann began the round with a single and stole second and third. Smith fanned and Brennan walked. Mann was nailed on Zeider's tap to Falkenberg, but Flack shot a single over second and Brennan scored. Fischer was passed intentionally to fill the bases, then Falkenberg caught Zeider off third and in the chase that followed Flack was trapped off second for the final out. Only two Whales reached first in the six innings that Falkenberg pitched thereafter.

McKechnie's Blow Ties It.

Brennan held back the Newfeds until one was dead in the ninth, then Rariden doubled to left. McKechnie went up for Falkenberg and duplicated his catcher's smash, scoring Rariden with the tying count. Rousch wasted a single in the tenth and Huhn doubled to start the eleventh, but Brennan escaped both times. Meanwhile Harry Moran, who had succeeded Falkenberg, stopped the Whales with his southpaw stuff.

One was out in the twelfth, when Esmond and Rousch beat out flukey infield hits. Esmond furnished the break of the game by stealing third, catching the Whales off guard. Scheer rolled a slow one to Fritz and was out at first, but Esmond scored. Laporte laced a double against the left fence, driving home Rousch with the winning run.

Wilson Starts a Rally.

Two Whales died in the home twelfth, but still Tinker kept fighting. He sent up Wilson for Smith, and Art doubled to left. Mann's single scored one run, but the spurt ended when McConnell, batting for Smith, was called out on strikes.

Hendrix was the Whale hurler in the first game, and things broke against him just as they did against Brennan. After six scoreless innings Newark bunched five hits in the seventh for a temporary lead, and a rank scratch started the visitors to victory in the ninth.

Wild Pitch Gives Whales a Run.

Reulbach lived up to his reputation as a wild man by wild pitching our first run across in the fourth. Flack singled, Wilson sacrificed, and Max reached third on the out of Hanford. Then Reulbach hit the grandstand with a pitch and Flack scored. Jackson singled in the fifth. Mann forced him, but got to second when Laporte threw wide trying for a double play. Smith poked an infield hit and Hendrix lined out a real single, which scored Mann.

Infield safeties by Esmond and Rousch, followed by Scheer's honest single, filled the bases for Newark in the seventh. Laporte hit to right and Esmond scored, but Flack's fine throw caught Rousch at the pan. Huhn drew a walk, filling the corners again. Rariden singled, scoring Scheer and Laporte, but Flack stepped to the rescue again with a dandy heave which killed Huhn at third. The Whales evened the count in their half, with one run. Smith beat a bunt and Brennan forced him. Ad moved up while Zeider was being retired and Flack sent him home with a double.

Scratch Helps Enemy Win.

Rousch hit a little hopper to first in the ninth and was safe because Jackson slipped just as he started for the bag. Scheer walked. Laporte forced Scheer, while Rousch took third, and Huhn drove home the winning run with a single to center.

SOX SLUGGERS ALL HIT SLUMP ON ROAD JAUNT

BY I. E. SANBORN.

New York, Aug. 1.—[Special.]—The White Sox spent a torrid Sunday resting up from their heated endeavors of the last two days on this equatorial island and trying to locate the jinx which has befallen their bat bag. There aren't any more hits in the bag like there used to be, and the reason is lacking. Without base hits ball games cannot be won, and without victories no team can stay in the race.

The Rowlands have broken even so far on the trip, in spite of their light hitting and have kept right on the heels of the Red Sox, but they figure they ought to have been out in front if they had been hitting up to their standard.

Four Games and 29 Hits.

The White Sox have made only twenty-nine hits in four games since leaving home. That does not include two that were washed off the slate by rain the last day in Boston, when three innings were played. They made eleven of those twenty-nine in the first game here, which leaves only eighteen swats to be divided among three battles, and that is not a good average for a second division team.

Eddie Murphy is the only reliable swatter on the team at present. The former Mackman has made at least one hit in every game, including the three inning affair in Boston. He made three in one game. Weaver has made five hits in the four games played, but four of those were delivered in a row in the first game here, so that he has gone hitless in several battles. Blackburne is the next best man with the stick so far on this trip, and he has made three.

Sox Sluggers Not Hitting.

The real sluggers of the team, Eddie and John Collins, Fournier and Felsch, have done almost nothing to bring home the bacon so far. Edward Collins has not made even a safe bunt in seventeen trips to the plate on the road. In that time he has worked the slabmen for three passes and sacrificed once. This is not knocking Edward, the keystone monarch—butu only a proof that there is some jinx on the bat bag, for when E. Collins does not hit there is something the matter besides E. Collins, who takes the best care of himself.

John Collins and Fournier have made two hits apiece in four games and Hap Felsch has made the sum total of one hit that counted. He made one in the three inning affair at Boston and lost it on account of rain.

Cicotte and Scott have been the real breadwinners on this trip, for they have won both the victories defensively and offensively. Scott drove in the only run made in the game which was won from the Red Sox, 1 to 0, and Cicotte scored three of the six runs made in the first game here.

Sox Expect to Climb.

Now, when a bunch of regulars like the two Collinses, Fournier, and Felsch fall down completely with the stick it is no wonder a team wins only two out of four games. The Sox are satisfied to stick close to the top under the circumstances and figure that when their hitters get their stride again they will come through all right.

A thunder storm broke the torrid spell late this afternoon and there is promise of better things tomorrow in the way of temperature. Manager Rowland chaperoned a bunch of Chicagoans to Coney Island today in search of a cool breeze and found it. The party got caught in the shower coming back, without suffering any damage.

DIAMOND HEROES OF MIDWAY READY FOR JAPAN TOUR

Manager Page and Charges Will Depart Tonight for Five Months' Trip.

H. Orville (Pat) Page will act as special correspondent of "The Tribune" on the trip of the University of Chicago baseball team and will mail back a series of stories describing the experiences of the Maroons in the orient. Mr. Page served in a similar capacity on the tour of 1910.

BY H. ORVILLE (PAT) PAGE.

When the "Oriental Limited" train pulls out tonight the University of Chicago baseball team will be aboard, bound for a strange land, to be the guests of people in the far east. When they return in December they hope to bring international trophies of victory.

Since the leading university of the middle west accepted the invitation of Waseda University of Tokyo, Japan, which is the product of Japan's premier, Count Okuma, each member of the party has been commissioned to uphold American ideals of college sport in the coming international series.

Itinerary to Coast.

The plans, just completed, include a number of practice games in the northwest, while the team is en route for the coast, in accordance with the following schedule:

Aug. 3—St. Paul, Minn.
Aug. 4—Mandan, N. D.
Aug. 6—Billings, Mont.
Aug. 7—Butte, Mont.
Aug. 9—Hamilton, Mont.
Aug. 10—Missoula, Mont.
Aug. 11—Thompson Falls, Mont.
Aug. 12—Spokane, Wash.
Aug. 13—Olympia, Wash.
Aug. 14—Chehalis, Wash.
Aug. 16—Portland, Coast league team.
Aug. 18—Sacramento, Cal.
Aug. 19—Sacramento, Cal.
Aug. 21—Olympic Athletic club, Ewing field, San Francisco, Cal.

Will Sail Aug. 25.

The party is scheduled to sail on the S. S. Mongolia of the Pacific Mail Line Wednesday, Aug. 25. A stopover of ten days will be made in the Hawaiian Islands, where a series of games will be played with the Oahau Baseball league, which is composed of Chinese, Portuguese, Hawaiian, and the United States service teams.

On Sept. 10 the party will depart on the Shinyo Maru of the Toyo Kisen Kaisha line, arriving in Nippon about Sept. 21. From Yokohama the team will journey up to Tokyo. At this capitol city headquarters will be established for a month's visit.

Three international baseball series will be played against each of the three leading universities of Japan—Waseda, Keio and Meiji. Prof. Iso Abi, the father of Japanese baseball, has sent word that the first game will be played on their national holiday, Friday, Sept. 24.

The party of touring Maroons will include:

PAUL R. DES JARDIEN.
EDWARD F. KIXMILLER.
FLETCHER A. CATRON.
ERNEST D. CAVIN.
ROBERT N. M'CONNELL.
J. EDWARD COLE.
NORMAN G. HART.
ROLAND H. GEORGE.
DAVID WIEDEMANN.
ABRAHAM H. RUDOLPH.
H. O. PAGE, pitcher.

Prof. C. W. Wright of the political economy department has been named by President Judson to accompany the team in his official capacity. Mrs. Page also will accompany the party.

Faculty Member in Party.

Maroon followers are asking: "Will this group do as well on the diamond as our team of five years ago?" The coach says: "We'll miss the football men [Shull, McConnell, Flood and Kahn] left at home, but I have confidence in our men, and I know when they realize the importance of our international games they will rise to the occasion. Watch us!"

PAGE'S ATHLETIC CAREER.

Pat Page, who will act as manager of the Maroon baseball team and special correspondent for THE TRIBUNE, was one of the greatest athletes ever graduated from the Midway, competing in all branches of athletics.

Page received his prep athletic education under Dr. E. B. De Groot at Lewis institute where he established the western indoor record for 5 miles in 27:32; in addition to taking part in the sport in which he later became noted at the University of Chicago from which he was graduated in 1910. He has since been an assistant to Director Stagg.

Second Trip for Page.

Page was manager of the Chicago team which went to Japan in 1910, the greatest trip ever taken up to that time by a college nine. The boys traveled 19,000 miles, covering a period of four months. They won fifteen of nineteen games, taking ten straight from Japanese universities. Page was leading pitcher at the time, following his success at the Midway, where he won more games than any hurler Stagg ever had. He refused several big league offers to enter the coaching field at the advice of Stagg.

In football Page was captain of the 1909 team at quarterback after playing on the 1907 and 1908 elevens. He was regarded by critics as a reliable and hard working end.

START ROQUE PLAY TODAY.

Play in the third annual tournament of the Western Roque association, Inc., will start this afternoon at the Lincoln park courts. Contests will be held every afternoon and night this week, with the final match for the western championship carded on Saturday.

Sixteen players are entered in the first division, twelve in the second division, and eight in the third class. Experts from six other cities arrived yesterday, and stars from four more towns are due this morning.

Wednesday night a special feature will be put on, a series for the jewelers' trophy. Competition will start at 8 o'clock.

GIBBONS HERE TODAY TO SIGN FOR MATCH WITH PACKEY SEPT. 11

BY HARVEY T. WOODRUFF.

Mike Gibbons, the St. Paul phantom, is speeding over the rails toward Chicago to be present this morning at 10:30 o'clock in the Hotel Planters for a conference with Packey McFarland and Manager Emil Thiry. The object of the hurried trip is to clinch a bout for Sept. 11 before th Ocean Athletic club at the Brighton Beach Motordrome.

Gibbons was assured over the telephone that Packey had promised to attend the conference and that Promoter W. C. Marshall and Business Manager Walter St. Denis of the New York club were in the city. Mindful of previous scheduled meetings with Packey which failed to materialize and merely helped theatrical business, Gibbons was skeptical until assured by St. Denis that all arrangements at this end were serene.

Motordrome to Seat 50,000.

According to Thiry and Promoter Marshall the match may be regarded almost as a certainty, and will be held in the motordrome, which has a seating capacity of 50,000, enabling the club to offer a guaranteed purse which probably will be around the $25,000 mark. The division of the purse will be left to the boxers. The club will post a $5,000 forfeit and will require a $2,500 forfeit from each of the principals.

The bout, if consummated, will be one of the most attractive that could be offered, as Gibbons and McFarland have place in the top rank of clever millers.

McGoorty Would Meet D'Arcy.

Following the victory of Les D'Arcy, the Australian middleweight, over Eddie McGoorty of Oshkosh, one of the claimants of the title, Larney Lichtenstein, manager of Jimmy Clabby, has laid claim to the championship which has not been settled since the days of Stanley Ketchel.

"Clabby is not a ten round fighter," Lichtenstein said. "He has been willing to meet any of the middleweights in long fights to decide the title once and for all, but none of them care for his game. If D'Arcy claims the title we are willing to meet him over any distance and settle the question of supremacy.

D'Arcy Once in Clabby's Camp.

"D'Arcy is a blacksmith by trade and worked with Clabby in the gymnasium when my fighter was training for his battles. Jimmy had no trouble handling the Australian as he pleased, and I am positive he can stop him inside of twenty rounds. Clabby has lost only three decision fights in the last five years and has never sidestepped any of them, something which cannot be said of some of the present day middleweights. I have cabled Snowy Baker, the Australian promoter, and if he meets our terms we will lose no time in leaving for the scene of battle."

Lichtenstein also looks after the interests of Joe Welling, the local lightweight, and he will take Joe to Duluth tonight. Welling is scheduled to box ten rounds with Ad Wolgast, former lightweight champion, on Friday night. The weight will be 133 pounds at 4 o'clock. Joe will return to Chicago immediately after the contest to resume training for his ten round clash with Joe Sherman at Hammond on Aug. 17.

Forest Park Bouts Please Fans.

Boxing fans yesterday were jubilant over the success of the show held at Forest Park last Saturday night. The general belief is that shows can be run at the park if conducted properly. Mayor Mohr, who sat at the ringside, said he was surprised that bouts could be staged with such little danger, and he intends to let the promoters hold shows as long as they are conducted like the one of Saturday night.

Amateur bouts in all classes will be put on tonight by the Riverview Park Amateur Boxing club in the velodrome. The contests will be open to amateurs only. Entries can be made with either Silvie Ferretti at the velodrome or at the Forbes' gymnasium.

In the Wake of the News

By RING W. LARDNER

MY BABY'S BOAT.

My baby's boat's a deceptive thing.
It looks a lot like our old porch swing.
I thought it was, till I got the tip
That it was a brand new sailing ship.

He's all the sailors and skipper, too.
"Tie down the sails!" you will hear him shout.
"My boat is moving; look out! look out!"

The ports it makes on each frequent trip
Are touched, I'm sure, by no other ship:
Harlem Avenue, Berwyn, Clyde,
The Union Station and Riverside.

And always aboard of the boat he owns
Is a certain invisible Mrs. Jones.

I often think what a pleasant thing
'Twould be to lounge in our old porch swing.
But the skipper would certainly make me skip

BYFORD TO OPPOSE WILLIAM JOHNSTON IN TENNIS TOURNEY

BY KEENE GARDINER.

Tennis matches for the men's singles and doubles championships of the west will be speeded up today at Lake Forest, a field of sixty players being listed for play in singles, and fifty teams being up for contests in pairs. Several feature matches are on the card, the rest of yesterday insuring fast play by the contestants.

Most of the experts entered in the tournament spent yesterday in practice sets on courts at the Wanderers' club and other favorite gathering places of tennis adherents. The out of town sectional champions who are to participate in the meet for the right to challenge Champion Alex Squair, began arriving in Chicago yesterday and were anxious to wield their rackets against local men who are familiar with the play of their future adversaries.

Byford to Play Johnston.

Feature matches are on the schedule of today's play, the one contest which will dwarf all others in importance being that between Heath Byford, who won the Illinois state title only last week, and William M. Johnston, San Francisco. Johnston is the hard driving Californian who gave Maurice E. McLoughlin the scare of the recent Pacific coast play, forcing the former national champion to five sets and holding him at four games to one, score 40-15 in points at one time, after taking two sets.

The match between Byford and Johnston will give a fine opportunity for the comparison of two styles of play, the Chicagoan being an adept at the consistent game, which places dependence on lobs, accurate placing and unfaltering steadiness. Johnston's play is a development of the driving game relied upon by the coast players, which by its reliance on powerful strokes, sent one Californian after another into the limelight in national tennis competition in recent years.

Armstrong to Play Here.

J. J. Armstrong, at present of Philadelphia but formerly supreme through the northwest, after winning the western college title for the University of Minnesota and bringing various cups to St. Paul, will head a delegation from the Gopher producing center of net experts. He will be followed by his former teammate in doubles, John W. Adams of St. Paul.

George M. Church and Dean Mathey, who constituted the Princeton varsity team which won the eastern college tennis doubles from Norris Williams, national champion, and W. M. Washburn, the Harvard team, and who added honors in the recent play on the coast, also will come to the local meet from the northwestern meet.

E. KOCKLER TAKES HONORS IN THIRD MILE CYCLE RACE.

Ernest Kockler won the one-third mile amateur championship of Chicago at the Riverview velodrome last night, pedalling the distance in :42. E. Davini of the Italian-American Cycling club was second.

Ned Young of Salt Lake City annexed the professional pursuit race, a secondary feature of the program. Young traveled four and two-thirds miles in 10:36. Eddie Madden of Newark landed the two-thirds mile point race for professionals, and Kockler won the three mile open amateur event.

In a two-thirds mile match race Iver Lawson defeated Charles Piercey in straight heats, the first in 2:15 and the second in 2:05. Peter Drobach outrode George Bedell in straight heats of a five mile motor paced contest. Drobach's time was 6:48 4-5 and 7:04. Summaries:

1-3 mile, Chicago championship, amateur—Won by Ernest Kockler, Riverview C. C.; E. Davini, Italian-American C. C., second; George Klasen, Danish-American A. C., third; Bert Nelson, Riverview C. C., fourth. Time, :42.

Pursuit race, professional—Won by Ned Young, Salt Lake City; Joe Kopsky, second; Bob Diesenbacher, San Jose, third; Bobby McLean, Chicago, fourth. Distance, 4 2-3 miles. Time, 10:36.

2-3 mile point race, professional—Won by Eddie Madden, Newark, 7 points; Gordon Walker and Iver Lawson, tied for second, 3 points; Lloyd Thomas and Martin Durig, tied for fourth, 4 points.

3 mile open, amateur—Won by Ernest Kockler, Riverview C. C.; E. Davini, I. A. C. C., second; Charles Mussari, R. C. C., third; Fred Sandau, unattached, fourth. Time, 6:48. Lap prize won by Roy Mayhew, Northwest Cycling club.

KALAMAZOO AWAITS HORSES.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Aug. 1.—All the great trotters and pacers which clashed at the Blue Ribbon meeting in Detroit last week are expected to take part in the annual Grand Circuit harness races, which begin here tomorrow and close on Friday. The size of the entry lists invites all local records.

WINKLER AND THOMAS HIGH IN TEAM SHOOT; WIN SECOND VICTORY

BY JACK PROCTOR.

A. H. Winkler and D. E. Thomas yesterday won their second leg on the trophy hung up for the monthly two man team shoot at the Chicago Gun club traps. Winkler broke 88 targets from twenty yards and Thomas shattered 86 from the same distance, giving them a team total of 174. Another victory will give Winkler and Thomas permanent possession of the trophy. Yesterday's meet was the eleventh competition for the prize.

Each marksman shot at 100 targets on a distance handicap basis. R. Chisholm and P. H. Clarke finished second with 172 as a team score. A. C. Fischer and P. J. Krueger of the Blue Island Gun club were third with a gross of 171.

Winkler tied with J. P. Mandermack for first place in the weekly shoot of fifty targets, each breaking 45. In another fifty target race L. C. Huckins was high with 49 hits. Winkler, Fischer, and George Roll tied with 24 breaks apiece in a twenty-five target contest. Scores:

BOB BURMAN ARRIVES FOR RACE AT SPEEDWAY.

Bob Burnam arrived in Chicago from Des Moines last night and announced that he and his Peugeot car were ready to battle in the quadrangular speed duel between Resta, Oldfield, Cooper and himself, scheduled for the speedway Saturday afternoon.

Burman was to have driven in the 300-mile race over the Des Moines speedway Saturday. Unfavorable weather caused a postponement to next Saturday, conflicting with the date of the match here. Burman was a prime favorite in the Iowa sweepstakes with its first prize of $5,000, and he was offered $2,500 bonus to stay for the start of the race.

A technicality in his entry in the Chicago event would have released him in the event of a Des Moines postponement had he cared to take advantage of it, but he chose to race here.

Oldfield is due from Cleveland this morning, while Cooper will be up from Indianapolis this afternoon. Resta will arrive tomorrow morning.

BEVERLY CLUB PLANS TO BUY GOLF GROUNDS

Each Member to Pay $200 Assessment to Meet the Cost.

BY RICHARD MERRILL.

A published story to the effect that the Beverly Country club of Chicago has completed arrangements for the purchase of its fine links at Eighty-seventh street and Western avenue is premature at least. The land is owned by a company made up of Beverly members, and the formal consent of this company to the sale of the entire tract, 167 acres, is yet to be obtained. The company has always declared its intention to hold for its own uses the strip along Western avenue not touched by the links proper.

Indeed, until a year ago it was the expectation that the club would buy the land covered by the links and the clubhouse, 110 acres, at a flat price of $110,000, leaving the forty-seven other acres in possession of the land owners for building operations at a later period in the residential development of the neighborhood.

Talk of Nine Hole Course.

However, in recent months members of the land company, speaking as individuals, have expressed the belief that the entire tract might be obtained by the club if an attractive financial plan were devised. No actual promise was made that the land company as a body would agree to the inclusion of the Western avenue reserve. It was then that E. H. Guertin, Beverly's president, worked out with some associates the plan described months ago in THE TRIBUNE—that of adding a nine hole course along the Western avenue strip and taking in 100 new members at $200 initiation. Many of the members at the time seemed to favor this plan.

Discussion following the publication of the story led to a belief that the membership should not be increased, owing to the fact that Beverly is a club of de facto golf players. As matters stand at Beverly it is up to the land company to accept or reject the offer of $150,000 which the club members as a body have empowered the officers to make. It is the expectation that, as all members of the club land company are members of the club and are golfers, acceptance will follow, although two or three of the owners are known to be in favor of sticking to the original plan of selling only 110 acres to the club.

How $150,000 Will Be Raised.

The Beverly members will, under the financial plan, be assessed $200 apiece, $100 payable in 1916 and $100 in 1917. The $60,000 thus raised will be used to retire bonds of that value. The bond issue of $150,000 will, it is thought, be marketed right among the members without delay. One-third of the issue will, it is expected, be taken by members of the land company.

Beverly memberships are quoted, even with the season half gone, at from $250 to $300, exclusive of transfer fee. This means that by 1917, when the assessment of $200 shall have been paid on each members...p, the market value will be not under $600.

PEE WEE CLUB WINS MEET.

The fifth annual track and field meet limited to boys under 18 years old was held at Chicago Hebrew institute. Six organizations participated. The Pee Wee club won with 22 points. The Chicago Swedish Athletic club with 17 points led the others in team competition. Hyman Magida of the Pee Wee club was individual star with two firsts and one second, scoring 13 points.

WATER RACE TO FERGUSON.

Ray Ferguson, a 19 year old swimmer, paddled 500 yards at Wilson beach yesterday in the remarkably fast time of 7:20, defeating a fast field of splashers. Keys Dore crossed the line forty seconds after Ferguson. The battle for third place was keen, but Elmer Gaider succeeded in gaining the position through a strong burst of speed just before the finish was reached. The race was witnessed by more than 5,000 persons.

FINE WELCOME FOR C. A. A. STARS BY COAST CLUB

BY JO GILBERT LOOMIS.

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 1.—[Special.]—We were given a royal reception by the Olympic club at San Francisco on our arrival. We were escorted to our hotel in taxis and made guests of the club. The evening was spent in gossiping about the big meet. The far western track meet was held yesterday.

Some wonderful marks were made. There was a terrific wind behind the sprinters, so the great records will not stand. A high school boy ran :47 3-5 for the quarter.

We had a good workout this afternoon at the fair grounds. The track is in fine shape. The boys all worked hard and seem to have come through the long trip in fine shape. I know I feel great.

SAWYER DEFEATS CHICK EVANS IN 36 HOLE BATTLE

BY J. G. DAVIS.

Charles Evans Jr., western champion, and Ned Sawyer, former title holder, appear to have a predilection for close ones, of 2 and 1. Evans won by this margin in the western amateur tournament at Grand Rapids and Cleveland, and in a thirty-six hole match played at the Park Ridge Country club yesterday the Evanston player turned the tables by a one hole margin.

It was a remarkable match, which afforded a good sized gallery the thrill of seeing Evans outplayed in the morning to the extent of being 7 down at the turn and 9 down at the sixteenth hole. At this stage it looked as if Sawyer was in for a "no hit" game, but Chick won the seventeenth hole and finished the morning round only 8 down. This is certainly the biggest deficit he has faced in many moons.

Sawyer's Play Remarkable.

Sawyer's play on the first nine was remarkable, despite the fact that the turf was soggy and dotted with casual pools in many places. Ned went out in 36, one under par. His work on the greens was extremely accurate. Evans putted poorly, but rimmed the cup twice. Sawyer won the fourteenth and fifteenth holes. A short approach cost him the seventeenth hole.

In the afternoon matters were reversed with Evans having some luck on his side, Sawyer being blocked at the ninth, fourteenth, and fifteenth greens. On the fourteenth green Sawyer made a great recovery, jumping the opposing ball and holing a half. Chick won the long eleventh by holding from off the green.

Evans Turns Big Rally.

Sawyer was 7 up at the turn, but Evans, playing in his best form, won the tenth, eleventh, fourteenth, fifteenth, and seventeenth holes, and was only 2 down, a half in 4 at the next hole ending the contest. Both players were presented with silver bowls by the club. The scores:

WOMEN GOLFERS PLAY TODAY

This week will be another busy one for local golfers. Members of the Women's Western Golf association will compete in a one day tournament at the Edgewater Country club today. Twenty-seven holes are carded.

The annual open tournament of the Chicago District Golf association will start at the Westmoreland Country club tomorrow. Thirty-six holes will be played and an additional thirty-six on the following day.

On Wednesday morning the junior amateur championship of the Western Golf association will start at the Midlothian Country club. Charley Grimes of Olympia Fields, who won last year at the Chicago Golf club, is over the age limit of 18 and ineligible.

The age limit invitation tournament of the Indian Hill club will begin on Thursday and a big field of veterans is expected for the initial tournament.

OLDFIELD SETS 4 RECORDS.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 1.—[Special.]—Barney Oldfield smashed four world's records in an exhibition here today, but was forced to quit after six miles by a broken crankshaft. Oldfield made the first mile of his record breaking trip in :46¾, the former mark being :46 2-5. His time for three miles was 2:25 2-5, beating the former mark of 2:27.81, made by Disbrow at North Randall in 1912. Oldfield's fastest time came in the fourth mile. He set a new mark of 3:13 3-5 for the distance, beating the former figure of 3:17:02 by more than two seconds. For five miles Barney set a new mark of 4:03 1-5.

AND here is happy Bennie Bist—an op-ti-mist-ic motorist. A speed-king right. His Royal Highness can do a mile in nothing—minus. And when his car stops cold and still—as best of automobiles will—does Bennie lose his mile-wide smile?—do breakdowns fill his soul with guile? Not Bennie! Life is one sweet song when things go right and things go wrong. Speeding or tinkering's the same—tire-bills and cops all in the game. The source of his good nature lies in mild, delicious EDELWEISS.

NEWS OF THE BUSINESS AND FINANCIAL WORLD, INVESTORS' GUIDE.

WEATHER STILL AGAINST BEARS

Grain Movement Retarded by Rains; Export Trade Continues Slack.

Wet weather has been the main factor the last week in giving the wheat market what strength it has had at times. Conditions continue unseasonable in many sections, and there is no question but that the movement will be unusually late. Receipts during July have been extremely small, compared to recent years, and the probability is that receipts will be slow in assuming full after harvest proportions.

For some time the oats harvest and other work will be a check on normal marketings of wheat, and many farmers will be inclined to hold off thrashing for some time to give the wheat a chance to dry out thoroughly. Damage to winter wheat has been principally to quality, and thrashing returns so far indicate the winter wheat government estimate will be about as much as a month ago.

Big Spring Wheat Prospects.

The spring wheat condition has been maintained, and at the end of July, regardless of black rust reports from some sections, the outlook is for at least 300,000,000 bu of spring wheat and possibly more. The cool weather has checked the development and spread of the rust, and aside from the fact there has been too much rain in the Red river valley the conditions are nearly perfect. The crop is a little later than usual, but with ordinary conditions it should mature ahead of frosts.

In Canada, however, the frost danger is a big one, owing to the late season. Barring that danger, the dominion probably will raise the largest crop of wheat in its history. There has been ample moisture in both our northwest and Canada, and this will be a big factor.

Export Demand Disappointing.

Export conditions have not been to the liking of many in the trade. The comparatively small amount of business done so far is due largely to the delay in the movement of wheat, and as there has been no accumulation of grain, there has been only a limited business. Much of the export business will be done only on a quick shipment basis, as few exporters care to make contracts far ahead under present conditions. Therefore, sales will be comparatively light, it is believed, until the wheat begins to move in greater volume.

Unquestionably this country will have much greater competition in the export field this season than last year. England appears to be supplied for the present, and with the Indian exports going mostly to the United Kingdom, the country is in position to wait for the Canadian movement. Later the English government probably will rely largely on the Australian crop.

Good Crops in Germany.

Germany and Austria claim to have good crops, and doubtless will buy a large portion of the surplus from the Balkan countries. This will be a factor that will be felt in our export trade, as during the early summer last year Germany was the heaviest buyer in this country. Other continental countries will have to buy our wheat freely, and a big trade will develop. France, it is stated, will have to import 100,000,000 bu, and the Mediterranean countries will be big buyers.

While the demand will be heavy for some time to come, there does not exist the urgent necessity that developed last year owing to the shortage in crops in Canada, Australia, and some of the European countries. Russia is still out of consideration, but there is always the possibility of a quick change in the Dardanelles situation, which immediately would put an entirely different phase on the situation.

Corn Crop Shows Gain.

The weather has been satisfactory for corn, and over most of the corn belt the crop has made excellent progress. In some quarters a lower condition for Aug. 1, as compared to July 1, is looked for, but on the other hand the August par is higher, so the government estimate should be considerably larger than a month ago. With a late fall there is a possibility for a bumper yield.

The domestic cash demand is good, but on the other hand there undoubtedly will be excellent forage crops this season. The alfalfa yields have been heavy, and in the south the big increase in the corn acreage will be a big factor. Argentina continues to hold first place as a corn exporter, but shipments from there are decreasing with freights advancing, so there is some possibility a little later of export business, which would help materially in bolstering prices.

Cash Oats in Big Demand.

July oats attained extremely high prices, going out at 59½c, the old crop situation developing into an extremely strong one, while the incessant rains delayed any big movement of new oats in time for delivery. The deferred months have been helped by the wet weather, but there has been nothing in the situation so far to indicate anything but a big crop of oats.

With provision prices on the lowest basis in many months, there was a little more friendly attitude displayed toward the market in some influential quarters.

INSURANCE MEN FIGHT 'TWISTER'

Chicago Underwriters Plan Crusade Against Unprincipled Solicitors.

BY C. M. CARTWRIGHT.

President George R. McLeran of the Chicago Life Underwriters' association and a delegation from the association to represent it at the convention of the National Association of Life Underwriters will leave this week for San Francisco. The annual convention takes place in that city Aug. 10-12. Mr. McLeran's campaign against the rebaters, part time men, and the twisters in life insurance has brought him into prominence.

On his return to Chicago Mr. McLeran will begin a crusade against the professional twister and also the regular life man who seeks to disturb the policies carried by the assured with the purpose in view of switching him to some other company. Mr. McLeran regards this practice as the most pernicious that the conscientious life man has to contend with, and he is gathering material to expose the methods of those engaged in it.

Potts Making Investigation.

Mr. McLeran has taken the subject up with Superintendent of Insurance Rufus M. Potts of Illinois and Mr. Potts is now having an investigation made of the charges cited by Mr. McLeran. While the Illinois law is not stringent in this respect, it is thought that there is enough latitude in the discretionary powers invested in the commissioner to permit him to call a halt on this practice, on the ground that the policyholder is misled and deceived and sustains a loss in being twisted around from one company to another.

Mr. McLeran is calling on the members of the Chicago association who are interested in bringing about good practices to back him up. He already has secured a number of letters written to assured, showing that figures have been juggled and misstatements made in the premises.

New Eastern Rating Schedule.

Interest is being taken by western fire insurance men in the new rating schedule that has appeared in the east and has been applied in the New York City territory. It is known as the "L. & L. rating system." Some seven or eight years ago the analytical rating schedule was adopted as the official one throughout the west. It is giving satisfaction and is regarded as the logical one for this part of the country.

Western men are somewhat solicitous as to whether officials in the east intend finally to get the new rating system substituted in the west for the analytical schedule. The authors of the "L. & L. system" state that under the operation of other schedules many rates have been reduced, thereby materially affecting the average rate, which for a number of years has shown a gradual decline.

Fixes Ten Classes of Towns.

It is asserted that there has been no corresponding reduction in losses, and therefore, the authors conclude that the value of certain improvements in effecting a reduction in hazard has been overestimated and that a readjustment of the schedule charges and credits is necessary to maintain rates on the proper level and to obtain those improvements which are known to be beneficial in reducing the fire waste.

The "L. & L." schedule bases rates and charges of all kinds according to ten classes of towns. Classifications are to be established under the grading system now in course of preparation by the national board. A new factor in rating found in the new schedule is known as "the burning degree." The degree is used to measure the ignitability and combustibility of a risk. Charges are made for the burning degree according to the hazard.

Insurance Agents Estimated.

The commission in charge of the world's insurance congress, to be held in connection with the Panama-Pacific International exposition at San Francisco Oct. 4-11, has compiled a list of the licensed insurance agents in the United States and Canada from reports of the various state insurance commissioners and the provincial commissioners of Canada. It estimates that there are a total of 409,698 licensed agents in the field. In this compilation all lines of insurance are represented.

This number does not cover home office people, adjusters, medical examiners, clerks, stenographers, and other employés. The commission states that approximately 2,000,000 individuals derive their livelihood directly or indirectly from the insurance business in the United States and Canada. Texas has more licensed agents than any other state, its number being 40,000. Pennsylvania is second with 81,200; Illinois comes next with 30,000; Iowa and Ohio are tied for fourth with 22,500 each.

Chicagoan to Be Speaker.

Arthur Hawxhurst, manager of the insurance department of Marshall Field & Co., will be one of the speakers at the congress. He will give an address on "The Department Store" on Oct. 7. On this day Robert Newton Lynch, vice president of the San Francisco chamber of commerce, will preside, and the general subject will be "Broadening Social Economy Through Insurance."

Mr. Hawxhurst will tell how Marshall Field & Co. and other big department stores have coöperated in the work of fire and accident prevention. The various speakers will show how widely the principles involved in the insurance ideas have extended to the prevention of fire, accident and disease in other great organized forces of business and society, thus accomplishing the humanitarian work through the commercial consideration of property.

London Market Active.

The London money market continues to borrow from the Bank of England. Discount rates are firm and treasury bills were in demand today. The decline in the Bank of England's proportion of reserve from 18.09 to 16.77 per cent was due to the large transfers in connection with the new war loan.

Considerable interest was displayed on the stock exchange in the dealings in the new war loan fully paid, which commenced from 99 to 99¼, advanced to 99½ and then eased off to 99⅛. The tone of the markets otherwise was generally good, although the activity was confined to Marconi shares and the American section at rising prices. Canadian Pacific and United States Steel were the firmest shares in the latter. The closing was firm. Consols for money closed at 65; Grand Trunk, 8⅝; De Beers, 9⅝; Rand Mines, 4⅛.

Oil Stock Pays 100 Per Cent.

The Slick Oil company of Oklahoma has declared a cash dividend of 100 per cent on its $100,000 of capital stock, payable July 31 to stockholders of record July 29. The stock is owned by the Tidewater Oil company of New York and a few large holders in St. Louis and Pittsburgh.

GOVERNMENT COTTON REPORT

Opinions vary on what the condition report on cotton to be issued this afternoon from Washington will show. Some observers expect it to disclose about the average loss for July, while others look for a percentage close to that of June, when it was 80.3. It is generally conceded that the condition reported at this time last year, 76.4, and also the ten year July 25 average of 78.5 will be exceeded.

The strength lately shown in the cotton market is attributed to an appreciation of the crop's susceptibility to drought conditions and to a feeling that damage may come quickly. This for some time has been a fear entertained by observant traders, though there is little disposition yet to let it outweigh the foreign situation as a dominant influence. For the first time since spring there are coming complaints that rain is needed in this part of the cotton belt. Having had so much moisture earlier, resulting in many sections getting grassy, the complaints have come sooner than they otherwise would have done.

Complaints have only been coming for the last few days, so they will hardly affect the condition percentage for the report due today. However, there was a spell of unusually cool weather, accompanied by winds from the north and northeast, which did not do the plant any good and reduced the prospect somewhat. This territory still has a very good cotton outlook, and any injury so far experienced could quickly be overcome if rain should come within a week.

Omaha and Council Bluffs.

S. J. S., Beloit, Wis.—The Omaha and Council Bluffs street railway evidently has had a decrease in earnings this year, because the July 1 quarterly dividend on the $5,000,000 of common stock was reduced to 1 per cent from 1¼, which had been paid quarterly for more than three years. Dividends of 5 per cent annually on the $4,000,000 preferred stock have been paid to date. The company leases the Council Bluffs railway and the bridge and has outstanding $10,000,000 of 5 per cent bonds. Earnings increased steadily for years till 1914, which showed a slight decrease. Net in 1914 was $1,365,196, taxes and rent were $293,126, and bond interest $563,748, leaving $508,322 for dividends and surplus. Earnings applicable to interest after paying rent and taxes are more than 175 per cent of the interest charge. These bonds mature in 1928, the same year that the franchise in Omaha expires. The Council Bluffs franchise has many more years of life.

St. Paul and Northern Pacific.

J. S. M., Big Bay, Mich.—The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway has been expending vast sums in betterments and its interest charges have been growing, while in the last two years earnings have been decreasing. The dividend rate on common stock was reduced from 7 per cent to 6 in 1912, then to 5 in 1913. Now it has been reduced to 4 per cent. The road is in excellent physical condition and with an increase of business probably will be able to increase its dividend. Northern Pacific has been showing a much greater decline in gross earnings than St. Paul, but it has met the decline by cutting expenses. Its gross in the eleven months ended May 31 last showed a decrease of nearly 12 per cent, but this was so counterbalanced by economies that the net showed only 3 per cent shrinkage. Its regular 7 per cent dividend was earned, but the margin of safety is narrow.

Pacific Gas and Electric.

W. S. L., Noblesville, Ind.—The first and second preferred stocks of the Pacific Gas and Electric company are not yet a conservative savings investment. The company's earnings have increased steadily and rapidly for ten years past, but it has had so much new financing to do that dividends on preferred have sometimes been paid in common stock. Cash dividends on common at the rate of 5 per cent were paid in 1912, then stopped. This year a stock dividend of 6 per cent is being paid on common in two installments. If the present prosperity of the company continues the preferred stocks will work into an exceedingly strong position.

Brief Answers.

J. B.—The United States Annuity and Life Insurance company began business in 1906. It has had a steady growth and on Jan. 1 last had $13,002,861 of insurance in force. The company has $300,000 of capital and $46,185 surplus. It has paid some dividends to stockholders, but none since 1912. The total assets Jan. 1 last were $1,353,864.

T. F. D.—The Dividend Securities company of Vancouver is, according to its advertising literature, a blind pool for speculating in mining stocks. The stockholders will furnish the money and the Canadian promoter will do the speculating, if, as, and when he chooses.

W.L.C.—The Travelers' Insurance company began writing accident insurance in 1864. Its life insurance department started in 166. All the policies are protected by the entire assets of the company, which amounted on Jan. 1 last to $97,722,055.

E. W. W., Fort Atkinson, Wis.—Texas street improvement bonds rank as well as those of most states. Interest rates on them are high because current rates in Texas are high.

MEN'S WEAR.

In the men's wear market for the 1916 spring season is shown a decidedly strong tone following the opening of lines at sharp advances. The wholesale clothiers are thoroughly convinced that opening prices will be low for the year. It is shown by the extent of initial purchases that the big operators are taking the lead and are determined to get their full share of the first products of the looms. They want to be assured of having the worsteds and woolens finished with the dyestuffs now in the hands of manufacturers rather than wait until late in the season when dyes of indifferent quality or uncertain shades will be used. To all who place early orders the weavers are making a full guarantee as to the quality of goods to be delivered and the exact dates of shipment. Some of the strongest mill organizations in New England are reported to be in receipt of orders that will take all the high grade wool they have in hand and under contract. Some of this business is being handled at prices 12 to 15 per cent above the ranges of 1915, and very little if any is at a lower price than that for the old season. The opening of serges for the entire market at strong prices is a healthy indication.

Some western clothiers are providing for a generous business on staple worsteds and show a willingness to stock up with some of the medium priped cloths. Cross dyed fabrics in low grades are well regarded in the trade. The garment makers are making their plan so as to use such fabrics for boys' suits and for the cheap grades of men's suits that sell throughout the south and middle west.

For boys' suits and overcoats for this fall and winter manufacturing clothiers have not covered their full requirements on piece goods and some of them are "haunting" the auction rooms in the hope that they may be able to pick up piece goods at a favorable price. The troubles in the garment trade over labor are being adjusted and it is expected that no serious delays will be experienced by retailers in getting their fall goods. The lightweight suits for men and boys that now sell as freely for fall as they do for the spring season are being shipped to retailers so as to be in stock for an early fall opening in August.

The tailors to the trade, who operate after the clothiers have placed their orders in the piece goods market, have a rather difficult situation to face this season. The market is admitted to be a strong one at the present time, and if the mills do a brisk business with the clothiers the tailors will have prices "run up" on them. For this reason it is believed that the tailors will have to make some considerable revisions in their cost schedules. Another factor that is working against the book houses is the difficulty of getting in imported fabrics. It is in this branch of the business that the tailors are supposed to excel.

A movement is on foot among manufacturers of mens shirts, under the auspices of the Shirt Manufacturers' Protective association, to establish a central purchasing bureau for flannels and other staple fabrics which they use. The objects, of course, will be to obtain better prices by pooling orders and to equalize them, as under this system the same yard prices will be paid both by large and small manufacturers. It is planned to have a purchasing committee determine the bulk needs of the manufacturers and then bargain with the mills, the individual assortments being worked out later by the mills and the manufacturers. Sentiment appears strongly in favor of expanding into a rational organization in order to obtain the benefits thus to be derived.

BOSTON COPPER NEWS.

The copper metal market has been flat the last five or six weeks. Some sales have been effected, but they are small in comparison with production. The sagging tendency of prices abroad and the inclination of producers to seek a level at which they may find a demand for their copper have brought about the softening of the market. Plenty of inquiry has been made the last fortnight, but it has not developed into buying, which is perplexing. One of the largest producers has accepted business at 19c per lb in preference to holding out for a higher price.

Copper on the New York metal exchange is reported steady; electrolytic, $19.00. Iron firm and unchanged. Tin quiet, $35.50@36.00. Lead offered at $5.50. Spelter not quoted.

The East Butte's net earnings in June fell short of the preliminary estimates of $150,000, but were better than $120,000. The June production of about 1,500,000 pounds of copper will be exceeded considerably this month, and while the price of the metal has been lower than in June, it is believed that earnings will be not far from $150,000. The East Butte is producing at the rate of better than 20,000,000 pounds of copper per year from its own ores, and ore costs have declined to about 10 cents per pound. Robert H. Gross, president of the company, who has just returned from a visit to the property, says that underground conditions are most satisfactory, and that the smelter has shown splendid results. During the suspension the company expended $160,000 in keeping the mine in condition and on the improvements, all of which have been paid for.

The ore which is being mined is coming from all the levels from the 15,000 to the 600 foot level and averages about 5 per cent in copper content. The shaft is being sunk to the 2,000 foot level, but no openings will be made until it has reached that point. Exploratory work on the 16th level is proving up good ore. The East Butte's earnings will first be used to pay off $500,000 of notes given in the Pittsmont purchase.

It is believed that the Isle Royale will make another record production this month. Rock shipments are better than 2,500 tons daily and will be further increased when the third head of the Isle Royale mill goes into commission. By the first of next year the Tamarack should have two more heads working at its mill, as plans for installing two additional heads are being made.

WOMEN'S WEAR.

Jobbers have bought pretty well of such corporation dress goods as have been opened for the spring, 1916, season. If anything, the commitments are slightly larger than at this time a year ago. Duplicating on fall goods by the jobbers has been fair. While retail buyers have not yet taken hold of fall dress goods in the way they doubtless will later on, reports from jobbing circles indicate that a good business has already been done on poplins, gabardines, broadcloths, vigoreaux, and serges. There is still some call for coverts and shepherd checks are said to be holding their own pretty well. Plain goods are taking precedence over fancies, and the darker colorings are leading the demand. Black, brown, navy, and Belgian blue, plum, and myrtle and olive green are all in favor. The increasing call for brown is said to be one of the immediate features of the business.

Better business seems to be developing among cotton goods houses which go in for the export trade, particularly among handlers of cotton duck. About the only poor business in this fabric is coming from the West Indies and countries along the west coast of South America. Good orders for duck are coming from the Argentine and Uruguay, and a good war business is being done on it by the allied nations. Reports are current that Japan is in the market for duck, both for herself and Russia, but not much of this business seems actually to have been done. Australia is taking duck well, it is said, and some business is coming forward from China. Some sheeting business also is reported from China, as well as orders to ship some goods that have been held here pending a favorable opportunity. Australia and the Red Sea district are also taking sheetings. The Indian market is apparently dead for the time being. A good business from the Philippines is reported.

While as yet there has been little spot buying of fall hosiery done by retailers in the eastern market, the jobbers say that they are doing a pretty nice filling-in business on seasonable merchandise, especially silk hose. Good business on fall hosiery is expected from the retailers this month, in view of the conservatism they showed in placing advance orders when the salesmen were out, and the fact that stocks in the hands of many retailers are light. The primary end of the market is not doing a great deal just now with fall hosiery, nor are the jobbing buyers showing any too much interest in cotton hose for next spring. There is a different story to tell on silks and artificial silk goods, however. Export business continues good.

The Wabash Railroad Co.

REORGANIZATION.

To Holders of First Refunding and Extensions Mortgage Bonds, Preferred Stock and Common Stock of The Wabash Railroad Company, and of Certificates of Deposit issued by the Equitable Trust Company of New York, or Central Trust Company of New York, or Columbia Trust Company (or its predecessor), representing the same:

The Plan and Agreement of Reorganization dated April 28, 1915, having been declared operative and effective, notice is hereby given that holders of CERTIFICATES OF DEPOSIT OF COLUMBIA TRUST COMPANY (or its predecessor) representing stock, either common or preferred, of the Railroad Company must make the payment required of them under the Plan, namely, 30% of the par value of said stock, or $30 per share, AT THE OFFICE OF THE EQUITABLE TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK, ON OR BEFORE AUGUST 30, 1915.

At the time of making the above payment, the Certificates of Deposit representing said stock must be presented to The Equitable Trust Company of New York for the purpose of having such payment noted thereon.

Holders of Certificates of Deposit representing stock who fail to make the above payment within the time above limited, shall cease to be entitled to any rights or benefits under the Plan and Agreement of Reorganization and shall not be entitled to the return of their deposited stock. Payments must be made in New York funds, and checks should be drawn to the order of The Equitable Trust Company of New York.

So soon as practicable after the date so fixed as above for the payment to be made by holders of Certificates of Deposit representing stock, notice will be given to holders of Certificates of Deposit representing First Refunding and Extensions Mortgage Bonds of the Railroad Company, of the amount of the payment required of them, as provided in the Plan and Agreement of Reorganization, and of the date by which such payment, or the first installment thereof, shall be made.

The time within which further deposits of both stock and bonds may be made under the Plan and Agreement of Reorganization has been further extended to and including August 30, 1915; but at the time when any stock is so deposited, and as a condition of such deposit, the above payment of $30 per share must be made in respect thereof.

Joint Reorganization Committee,
By WINSLOW S. PIERCE, Chairman.
Dated, New York, July 29, 1915.

TO THE HOLDERS OF

BOISE-PAYETTE RIVER ELECTRIC POWER CO.

1st Mortgage 6% Bonds

DUE 1921

A default in the conditions of the trust deed securing these bonds has been created which seems to eliminate the sinking fund provided for the redemption of the bonds. Unless combined prompt action is taken the bonds will be worthless. I advise all holders to communicate with me immediately, giving amount and numbers of bonds, so that arrangements may be made to organize a bondholders' protective committee before it is too late to save the principal of our investment.

Declines in Russian Group as Result of German Victories.

BRITISH MART CURBED.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

PARIS, Aug. 1.—Business on the bourse still is exceedingly quiet, with continually fewer transactions. The last week has brought no marked modification in the tendency of the market, except in the decline in the shares of coal mines of the north and in the Russian group, in which industrials lost still more ground with announcement of the imminent fall of Warsaw.

Russian government stocks are heavy, but firmness is shown notably in Argentine, Spanish, Egyptian, and new amortissable rentes, as well as in most shares of French and American rails. There is a slight advance in copper. French rentes are firm, 3 per cents continuing at 69.

Plans for Liquidation.

A brokers' syndicate has assembled to offer plans to the minister of finance for liquidation, declaring its importance to the renewal of business and future national loans. They suggest that each house make a deposit to form an intermediary pool for liquidation, but many judge this to be impracticable until the Germans are driven from French soil.

The deposit of gold in the Bank of France already pleases even the pessimists.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, Aug. 1.—The activity in the war loan has given more life to exchange, but the Bank of England now commands the money market and the high money rates must restrain speculation.

Foreign office replies indicate that the cotton question is being cautiously handled. It is significant that New York editorials on cotton have been quoted in "the morning Post."

OFFICIAL WEATHER FORECAST.

Copy Writer or Adv. Mgr.

My selling ideas are "different"—strikingly original. Adv. illustrations I suggest are compellingly attractive word pictures that shoot your selling story across in a hurry. My head lines and captions strike home with a snap and stick tight in reader's memory. Buyers thaw out when they meet my copy—for it's redblooded stuff that gets right down on the level with them—grips them by the hand—looks them square in the eye and says things in an understandable, mean-everyword-of-it-way that prompts purchases. Agency and merchandising experience. Thorough knowledge of printing, engraving, and adv. art. Samples and past performances prove me producer. Conducting successful independent service. Open for something better—position that I can make as big as my ability. Must be clean to core proposition—Adv. mrg. or copy writer. Not less than $3,000 at start. MORRILL, 5644 Prairie-av.

Follow the Winners TO KEDZIE & BRYN MAWR,

WHERE THOMASSON & WHITE, THE BUILDERS OF THE GREAT KEDZIE AND LAWRENCE DISTRICT, HAVE NOW OPENED A NEW TRACT. EVERY SUBDIVISION OPENED BY THOMASSON & WHITE HAS PAID BIG DIVIDENDS.

The New Winner

IS LOCATED AT KEDZIE AND BRYN MAWR-AV., A DOUBLE SECTION LINE.
This beautiful tract is situated three blocks north of the terminal of the Kedzie-av. street car line which is to be extended to Bryn Mawr-av. A movement has already been started to put a car line north to Bryn Mawr and to extend the Ravenswood "L" now only seven blocks south. See every other subdivision, then see ours. You will appreciate Kedzie and Bryn Mawr as we do. This is not a subdivision located miles from transportation and improvements [which would serve a better purpose as a truck garden than a location for a home] but a real home site, ripe for immediate development with all necessary improvements and transportation at your very door.
All business and residence lots sold on easy terms. Residence lots $50 down.

New Fall Suits for Women

Here are suits of duvetyne, gabardine, velour-cloth and men's-wear serge—of colors new, with trimmings of wool embroidery, of braids, of velvets and of fur.

The suit illustrated is of velour-cloth with a new Cossack coat and trimmings of narrow Hercules braid and clever touches of embroidery. $52.50.

While other suits in the present showing range in price from $25, $30 and $40 to $67.50.

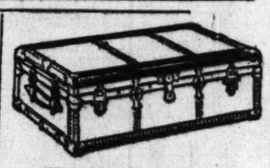

Women's New Fall Coats and Wraps

Motor and outing coats, practical coats for street wear, wraps for afternoon functions and evening wear—among these one may choose even now the coat or wrap one has in mind for any purpose and be sure of the fall mode, exactly.

Fourth Floor, North Room.

Fiber-Covered Steamer Trunks $12

A limited number of high grade fiber-covered steamer trunks, fiber lined and with two heavy fiber center bands going all round the trunk, will be offered at this special price.

Seventh Floor, South Room.

August Towel Sale

THOUSANDS know the date of this sale as well as we do. To these we need but say the August Towel Sale is the same important event as ever. But to those unfamiliar with this August Towel Sale let us add

In Part This Sale Provides—

Hemmed huck towels suitable for country homes, hotels and hospitals, specially priced for this sale at $1.35, $1.50, $1.75 and $2 a dozen.

All-Linen Huck Towels at $3 Dozen

All-linen, hemstitched and scalloped huck towels, with plain and fancy borders, in the August Towel Sale at $5.50 and $6 dozen.

1,500 dozens of hemmed, bleached bath towels, extra heavy and large size, in all-white and with red and blue borders, exceptional values at $3 dozen.

Colored bordered bath towels in an attractive assortment of designs, also in all-white—at $5.50, $6 and $6.50 a dozen.

Second Floor, North Room.

August Handkerchief Sale

Every price punctuates a saving that no man or woman having an appreciation of the real opportunity such a sale as this presents will ignore.

Women's Irish Linen Handkerchiefs at 15c and 25c

Men's Irish Linen Handkerchiefs at 18c and 25c

Made of fine Irish linen, of unusual size and quality at the price. These are unlaundered and when washed will show even better what splendid values they are.

Men's Pure Linen Handkerchiefs, Box of Six, $1 Box

Charming New Fall Hats

These were designed in Chicago and they attest this city's well established position in the world of millinery.

Clever new turbans, too—and sailors and turbans of velvet and satin and all-velvet, with bead trimmings, with gold and silver trimmings, and some with fancy ostrich.

Fifth Floor, South Room.

Silk Petticoats for Autumn

Petticoats made in Chicago, proving again most conclusively that Chicago has occasion to be proud.

Especially, New Petticoats of Taffeta Silk at $3.95

Others of taffetas in striped, floral, figured, changeable and solid colors—and all new even unto the very newest of the new modes. Priced, $2.95, $5, $6.75 and $8.95.

Third Floor, North Room.

The August Sale of Women's Long & Short Silk Gloves

at 55c and 78c Pair

JUST two prices, 55c for the short gloves and 78c for the long gloves, but at both prices there's a most interesting story of splendid values to tell.

Long (16-button length) Milanese Silk Gloves to Be Offered at 78c Pair

There are black, white and colors included and, when we say colors, we mean so many colors that practically every shade one might imagine is included at 78c pair.

Short (2-clasp) Milanese Silk Gloves in the August Sale at 55c Pair

New Fall Blouses Are Here

Offering for your selection an extremely varied assortment for this time—and emphasizing

Blouses of Washable Chiffon Taffeta, of Crepe de Chine and Georgette Crepe at $5.75

The blouse illustrated at the left is of white chiffon taffeta, which will launder admirably. Notice the full length sleeves and the flat collar with black tie. Priced, $5.75.

The blouse at the right is one of several of crepe de Chine and Georgette crepe. Hemstitching outlines the deep yoke and shoulders. This blouse, also, is priced $5.75.

Fourth Floor, North Room.

No Woman but Will Be Captivated With This Special Offering of

Crepe de Chine Night-dresses

Many were the expressions of satisfaction and delight which greeted our last presentation of crepe de Chine lingerie a few days ago.

This inclines us to believe that this announcement will not only be followed by an enthusiastic response but will be the means of broadening the already immense circle of friends who think of no other store when lingerie is mentioned.

At $2.65—are crepe de Chine night dresses (pink only) in a dainty kimono effect with neck and sleeves attractively hemstitched and finished with a silk rose.

At $4.75 and $5.95—are crepe de Chine night dresses of exceptional quality, elaborately trimmed with attractive laces, ribbon rosettes and some also prettily embroidered.

3,000 crepe de Chine bodices in many most attractive styles offer exceptional values which should prove an added feature of this sale—at $1, $1.50 and to $2.95.

Third Floor, North Room.

Linens Greatly Price-Reduced

Several hundred odd, mussed and slightly soiled pattern table cloths, in sizes 2x2 yards to 2½x4 yards, have been greatly reduced for immediate disposal.

Odd, mussed and slightly soiled center-pieces, luncheon cloths, napkins and scarfs—lace trimmed and embroidered—are marked at a reduction of one-third and more.

Second Floor, North Room.

The August Sale of Furs

An Event Which Needs but the Recalling of Similar Occasions of the Past to Determine the Splendid Opportunity for Fur Purchases It Presents.

NOT only is this a time when we offer the new fur modes in marvelous assembly but by special trade arrangements make this sale an occasion for the early purchase of furs at savings which this year are more advantageous than ever before.

Coats, wraps and sets of fine furs, and especially—

Hudson Seal and Caracul Fur Coats in Modes for the Coming Winter

Fox pelts so much in vogue at present for muffs and scarfs—silver, cross and red fox as well as the dyed skins, which include battleship gray, blue, sitka and the new silvered effects.

And the pricing throughout these extensive collections offers actual savings on purchases all the way from fifteen to twenty-five per cent.

Caracul Coats in the August Sale at $90, $125 and $135

Dyed blue fox sets, in the August Sale at $90, $92.50 and $110.

Furs purchased in the August Sale will be stored until fall and insured against loss or damage without charge.
